Bills Broaden Social Security

Envoy Dean Denies He Spreads Red Doctrine

HITS "CODDLING"—Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.), "one-man" tax scandal investigator, declares in Washington that the Truman administration "coddled" tax evaders. He particularly mentioned the case of Frank Cammarata, now serving a prison sentence in Michigan. He has previously protested cases involving Frank Costello and Ralph Capone.

Welker Demands Probe Of Views

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Arthur H. Dean, special U. S. ambassador to Korea, said tonight "I have not been spreading Communist doctrine in any way, shape or form."

It was his answer to Sen. Welker (R-Idaho), who said earlier in a Senate speech in Washington that Dean seemingly is spreading a type of propaganda designed to bring about the "appeasement" of Communist China.

Welker, referring to an interview with Dean published Jan. 3 in the Providence, R.I., Journal, told the Senate:

"Mr. Dean offers the view which has long been held by pro-Red China apologists in the State Department that 'there is a possibility that the Chinese Communists are more interested in developing themselves in China than they are in international communism.'

Calls News Conference

Dean called a news conference late today at his Wall Street law offices and told reporters:

"I am 100 per cent against appeasement or knuckling under, and to the best of my knowledge and belief I have fought the Communists at every turn.

"I have said that in the selfish interests of the American people, we must face facts as we find them, not as we would like to find them . . . .

"It is not enough just to say that you are opposed to it (communism). I believe we must find out what makes men surrender their ideals and minds to communism and try to eradicate the basic causes of communism."

Broke Off Korean Talks

Dean broke off preliminary Korean peace talks with the Reds at Panmunjom Dec. 12. He said he would return when and if the Communists withdrew a charge of "perfidy" against the U. S. in the prisoner of war situation.

Asked by reporters about a possible return to Korea, Dean said:

"I do not know how soon I will return to Korea. However, if we get word that the Communists have retracted their charges of 'perfidy' against us, then I will return.

Dean is a former law partner of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Ridgway Doesn't Believe Chinese Will Renew War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Army's chief of staff reported today that although the Communists have expanded their airbases in North Korea the Pentagon sees no signs that they intend to renew hostilities.

If there are any menacing changes in the situation, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the decision to withdraw two American divisions from Korea will be "at once reviewed."

Pact Ratification Urged

Ridgway and Secretary of the Army Stevens appeared before the senators to urge ratification of a mutual security pact with South Korea. They said South Korea is an essential bastion for United States security in the Pacific.

On the state of the truce, Ridgway reported:

"All the evidence we have today is that the Communists lack the intention in the near future to exercise the very definite offensive capability they have."

Ridgway formerly commanded the 8th Army in Korea and later was supreme commander of the United States and United Nations forces in the Far East.

Some Red Withdrawals

In reply to a question by Chairman Wiley (R-Wis), he said there have been "verified withdrawals" of Chinese units from North Korea since the armistice but that Red strength there still is not far from one million men.

Ridgway added there is verified evidence that the Communists have rebuilt war-torn airfields since the truce began and have constructed some new fields.

Both Ridgway and Stevens told the committee that the withdrawal of the two U. S. Divisions, still in the planning stage, would strengthen America's hand as it worked toward a more mobile and flexible defense force.

Winter Hits Midwest With One-Two Punch

[By The Associated Press]

Winter hit a large portion of the mid-continent with a one-two punch Thursday.

Arctic air numbed the Northern Plains states while freezing drizzle and light snow slicked the central Mississippi Valley northeastward through the Ohio Valley and eastern Great Lakes region.

Midday temperatures were -7 degrees in Grand Forks, N. D., and Great Falls, Mont.

Northern Montana was warned of near blizzard conditions with 4 to 12 inches of snow. The mercury dropped 23 degrees in four hours in Helena, and fell below the zero mark at several points in Montana.

Soviet Project Completed

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Soviet newspapers announce that a large new hydroelectric and irrigation project, the Mingechaur power plant on the Kura River, is in operation in Azerbaijan.

Cut In Dividend Taxes Approved By House Group

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee, bowing to a long-time plea from business circles, approved today a three-year program of sharp reductions in taxes on income from dividends.

Staff experts said the proposed changes would mean a saving of 240 million dollars for about four million taxpaying stockholders the first year.

The ultimate loss in revenue was estimated at from 500 million to one billion dollars annually, when the cuts reach full effect.

A majority of committee Democrats reportedly resisted the move, but were voted down in a closed-door committee session.

First Major Controversy

This marked the first substantial controversy in a committee project aimed at rewriting almost all the nation's tax laws with a view to simplifying and clarifying them and removing alleged inequities.

The committee is acting page-by-page on recommendations drafted by Treasury and Congressional staff experts, after months of labor.

A Democratic move to require deduction of taxes at the source of dividend payments, much as taxes are withheld from wages, was beaten. Members said this was a straight party-line vote, 15 Republicans against 10 Democrats.

The new proposal eventually would relieve about one third of the four million taxpaying stockholders from paying any federal taxes at all on their dividend income.

How Proposal Works

It provides that individuals will pay no income taxes on dividends up to $50 in the case of a taxable year ending between next July 31 and Aug. 1, 1955.

For later years, individuals would pay no income taxes up to $100 of dividends received.

Further, taxpayers would be allowed to deduct from their tax bill 5 per cent of all their dividend income above $50 received during the fiscal year, from next July 31 to Aug. 1, 1955.

The tax credit would be increased to 10 per cent of dividends above $10 the second year, and 15 per cent the third and ensuing years.

Thus a percentage of income would be deducted—not from taxable income itself—but from the actual taxpayment the stockholder otherwise would face.

Housewife Is Jailed For Hitting Teacher

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—A housewife who banged a school teacher over the head with a pop bottle must spend 10 days in jail.

Judge George B. Weiss in Women's Court placed Mrs. Rose Patterson, 40, on a year's probation today with the stipulation that the first 10 days shall be spent in the House of Correction.

Judge Weiss convicted Mrs. Patterson of assault on Mrs. Sybil L. Dungee, 30, last Dec. 17. Mrs. Dungee is a first grade teacher at Hayes Elementary School.

The pop bottle incident occurred after Mrs. Patterson's daughter, Cora, 6, told her mother the teacher had choked her. The girl later admitted she had lied.

India To Start Turning Back POWs Jan. 20

U.N.C. Goes Ahead With Preparations To Free Prisoners

PANMUNJOM, Friday, Jan. 15 (AP)—India decided yesterday on its own to start turning back nearly 23,000 disputed prisoners to their captors Jan. 20—three days ahead of the deadline—and said if either side freed them it would violate the armistice.

In Washington, the U. S. Army chief of staff, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, told a Senate committee "I would think that serious consequences could flow from such an action on the part of custodial forces of India—a premature release." Ridgway said "I'd be concerned by the Communist reaction to such a release."

India Gives Warning

In Korea, the U. N. Command prepared to take back 22,500 Chinese and North Koreans from the anti-Red camp but went ahead with plans to set them free as civilians at 12:01 a.m. Jan. 23.

India's decision, announced in letters to the Communist and U.N. Commands by Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, India's chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, said:

"Any unilateral action by any party concerned (on the prisoners' status) will not be in conformity with the (armistice) terms of reference."

Thimayya's announcement drew quick fire from the Swedish and Swiss members of the commission although both were agreeable to turning over the prisoners on Jan. 20.

Commission Criticized

The Swiss said in a statement the commission "has no right to declare the restitution of the POWs dependent on the condition that no alteration in their status be made . . . the commission has never taken such a decision."

The Swedish statement objected that Thimayya's letters "gave the impression of being the unanimous view of the NNRC whereas in almost all cases they represented, in fact, the opinion of the chairman only, or of a majority of the commission."

The other members, Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia, did not make any public comment.

Parley Plans Up In Air

PANMUNJOM, Friday, Jan. 15 (AP)—Allied and Communist liaison officers got nowhere yesterday in efforts to resume talks on a Korean peace conference but agreed to try again today.

Edwin Martin, the U. N. Command representative, tried to lead the meeting into a discussion of conditions the Allies want satisfied before they resume the preliminary conference talks.

One of the conditions probably would be a retraction or softening of the Communist charge of U. S. "perfidy" that broke up the negotiations last Dec. 12.

But the Red liaison secretary, North Korean Ju Man Sun, insisted he had come only to discuss the time for resuming the preliminary talks.

In the end, Martin suggested the Reds study his request overnight and come back for a second meeting at 11:00 a.m. today (9 p.m. Thursday EST).

Curvaceous Marilyn Monroe Becomes Bride Of DiMaggio

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Gorgeous Marilyn Monroe and Joe Di Maggio were married today in what was supposed to have been a quiet ceremony, but wasn't.

Municipal Judge Charles S. Peery, read the civil ceremony in his chambers while an estimated crowd of 500 jammed the corridors of City Hall.

The curvaceous actress and the former Yankee baseball slugger didn't even let the judge know their plans until early this afternoon. They wanted a quiet, wedding with no fanfare.

Yet by the time they were married the crowd was so thick Di Maggio, his best man, restaurant manager Reno Barsocchini and Lefty O'Doul, had to elbow a pathway for Marilyn to the elevator.

He said they plan to make their home in San Francisco, going to Hollywood whenever Marilyn has a picture to make. But Marilyn said she has no plans for movies now.

On the marriage license, Marilyn's age was given as 25, Joe's 39.

It was the second marriage for each. Miss Monroe was married at 15 to James Dougherty, now a policeman in Van Nuys, Calif. Her studio says it "was a short-lived marriage which she prefers to forget."

Joe was divorced by Dorothy Arnold, a film actress. They have one son.

Miss Monroe and Di Maggio had been virtually hiding out here for more than a week, primarily to keep their marriage plans secret.

Judge Peery was called from a bar association luncheon today by Barsocchini, whom he has known for years. He arrived at City Hall about 1 o'clock, just ahead of radiant Miss Monroe and smiling Di Maggio.

McCarthy Seeks Demos' Return To Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) announced today he has agreed to try to work out with Democrats a compromise settlement of the dispute in which they quit and boycotted his Senate investigations subcommittee.

Such a compromise, he told a news conference, might involve some relaxation of his claims to sole hiring and firing power over members of the subcommittee's staff.

That is the issue over which the subcommittee's three Democratic members resigned last July. One after another, the three of them—Senators McClellan (D-Ark), Symington (D-Mo and Jackson (D-Wash—reaffirmed at the same news conference in McCarthy's presence that they and probably "no Democratic senator" would serve on the committee until McCarthy's hiring-firing powers are modified.

At the windup of the conference McCarthy told newsmen:

"It appears for the first time we may work out a system whereby the chairman has the right to hire a staff and fire it, and members can ask for the right to discharge individuals . . ."

House Probe Group Investigator Fired

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Chairman Velde (R-Ill) today announced the dismissal of Louis J. Russell as chief investigator of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Russell, 42, a former FBI agent who lives in Silver Spring, Md., joined the committee in May, 1945. He could not be reached immediately for comment.

U. S. Consumption Of Cigarets Drops

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Domestic consumption of cigarets declined two per cent in 1953 for the first drop in more than 20 years, according to the annual estimate prepared for Printers' Ink by Harry M. Wootten, tobacco industry consultant.

The estimate put total domestic consumption at 386 billion cigarets compared with the all time high of slightly over 394 billion in 1952.

R. J. Reynolds' Camels retained first place in sales followed in order by American Tobacco's Lucky Strikes, Liggett & Myers' Chesterfields, American Tobacco's Pall Malls, and Philip Morris.

Allies Confident Big Four Parley Will Open Jan. 25

BERLIN, Jan. 14 (AP)—Allied officials here and abroad chorused confidence today that the Big Four foreign minister's parley will open on schedule Jan. 25 despite the deadlock with Russia on a meeting place.

West German officials were less optimistic and the official Moscow press was too busy rejecting in advance Western proposals slated to come up at the conference to dwell on the location wrangle.

Gloom In Bonn

The American, French and British representatives broke off weeklong talks with the Russians early this morning and referred the location dispute to their governments.

At the West German capital of Bonn the breakdown caused gloom, and some German political circles predicted the conference will have to be postponed until the quarrel is settled.

An American official here—possibly explaining the reason for Western confidence—said "neither side is going to let the conference die."

Shift Not Expected

He said he expected quick action in the wrangle over the location, possibly on the level of the four high commissioners in Germany.

Asked whether the conference might be shifted to a less controversial city, he replied: "No. The West wants the meeting in Berlin."

A State Department official in Washington said the East-West differences are not great enough to delay the conference. He described these differences as typical of Soviet tactics in negotiating questions of procedure.

Courtroom Slayer Of Judge Improves

WARREN, Pa., Jan. 14 (AP)—Norman Moon, 26-year-old courtroom slayer of Judge Allison D. Wade, regained consciousness from a self-inflicted bullet wound today. Doctors gave him a good chance to survive.

The Connellsville, Pa., construction worker was visited at Warren Hospital by his parents and a brother.

Moon shot and killed Judge Wade 51, yesterday as he appeared before the bench for failing to keep up $30 a week support payments to his estranged wife. Moon fled and later fired a bullet into his neck as state police closed in.

Four Americans, 12 Others Killed In Plane Crash

ROME, Jan. 14 (AP)—A stricken Philippines Airline plane, trailing smoke through a driving rain, veered from a course toward crowded apartments and crashed in a muddy field here today with a bomb-like explosion.

All 16 aboard, including the American pilot and co-pilot and two American passengers, were killed in the accident—Italy's second air disaster in five days.

Last Sunday a jet Comet of the British Overseas Airways Corp. plunged into the Tyrrhenian sea off Elba with a loss of 35 lives.

The Philippines liner, a four-engine DC6, was only a few minutes from Rome's Ciampino airport on a flight from Manila to London when it wavered and fell.

The force of the blast cut the plane and the victims into fragments, spread over a 200-yard area. The fuselage dug a 40-foot pit in the soft clay.

Capt. Ira Broome, 33, of Warren, Ark., a World War II veteran of the U.S. Air Force, headed the nine-man crew. The co-pilot was William Rose, a former Navy pilot from Alton, Ill.

Royal R. Jordan of Boston and Rome, the airline's European director, was among the passengers. The other American victim was listed by the line as G. Batavia, en route from Bangkok to Rome.

The plane was about five miles short of the airport when it ran into trouble. The airline said it had been given a clear signal to land and had not radioed of any difficulty.

Johnny Ray Weeps As Wife Gets Divorce

JUAREZ, Jan. 14 (AP) — Crying Johnny Ray wept today as his wife Marilyn Morrison Ray was granted a Juarez divorce.

The singer broke into tears as Miss Morrison filed her petition charging incompatability. The divorce was granted in Juarez First Federal Court by Judge Perando Romero Figuroa.

Rep. Reed Acts To Carry Out Ike Proposals

President Would Up Benefits, Coverage And Pay Deductions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower urged Congress today to boost social security benefits quickly for America's older citizens and give 10 million more people protection from "the fear . . . of destitution."

Eisenhower also asked that the amount of income taxed for pension purposes be raised from $3,600 to $4,200, and that retired persons be allowed to earn more at part-time jobs without losing social security benefits,

Changing the tax base would mean that workers making more than $3,600 would find up to $12 more a year in social security deductions coming out of their pay checks. Their employers would have to match the amounts.

Reed Fills In Details

In a special, 2,700-word message to the lawmakers, the President proposed increases in both the lowest and highest amounts paid to retired persons or their survivors. He left it to Secretary of Welfare Hobby to fill in details for congressional committees later on.

But Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) of the House Ways and Means Committee beat Mrs. Hobby to it.

Minimum payments for retired individuals now are $25 a month, the maximum benefits $85 and the average around $50. For the social security system to "fulfill its purpose of helping to combat destitution," Eisenhower said, "these benefits are too low."

Reed said the plan is to provide increases ranging from $5 a month at the lowest level to $13.50 at the top for those now getting pensions. For persons retiring after the projected broadening of the tax base, the maximum could rise to $108.50 —$23.50 over the present ceiling.

Reed Offers Two Bills

A wife gets half as much pension as her retired husband, so she would get a proportionate boost. So would widows and surviving children. The maximum benefits for a family could go up from $168.75 to $190 a month.

Reed introduced two separate bills to carry out the Eisenhower recommendations and said his committee would consider them in March, with full public hearings.

By the time they clear the House and Senate, it might be late summer or early fall. And bigger benefits might be coming along for some six million persons already on the rolls not long before the November elections in which the Republicans will be battling to keep control of Congress.

French Crooner To Wed Doris Duke

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—French singer Charles Trenet announced today that he will marry Doris Duke, former wife of Porfirio Rubirosa and one of the world's wealthiest women.

The announcement came only two weeks after Rubirosa's wedding to the former Barbara Hutton, another of the world's richest women and a friend of Miss Duke.

Trent is appearing at an upper East Side cabaret here. Miss Duke presently is in Switzerland.

Trenet said they would have been wed sooner but that he feared what people might think of a man marrying a woman with "so much money." Miss Duke reputedly inherited 30 million dollars.

Overhaul Of Army Supply, Training Systems Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—A thorough overhaul of the Army's supply and training systems was urged by a special advisory committee today to meet the hazards of a long cold war or a possible new world conflict.

The committee, composed of four business executives and one three-star general, said the days of slow and gradual buildup of war strength "disappeared in the smoke over Hiroshima."

"Victory—as well as the conservation of lives—depends in large measure on superiority in weapons and equipment at the moment war is thrust upon us," the committee's report said.

The study group was appointed by Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens at the request of Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson last year after President Eisenhower said "improvements are badly needed" in the three military departments.

The Navy and the Air Force have similar groups, appointed from their own ranks.

The Army committee called for creation of two new major commands, a continental army command and a supply command, and urged that the Army secretary's office be strengthened to protect it from absorption by the secretary of defense and his staff.

The Army secretary's office would be made "more attractive to men of outstanding competence," the report said, if efforts were made "to insure that his authority is respected by those above and below."

The report suggested formation of a continental command to take over supervision of the six field armies in this country and the military district of Washington. They now report to the chief of staff but the committee said he already is overburdened and should become more the "operating manager" of the Army, "fully accountable to the Army secretary."

Nash-Kelvinator, Hudson Consolidation Is Approved

DETROIT, Jan. 14 (AP)—Consolidation of Nash-Kelvinator Corp. and Hudson Motor Car Co. was approved today by directors of the two companies subject to stockholder approval. Stockholder meetings will be held in March.

The resulting corporation will be known as American Motors Corp.

Under the plan Nash, Hudson and Kelvinator will operate as separate divisions of American Motors. The dealer and sales organizations will retain their separate identities.

The announcement said it was contemplated that A.E. Barit, president of Hudson Motors, will serve as a director and consultant and George W. Mason, president and board chairman of Nash-Kelvinator as president and board chairman of American Motors.

Under the agreement submitted to stockholders, three shares of Hudson stock will be converted into two shares of American Motors stock and each share of Nash-Kelvinator stock will continue as one share of American Motors.

Hudson Motors stock closed on the New York Stock Exchange today at 12.3. Nash-Kelvinator closed at 17.7. Each was up 1.8.

Hudson and Nash-Kelvinator together had assets of more than 355 million dollars and working capital in excess of 100 million as of last Sept. 30. Their combined sales for the year ended last Sept. 30 were in excess of $680,000,000.

Hudson and Nash-Kelvinator together employ more than 40,000 in plants at Detroit, and Grand Rapids, Mich., Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., and El Segundo, Calif.

The Nash-Hudson consolidation, if completed, will be the second move of its kind in the auto industry during the past year. Last spring Kaiser Motors purchased Willys-Overland Motors for $62,000,000.

India To Start Turning Back POWs Jan. 20

U.N.C. Goes Ahead With Preparations To Free Prisoners

PANMUNJOM, Friday, Jan. 15 (AP)—India decided yesterday on its own to start turning back nearly 23,000 disputed prisoners to their captors Jan. 20—three days ahead of the deadline—and said if either side freed them it would violate the armistice.

In Washington, the U. S. Army chief of staff, Gen. Matthew B. In Korea, the U. N. Command prepared to take back 22,500 Chinese and North Koreans from the anti-Red camp but went ahead with plans to set them free as civilians at 12:01 a.m. Jan. 23.

India's decision, announced in letters to the Communist and U.N. Commands by Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, India's chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, said:

"Any unilateral action by any party concerned (on the prisoners' status) will not be in conformity with the (armistice) terms of reference."

Thimayya's announcement drew quick fire from the Swedish and Swiss members of the commission although both were agreeable to turning over the prisoners on Jan. 20.

Commission Criticized

The Swiss said in a statement the commission "has no right to declare the restitution of the POWs dependent on the condition that no alteration in their status be made . . . the commission has never taken such a decision."

The Swedish statement objected that Thimayya's letters "gave the impression of being the unanimous view of the NNRC whereas in almost all cases they represented, in fact, the opinion of the chairman only, or of a majority of the commission."

The other members, Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia, did not make any public comment.

Ridgway Doesn't Believe Chinese Will Renew War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Army's chief of staff reported today that although the Communists have expanded their airbases in North Korea the Pentagon sees no signs that they intend to renew hostilities.

If there are any menacing changes in the situation, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the decision to withdraw two American divisions from Korea will be "at once reviewed."

Pact Ratification Urged

Ridgway and Secretary of the Army Stevens appeared before the senators to urge ratification of a mutual security pact with South Korea. They said South Korea is an essential bastion for United States security in the Pacific.

On the state of the truce, Ridgway reported:

"All the evidence we have today is that the Communists lack the intention in the near future to exercise the very definite offensive capability they have."

Ridgway formerly commanded the 8th Army in Korea and later was supreme commander of the United States and United Nations forces in the Far East.

Some Red Withdrawals

In reply to a question by Chairman Wiley (R-Wis), he said there have been "verified withdrawals" of Chinese units from North Korea since the armistice but that Red strength there still is not far from one million men.

Ridgway added there is verified evidence that the Communists have rebuilt war-torn airfields since the truce began and have constructed some new fields.

Both Ridgway and Stevens told the committee that the withdrawal of the two U. S. Divisions, still in the planning stage, would strengthen America's hand as it worked toward a more mobile and flexible defense force.

Winter Hits Midwest With One-Two Punch

[By The Associated Press]

Winter hit a large portion of the mid-continent with a one-two punch Thursday.

Arctic air numbed the Northern Plains states while freezing drizzle and light snow slicked the central Mississippi Valley northeastward through the Ohio Valley and eastern Great Lakes region.

Midday temperatures were -7 degrees in Grand Forks, N. D., and Great Falls, Mont.

Northern Montana was warned of near blizzard conditions with 4 to 12 inches of snow. The mercury dropped 23 degrees in four hours in Helena, and fell below the zero mark at several points in Montana.

Soviet Project Completed

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Soviet newspapers announce that a large new hydroelectric and irrigation project, the Mingechaur power plant on the Kura River, is in operation in Azerbaijan.

Cut In Dividend Taxes Approved By House Group

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee, bowing to a long-time plea from business circles, approved today a three-year program of sharp reductions in taxes on income from dividends.

Staff experts said the proposed changes would mean a saving of 240 million dollars for about four million taxpaying stockholders the first year.

The ultimate loss in revenue was estimated at from 500 million to one billion dollars annually, when the cuts reach full effect.

A majority of committee Democrats reportedly resisted the move, but were voted down in a closed-door committee session.

First Major Controversy

This marked the first substantial controversy in a committee project aimed at rewriting almost all the nation's tax laws with a view to simplifying and clarifying them and removing alleged inequities.

A Democratic move to require deduction of taxes at the source of dividend payments, much as taxes are withheld from wages, was beaten. Members said this was a straight party-line vote, 15 Republicans against 10 Democrats.

The new proposal eventually would relieve about one third of the four million taxpaying stockholders from paying any federal taxes at all on their dividend income.

How Proposal Works

It provides that individuals will pay no income taxes on dividends up to $50 in the case of a taxable year ending between next July 31 and Aug. 1, 1955.

For later years, individuals would pay no income taxes up to $100 of dividends received.

Further, taxpayers would be allowed to deduct from their tax bill 5 per cent of all their dividend income above $50 received during the fiscal year, from next July 31 to Aug. 1, 1955.

The tax credit would be increased to 10 per cent of dividends above $10 the second year, and 15 per cent the third and ensuing years.

Thus a percentage of income would be deducted—not from taxable income itself—but from the actual taxpayment the stockholder otherwise would face.

Housewife Is Jailed For Hitting Teacher

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—A housewife who banged a school teacher over the head with a pop bottle must spend 10 days in jail.

Judge George B. Weiss in Women's Court placed Mrs. Rose Patterson, 40, on a year's probation today with the stipulation that the first 10 days shall be spent in the House of Correction.

Judge Weiss convicted Mrs. Patterson of assault on Mrs. Sybil L. Dungee, 30, last Dec. 17. Mrs. Dungee is a first grade teacher at Hayes Elementary School.

The pop bottle incident occurred after Mrs. Patterson's daughter, Cora, 6, told her mother the teacher had choked her. The girl later admitted she had lied.

Parley Plans Up In Air

PANMUNJOM, Friday, Jan. 15 (AP)—Allied and Communist liaison officers got nowhere yesterday in efforts to resume talks on a Korean peace conference but agreed to try again today.

Edwin Martin, the U. N. Command representative, tried to lead the meeting into a discussion of conditions the Allies want satisfied before they resume the preliminary conference talks.

One of the conditions probably would be a retraction or softening of the Communist charge of U. S. "perfidy" that broke up the negotiations last Dec. 12.

But the Red liaison secretary, North Korean Ju Man Sun, insisted he had come only to discuss the time for resuming the preliminary talks.

In the end, Martin suggested the Reds study his request overnight and come back for a second meeting at 11:00 a.m. today (9 p.m. Thursday EST).

McCarthy Seeks Demos' Return To Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) announced today he has agreed to try to work out with Democrats a compromise settlement of the dispute in which they quit and boycotted his Senate investigations subcommittee.

Such a compromise, he told a news conference, might involve some relaxation of his claims to sole hiring and firing power over members of the subcommittee's staff.

That is the issue over which the subcommittee's three Democratic members resigned last July. One after another, the three of them—Senators McClellan (D-Ark), Symington (D-Mo and Jackson (D-Wash—reaffirmed at the same news conference in McCarthy's presence that they and probably "no Democratic senator" would serve on the committee until McCarthy's hiring-firing powers are modified.

At the windup of the conference McCarthy told newsmen:

"It appears for the first time we may work out a system whereby the chairman has the right to hire a staff and fire it, and members can ask for the right to discharge individuals . . ."

House Probe Group Investigator Fired

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Chairman Velde (R-Ill) today announced the dismissal of Louis J. Russell as chief investigator of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Russell, 42, a former FBI agent who lives in Silver Spring, Md., joined the committee in May, 1945. He could not be reached immediately for comment.

U. S. Consumption Of Cigarets Drops

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Domestic consumption of cigarets declined two per cent in 1953 for the first drop in more than 20 years, according to the annual estimate prepared for Printers' Ink by Harry M. Wootten, tobacco industry consultant.

The estimate put total domestic consumption at 386 billion cigarets compared with the all time high of slightly over 394 billion in 1952.

R. J. Reynolds' Camels retained first place in sales followed in order by American Tobacco's Lucky Strikes, Liggett & Myers' Chesterfields, American Tobacco's Pall Malls, and Philip Morris.

Allies Confident Big Four Parley Will Open Jan. 25

BERLIN, Jan. 14 (AP)—Allied officials here and abroad chorused confidence today that the Big Four foreign minister's parley will open on schedule Jan. 25 despite the deadlock with Russia on a meeting place.

West German officials were less optimistic and the official Moscow press was too busy rejecting in advance Western proposals slated to come up at the conference to dwell on the location wrangle.

Gloom In Bonn

The American, French and British representatives broke off weeklong talks with the Russians early this morning and referred the location dispute to their governments.

At the West German capital of Bonn the breakdown caused gloom, and some German political circles predicted the conference will have to be postponed until the quarrel is settled.

Shift Not Expected

He said he expected quick action in the wrangle over the location, possibly on the level of the four high commissioners in Germany.

Asked whether the conference might be shifted to a less controversial city, he replied: "No. The West wants the meeting in Berlin."

A State Department official in Washington said the East-West differences are not great enough to delay the conference. He described these differences as typical of Soviet tactics in negotiating questions of procedure.

Four Americans, 12 Others Killed In Plane Crash

ROME, Jan. 14 (AP)—A stricken Philippines Airline plane, trailing smoke through a driving rain, veered from a course toward crowded apartments and crashed in a muddy field here today with a bomb-like explosion.

All 16 aboard, including the American pilot and co-pilot and two American passengers, were killed in the accident—Italy's second air disaster in five days.

Last Sunday a jet Comet of the British Overseas Airways Corp. plunged into the Tyrrhenian sea off Elba with a loss of 35 lives.

The Philippines liner, a four-engine DC6, was only a few minutes from Rome's Ciampino airport on a flight from Manila to London when it wavered and fell.

The force of the blast cut the plane and the victims into fragments, spread over a 200-yard area. The fuselage dug a 40-foot pit in the soft clay.

Capt. Ira Broome, 33, of Warren, Ark., a World War II veteran of the U.S. Air Force, headed the nine-man crew. The co-pilot was William Rose, a former Navy pilot from Alton, Ill.

Royal R. Jordan of Boston and Rome, the airline's European director, was among the passengers. The other American victim was listed by the line as G. Batavia, en route from Bangkok to Rome.

The plane was about five miles short of the airport when it ran into trouble. The airline said it had been given a clear signal to land and had not radioed of any difficulty.

Johnny Ray Weeps As Wife Gets Divorce

JUAREZ, Jan. 14 (AP) — Crying Johnny Ray wept today as his wife Marilyn Morrison Ray was granted a Juarez divorce.

The singer broke into tears as Miss Morrison filed her petition charging incompatability. The divorce was granted in Juarez First Federal Court by Judge Perando Romero Figuroa.

French Crooner To Wed Doris Duke

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—French singer Charles Trenet announced today that he will marry Doris Duke, former wife of Porfirio Rubirosa and one of the world's wealthiest women.

The announcement came only two weeks after Rubirosa's wedding to the former Barbara Hutton, another of the world's richest women and a friend of Miss Duke.

Trent is appearing at an upper East Side cabaret here. Miss Duke presently is in Switzerland.

Trenet said they would have been wed sooner but that he feared what people might think of a man marrying a woman with "so much money." Miss Duke reputedly inherited 30 million dollars.

Curvaceous Marilyn Monroe Becomes Bride Of DiMaggio

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Gorgeous Marilyn Monroe and Joe Di Maggio were married today in what was supposed to have been a quiet ceremony, but wasn't.

Municipal Judge Charles S. Peery, read the civil ceremony in his chambers while an estimated crowd of 500 jammed the corridors of City Hall.

The curvaceous actress and the former Yankee baseball slugger didn't even let the judge know their plans until early this afternoon. They wanted a quiet, wedding with no fanfare.

Yet by the time they were married the crowd was so thick Di Maggio, his best man, restaurant manager Reno Barsocchini and Lefty O'Doul, had to elbow a pathway for Marilyn to the elevator.

Joe and Marilyn left on a brief honeymoon for an unannounced destination. "Just driving," Joe said.

He said they plan to make their home in San Francisco, going to Hollywood whenever Marilyn has a picture to make. But Marilyn said she has no plans for movies now.

On the marriage license, Marilyn's age was given as 25, Joe's 39.

It was the second marriage for each. Miss Monroe was married at 15 to James Dougherty, now a policeman in Van Nuys, Calif. Her studio says it "was a short-lived marriage which she prefers to forget."

Joe was divorced by Dorothy Arnold, a film actress. They have one son.

Miss Monroe and Di Maggio had been virtually hiding out here for more than a week, primarily to keep their marriage plans secret.

Judge Peery was called from a bar association luncheon today by Barsocchini, whom he has known for years. He arrived at City Hall about 1 o'clock, just ahead of radiant Miss Monroe and smiling Di Maggio.

She was bare headed, wearing a dark brown broadcloth suit with a wide white ermine collar. She carried a corsage of three white orchids.

Courtroom Slayer Of Judge Improves

WARREN, Pa., Jan. 14 (AP) — Norman Moon, 26-year-old courtroom slayer of Judge Allison D. Wade, regained consciousness from a self-inflicted bullet wound today. Doctors gave him a good chance to survive.

The Connellsville, Pa., construction worker was visited at Warren Hospital by his parents and a brother.

Moon shot and killed Judge Wade 51, yesterday as he appeared before the bench for failing to keep up $30 a week support payments to his estranged wife. Moon fled and later fired a bullet into his neck as state police closed in.

Overhaul Of Army Supply, Training Systems Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—A thorough overhaul of the Army's supply and training systems was urged by a special advisory committee today to meet the hazards of a long cold war or a possible new world conflict.

The committee, composed of four business executives and one three-star general, said the days of slow and gradual buildup of war strength "disappeared in the smoke over Hiroshima."

"Victory—as well as the conservation of lives—depends in large measure on superiority in weapons and equipment at the moment war is thrust upon us," the committee's report said.

The study group was appointed by Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens at the request of Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson last year after President Eisenhower said "improvements are badly needed" in the three military departments.

The Navy and the Air Force have similar groups, appointed from their own ranks.

The Army committee called for creation of two new major commands, a continental army command and a supply command, and urged that the Army secretary's office be strengthened to protect it from absorption by the secretary of defense and his staff.

The Army secretary's office would be made "more attractive to men of outstanding competence," the report said, if efforts were made "to insure that his authority is respected by those above and below."

The report suggested formation of a continental command to take over supervision of the six field armies in this country and the military district of Washington. They now report to the chief of staff but the committee said he already is overburdened and should become more the "operating manager" of the Army, "fully accountable to the Army secretary."

Nash-Kelvinator, Hudson Consolidation Is Approved

DETROIT, Jan. 14 (AP)—Consolidation of Nash-Kelvinator Corp. and Hudson Motor Car Co. was approved today by directors of the two companies subject to stockholder approval. Stockholder meetings will be held in March.

The resulting corporation will be known as American Motors Corp.

Under the plan Nash, Hudson and Kelvinator will operate as separate divisions of American Motors. The dealer and sales organizations will retain their separate identities.

The announcement said it was contemplated that A.E. Barit, president of Hudson Motors, will serve as a director and consultant and George W. Mason, president and board chairman of Nash-Kelvinator as president and board chairman of American Motors.

Under the agreement submitted to stockholders, three shares of Hudson stock will be converted into two shares of American Motors stock and each share of Nash-Kelvinator stock will continue as one share of American Motors.

Hudson Motors stock closed on the New York Stock Exchange today at 12.3. Nash-Kelvinator closed at 17.7. Each was up 1.8.

Hudson and Nash-Kelvinator together had assets of more than 355 million dollars and working capital in excess of 100 million as of last Sept. 30. Their combined sales for the year ended last Sept. 30 were in excess of $680,000,000.

Hudson and Nash-Kelvinator together employ more than 40,000 in plants at Detroit, and Grand Rapids, Mich., Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., and El Segundo, Calif.

The Nash-Hudson consolidation, if completed, will be the second move of its kind in the auto industry during the past year. Last spring Kaiser Motors purchased Willys-Overland Motors for $62,000,000.

U. S. Planes, Troops Join In Avalanche Relief Work

Four-Nation Death Toll Reaches 145

VIENNA, Austria, Jan. 14 (AP)—The U. S. and Swiss Air Forces threw in more planes today to help rescuers from six nations care for the injured and find still-buried victims of Austria's killer avalanches, which have claimed at least 113 lives.

American and French occupation troops pitched in to help the mercy teams in their race against death. But hope was almost abandoned for 23 persons lost in three snow-choked Austrian valleys.

The over-all toll from the smothering snow masses that slid down from Alpine slopes in Austria, Germany, Italy and Switzerland stood at 145.

Among these were two little Italian girls whose bodies were dug from the snow near northern Trento. The Swiss Red Cross announced 24 persons had perished in Switzerland since Monday. Six died in West Germany.

The main rescue efforts centered in Austria. U. S. Army medics helped care for the injured while GIs joined forces with French mountain troops to help search for the missing.

In one stricken area 115 American soldiers helped beat a path through the drifts to isolated homes where children were known to live.

In another spot a U. S. medical detachment sent a litter-bearing jeep to remove an ailing Austrian girl from a snowbound train.

Doctors doubted that those missing could be as lucky as a 70-year-old woman found alive today after 57 hours under the snow, and a man dug out after 64 hours under the ruins of three houses that had piled atop each other.

It means the death toll may well reach 136—surpassing the 1951 avalanches in which 124 lost their lives.

From all Western Europe came offers of help.

Gen. William H. Tunner, commander of U. S. Air Forces in Europe, ordered "maximum assistance." Two American helicopters brought doctors, supplies and dog teams during the day. Six other helicopters and six other planes were standing by at Friedrichshafen, on the Swiss-German-Austrian frontier.

The Swiss army sent a second helicopter to join one which Austrian authorities said had performed heroic work in bringing out injured from the Walser Valley—Austria's 'vale of death."

In this valley alone, 64 persons died and more than 100 were rescued, many of them badly injured.

Hunter In Line For NCPT Post

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP)—Joseph A. Hunter, president of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers, has been nominated for a regional vice-presidency in the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

His name, selected by the national nominating committee at Chicago, will go before the National Congress convention in Atlantic City next May 24-26.

Hunter was nominated to represent Region Two, which includes Maryland, the District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Hunter is now serving the final year of his three-year term as president of the Maryland Congress and his successor will be named at the next state convention next November.

He works in the Highlandtown branch of the Baltimore post office and lives in Dundalk, a Baltimore County suburb on the southeast edge of the city. He and his wife have been active in P-TA work there since their daughter started in elementary school. She graduated from high school last Spring.

May Divorce Heiress

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—The New York World-Telegram & Sun said today sportsman Fred Hammer plans to seek a divorce from shipping heiress Andrea Luckenbach Hammer.

"I'm going to sue on grounds of desertion," the newspaper quoted Hammer, "because, after all, she deserted me."

Ike-Bricker Compromise Sought By GOP Senators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today Senate GOP leaders will continue to press for a compromise on conflicting views between President Eisenhower and Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) on the issue of Bricker's proposed amendment to the Constitution.

The amendment, if approved by Congress and ratified by three-fourths of the states, would curb the treaty-making powers of the President.

Commenting on the rift between Bricker's views and those of the President, Knowland told newsmen:

"It is the unanimous judgment of the entire Republican leadership of the Senate that further efforts should be made to work out an area of agreement."

Knowland said he spoke for himself and Sens. Ferguson (R-Mich), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee; Millikin, chairman of the Republican Conference of Senators; Bridges (R-NH), Senate President pro tem; and Saltonstall (R-Mass), Senate whip.

Differences between Eisenhower and Bricker were pointed up yesterday when the President commented on aspects of the Bricker amendment at his news conference, and a few hours later Bricker issued a statement saying "I disagree."

Among other things, Eisenhower said he would gladly agree to go along with Congress in declaring that any treaty or international agreement contravening the U. S. Constitution is null and void.

But the President said he would never agree to return to the system in effect before the Constitution was adopted when each of the states had the right to repudiate a treaty. The Constitution provides that the President "shall have power . . . to make treaties" with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Woman Tortured, Killed In Motel

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 14 (AP)—A story of sadistic torture and death unraveled today as police searched for the "nice guy" who took a pretty housewife on a share-the-expense tour that came to a bloody ending in a motel room here.

The horribly mutilated body of Elizabeth Jeanne Henderson, 31-year-old wife of a Compton, Calif., upholsterer, was found in the motel yesterday. Police filed a murder charge against her traveling companion, Otto A. Loel, 47, of Syracuse, N.Y.

Detective Chief Wayne Harbolt called the killing "the work of a sadist or a sex maniac." Investigators said several burn marks, apparently from cigarettes, were found on her arms.

They said Mrs. Henderson, who went on the cross-country motor trip with the blessing of her husband, Cameron Henderson, may have been tortured over a period of several days.

In Compton, Henderson said Loel "seemed to be a nice guy to me and a lot of our friends here knew him very well."

The cabin showed signs of bitter struggle. Mrs. Henderson was stabbed and beaten to death, officers said.

Frederick By-Pass Meeting Postponed

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP)—Bad weather forced postponement of a meeting representatives of the State Roads Commission had scheduled in Frederick tonight with city authorities there on details of the high-speed by-pass to be built around the city.

The roads commission hopes to let contracts for the first section of the eight-million dollar by-pass before the end of 1954.

Byrd Names Huston

Itinerants Met By Police; Built Fire On Ammo Train

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Jan. 14 (AP)—Four itinerants climbed into a Katy railroad boxcar at Parsons, Kan., taking coal and kindling with them so they could build a fire and keep warm on the ride to Kansas City.

At Paola, a 100-miles along, a member of the train crew invited them to make the rest of the trip in the caboose.

Never had the itinerants experienced such solicitude from trainmen and they were skeptical, but the prospect of the caboose's warmth and comfort was too much. They accepted.

The train arrived here early today. Awaiting it were two police cars.

The itinerants—James H. Harmon, 34, and Elvid N. Adkins, 30, of Slaughters, Ky.; Harley P. Limes, 37, Moses Lake, Wash.; and Richard M. Brents, 29, Portland, Ore.—were arrested and charged with vagrancy and trespass. All expressed hurt surprise at the railroad's marked change in attitude. Then policeman Edward Laundy Jr., spoke up:

"Know what kind of a train that was?"

"A freight train, a Katy freight," Harmon answered.

Bill Proposes Poll Of Workers Before Walkout

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Sen. Purtell (R-Conn) proposed today that the Taft-Hartley Act be amended to provide for a poll of workers before a strike occurs.

His legislation would make any strike an "unprotected activity" unless:

1. The Federal Mediation Service formally announced no settlement was in sight.

2. A majority of those voting in a government-conducted poll went on record in favor of a strike.

If the strike were an "unprotected activity," the employer could fire the workers and they would have no recourse to the National Labor Relations Board.

The Purtell amendment was expected to attract substantial support from business and management.

Purtell, a member of the Senate Labor Committee, is a past official of the Connecticut Association of Manufacturers. His bill differs sharply from one already introduced by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), committee chairman. Smith's bill, reportedly drawn up at the White House, provides for balloting after a strike is in effect.

Purtell told the Senate in a brief speech:

"I strongly feel that a strike ballot is necessary. Such a ballot should be taken prior to a strike not subsequent to it."

Labor union leaders have attacked the principle of a government-conducted strike poll as an attempted union-busting device. Five of the six Democrats on the Labor Committee have registered vigorous protests against the idea, first recommended by President Eisenhower in his 14-point Taft-Hartley revision program sent to Congress earlier this week.

One provision in Purtell's bill seemed certain to fall under particular attack from union leaders. This is the section which would prohibit the holding of a strike vote until the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service "has certified to the National Labor Relations Board that a threatened strike cannot be settled by mediation."

This would appear to give the mediation service a strike-prevention power far in excess of what it now possesses.

Union Will Appeal Jobless Pay Denial

HAGERSTOWN, Jan. 14 (AP)—The CIO Textile Workers Union said today it will appeal a ruling by the Hagerstown office of the Department of Employment Security denying jobless pay to strikers at the Federal Silk Mill.

Pat Ellington, TWU international representative, said counsel had been employed to take the appeal to the Employment Security Board in Baltimore.

About 100 employes of the mill at Williamsport made application for unemployment benefits, contending their idleness no longer is due to strike action.

They say their absence from work is no longer voluntary because mill owner David Goetz: 1. Announced last month that strikers who didn't return to work Jan. 4 would be fired, and 2. Closed the plant Jan. 8.

State To Open Second Truck Weigh Station

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP) — The State Roads Commission will dedicate and put into operation next Tuesday an almost automatic scale station to weigh big trucks on U. S. 40 just north of the Susquehanna River Bridge at Havre de Grace.

The weighing station in the northeast corner of the state is the second of five which the roads commission plans to install.

The first was opened in November on U. S. 301 near Upper Marlboro. The other three are planned for U. S. 50 at Queenstown, just east of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge; U. S. 13 north of Salisbury, and U. S. 40 at Pine Orchard west of Baltimore.

Strike Hits Third British Atom Plant

LONDON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Communist-dominated Electrical Trade Union called a flash strike at a key atomic project today—third such plant hit this week in the union's pin-prick labor war for higher wages.

Two hundred men walked out of the Aldermaston plant in Berkshire, southern England, to start the fourth day of 24-hour "guerrilla" strikes at key construction works. Electricians at nearby Harwell—nerve center of Britain's chain of seven atomic plants—were not affected.

The union is seeking an $1.54 a week pay hike for its 45,000 members, who now average about $25.80 a week.

Statue Of Liberty Belongs To New York, Judge Rules

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Ere you pass the Statue of Liberty again, stranger, heave a sigh for the feeble little colony known as New Jersey. The statue would have been hers, it seems, but for that old bully, New York.

"Bedloe's Island is within the territorial boundaries of the city and state of New York."

The touchy question was raised anew last December by Mrs. Evelyn Hill, who runs a souvenir and food concession on Bedloe's Island. She got nicked for $2,802 in New York sales and business taxes.

Mrs. Hill sought her money back, claiming Bedloe's Island is in New Jersey and that New York had no right to tax her.

But Justice Corcoran ruled:

"The taxes were properly collected."

But Justice Corcoran dug back into history to trace the dispute over what state has claim to the island. Attempts to settle the dispute began as long ago as 1826 — 60 years before Miss Liberty arrived from France.

Justice Corcoran came upon an interesting complaint lodged by New Jersey in 1829.

"In it," the court said, "New Jersey alleged that in Colonial times New York had 'wrongfully and forcibly possessed herself of the said island called Staten Island and the other small islands in the dividing waters between the two states' and that New Jersey was a 'feeble colony, and under a proprietary government and could pose no effectual resistance to the encroachment of the state of New York.'"

Demos Declare Ike Isn't 'Soft' On Red Probes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee said today President Eisenhower has not been "soft" on investigation of Communists in government, despite what it termed "insinuations" of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) and others.

The committee added, however, that the new GOP administration "cannot claim a single conviction of a Communist for which the investigation was not initiated by the Democratic administration in the first place."

It said the Communist party in this country "has been wrecked by the internal security system fathered by Democratic administrations."

The committee's assertion injected a new twist into the running battle between Atty. Gen. Brownell and former President Truman on the question of who lowered the boom on the Communists.

Brownell last night hit back at Truman's recent statement that the Eisenhower administration had failed to jail any Reds. The attorney general said in a radio broadcast that since taking office on Jan. 20, 1953, the Republican administration has:

Convicted 17 Communist party leaders; indicted 20 additional Red leaders who will be tried this spring; caught five top Communists who were fugitives from justice and sent them to jail; indicted 12 Red party leaders for making false statements; brought 12 Communist front groups before the Subversive Activities Control Board, and deported 714 subversive aliens from the United States.

There was no immediate comment from Brownell on the Democratic Committee's assertion.

The committee dealt with the Communist issue in a question-and-answer style article in the February issue of the Democratic Digest, its official publication. It said:

"President Eisenhower, a great soldier and sincere patriot, is as dedicated as Harry Truman and Franklin D. Roosevelt were to the defense of America and the defeat of communism. He is now being assailed in his own party by the same forces which sought, for narrow partisan and personal reasons, to discredit the Roosevelt and Truman security measures."

U. S. Planes, Troops Join In Avalanche Relief Work

Four-Nation Death Toll Reaches 145

VIENNA, Austria, Jan. 14 (AP)—The U. S. and Swiss Air Forces threw in more planes today to help rescuers from six nations care for the injured and find still-buried victims of Austria's killer avalanches, which have claimed at least 113 lives.

American and French occupation troops pitched in to help the mercy teams in their race against death. But hope was almost abandoned for 23 persons lost in three snow-choked Austrian valleys.

The over-all toll from the smothering snow masses that slid down from Alpine slopes in Austria, Germany, Italy and Switzerland stood at 145.

Among these were two little Italian girls whose bodies were dug from the snow near northern Trento. The Swiss Red Cross announced 24 persons had perished in Switzerland since Monday. Six died in West Germany.

The main rescue efforts centered in Austria. U. S. Army medics helped care for the injured while GIs joined forces with French mountain troops to help search for the missing.

In one stricken area 115 American soldiers helped beat a path through the drifts to isolated homes where children were known to live.

In another spot a U. S. medical detachment sent a litter-bearing jeep to remove an ailing Austrian girl from a snowbound train.

Doctors doubted that those missing could be as lucky as a 70-year-old woman found alive today after 57 hours under the snow, and a man dug out after 64 hours under the ruins of three houses that had piled atop each other.

It means the death toll may well reach 136—surpassing the 1951 avalanches in which 124 lost their lives.

From all Western Europe came offers of help.

Gen. William H. Tunner, commander of U. S. Air Forces in Europe, ordered "maximum assistance." Two American helicopters brought doctors, supplies and dog teams during the day. Six other helicopters and six other planes were standing by at Friedrichshafen, on the Swiss-German-Austrian frontier.

The Swiss army sent a second helicopter to join one which Austrian authorities said had performed heroic work in bringing out injured from the Walser Valley—Austria's 'vale of death."

In this valley alone, 64 persons died and more than 100 were rescued, many of them badly injured.

Hunter In Line For NCPT Post

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP)—Joseph A. Hunter, president of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers, has been nominated for a regional vice-presidency in the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

His name, selected by the national nominating committee at Chicago, will go before the National Congress convention in Atlantic City next May 24-26.

Hunter was nominated to represent Region Two, which includes Maryland, the District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Hunter is now serving the final year of his three-year term as president of the Maryland Congress and his successor will be named at the next state convention next November.

He works in the Highlandtown branch of the Baltimore post office and lives in Dundalk, a Baltimore County suburb on the southeast edge of the city. He and his wife have been active in P-TA work there since their daughter started in elementary school. She graduated from high school last Spring.

May Divorce Heiress

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—The New York World-Telegram & Sun said today sportsman Fred Hammer plans to seek a divorce from shipping heiress Andrea Luckenbach Hammer.

"I'm going to sue on grounds of desertion," the newspaper quoted Hammer, "because, after all, she deserted me."

Ike-Bricker Compromise Sought By GOP Senators

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today Senate GOP leaders will continue to press for a compromise on conflicting views between President Eisenhower and Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) on the issue of Bricker's proposed amendment to the Constitution.

The amendment, if approved by Congress and ratified by three-fourths of the states, would curb the treaty-making powers of the President.

Commenting on the rift between Bricker's views and those of the President, Knowland told newsmen:

"It is the unanimous judgment of the entire Republican leadership of the Senate that further efforts should be made to work out an area of agreement."

Knowland said he spoke for himself and Sens. Ferguson (R-Mich), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee; Millikin, chairman of the Republican Conference of Senators; Bridges (R-NH), Senate President pro tem; and Saltonstall (R-Mass), Senate whip.

Differences between Eisenhower and Bricker were pointed up yesterday when the President commented on aspects of the Bricker amendment at his news conference, and a few hours later Bricker issued a statement saying "I disagree."

Among other things, Eisenhower said he would gladly agree to go along with Congress in declaring that any treaty or international agreement contravening the U. S. Constitution is null and void.

But the President said he would never agree to return to the system in effect before the Constitution was adopted when each of the states had the right to repudiate a treaty. The Constitution provides that the President "shall have power . . . to make treaties" with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Woman Tortured, Killed In Motel

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 14 (AP)—A story of sadistic torture and death unraveled today as police searched for the "nice guy" who took a pretty housewife on a share-the-expense tour that came to a bloody ending in a motel room here.

The horribly mutilated body of Elizabeth Jeanne Henderson, 31-year-old wife of a Compton, Calif., upholsterer, was found in the motel yesterday. Police filed a murder charge against her traveling companion, Otto A. Loel, 47, of Syracuse, N.Y.

Detective Chief Wayne Harbolt called the killing "the work of a sadist or a sex maniac." Investigators said several burn marks, apparently from cigarettes, were found on her arms.

They said Mrs. Henderson, who went on the cross-country motor trip with the blessing of her husband, Cameron Henderson, may have been tortured over a period of several days.

In Compton, Henderson said Loel "seemed to be a nice guy to me and a lot of our friends here knew him very well."

The cabin showed signs of bitter struggle. Mrs. Henderson was stabbed and beaten to death, officers said.

Frederick By-Pass Meeting Postponed

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP)—Bad weather forced postponement of a meeting representatives of the State Roads Commission had scheduled in Frederick tonight with city authorities there on details of the high-speed by-pass to be built around the city.

The roads commission hopes to let contracts for the first section of the eight-million dollar by-pass before the end of 1954.

Byrd Names Huston

Itinerants Met By Police; Built Fire On Ammo Train

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Jan. 14 (AP)—Four itinerants climbed into a Katy railroad boxcar at Parsons, Kan., taking coal and kindling with them so they could build a fire and keep warm on the ride to Kansas City.

At Paola, a 100-miles along, a member of the train crew invited them to make the rest of the trip in the caboose.

Never had the itinerants experienced such solicitude from trainmen and they were skeptical, but the prospect of the caboose's warmth and comfort was too much. They accepted.

The train arrived here early today. Awaiting it were two police cars.

The itinerants—James H. Harmon, 34, and Elvid N. Adkins, 30, of Slaughters, Ky.; Harley P. Limes, 37, Moses Lake, Wash.; and Richard M. Brents, 29, Portland, Ore.—were arrested and charged with vagrancy and trespass. All expressed hurt surprise at the railroad's marked change in attitude. Then policeman Edward Laundy Jr., spoke up:

"Know what kind of a train that was?"

"A freight train, a Katy freight," Harmon answered.

Bill Proposes Poll Of Workers Before Walkout

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Sen. Purtell (R-Conn) proposed today that the Taft-Hartley Act be amended to provide for a poll of workers before a strike occurs.

His legislation would make any strike an "unprotected activity" unless:

1. The Federal Mediation Service formally announced no settlement was in sight.

2. A majority of those voting in a government-conducted poll went on record in favor of a strike.

If the strike were an "unprotected activity," the employer could fire the workers and they would have no recourse to the National Labor Relations Board.

The Purtell amendment was expected to attract substantial support from business and management.

Purtell, a member of the Senate Labor Committee, is a past official of the Connecticut Association of Manufacturers. His bill differs sharply from one already introduced by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), committee chairman. Smith's bill, reportedly drawn up at the White House, provides for balloting after a strike is in effect.

Purtell told the Senate in a brief speech:

"I strongly feel that a strike ballot is necessary. Such a ballot should be taken prior to a strike not subsequent to it."

Labor union leaders have attacked the principle of a government-conducted strike poll as an attempted union-busting device. Five of the six Democrats on the Labor Committee have registered vigorous protests against the idea, first recommended by President Eisenhower in his 14-point Taft-Hartley revision program sent to Congress earlier this week.

One provision in Purtell's bill seemed certain to fall under particular attack from union leaders. This is the section which would prohibit the holding of a strike vote until the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service "has certified to the National Labor Relations Board that a threatened strike cannot be settled by mediation."

This would appear to give the mediation service a strike-prevention power far in excess of what it now possesses.

Union Will Appeal Jobless Pay Denial

HAGERSTOWN, Jan. 14 (AP)—The CIO Textile Workers Union said today it will appeal a ruling by the Hagerstown office of the Department of Employment Security denying jobless pay to strikers at the Federal Silk Mill.

Pat Ellington, TWU international representative, said counsel had been employed to take the appeal to the Employment Security Board in Baltimore.

About 100 employes of the mill at Williamsport made application for unemployment benefits, contending their idleness no longer is due to strike action.

They say their absence from work is no longer voluntary because mill owner David Goetz: 1. Announced last month that strikers who didn't return to work Jan. 4 would be fired, and 2. Closed the plant Jan. 8.

State To Open Second Truck Weigh Station

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP) — The State Roads Commission will dedicate and put into operation next Tuesday an almost automatic scale station to weigh big trucks on U. S. 40 just north of the Susquehanna River Bridge at Havre de Grace.

The weighing station in the northeast corner of the state is the second of five which the roads commission plans to install.

The first was opened in November on U. S. 301 near Upper Marlboro. The other three are planned for U. S. 50 at Queenstown, just east of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge; U. S. 13 north of Salisbury, and U. S. 40 at Pine Orchard west of Baltimore.

Strike Hits Third British Atom Plant

LONDON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Communist-dominated Electrical Trade Union called a flash strike at a key atomic project today—third such plant hit this week in the union's pin-prick labor war for higher wages.

Two hundred men walked out of the Aldermaston plant in Berkshire, southern England, to start the fourth day of 24-hour "guerrilla" strikes at key construction works. Electricians at nearby Harwell—nerve center of Britain's chain of seven atomic plants—were not affected.

The union is seeking an $1.54 a week pay hike for its 45,000 members, who now average about $25.80 a week.

Statue Of Liberty Belongs To New York, Judge Rules

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Ere you pass the Statue of Liberty again, stranger, heave a sigh for the feeble little colony known as New Jersey. The statue would have been hers, it seems, but for that old bully, New York.

"Bedloe's Island is within the territorial boundaries of the city and state of New York."

The touchy question was raised anew last December by Mrs. Evelyn Hill, who runs a souvenir and food concession on Bedloe's Island. She got nicked for $2,802 in New York sales and business taxes.

Mrs. Hill sought her money back, claiming Bedloe's Island is in New Jersey and that New York had no right to tax her.

But Justice Corcoran ruled:

"The taxes were properly collected."

Actually, the island that the statue made famous is controlled by the U. S. Department of the Interior.

But Justice Corcoran dug back into history to trace the dispute over what state has claim to the island. Attempts to settle the dispute began as long ago as 1826 — 60 years before Miss Liberty arrived from France.

Justice Corcoran came upon an interesting complaint lodged by New Jersey in 1829.

"In it," the court said, "New Jersey alleged that in Colonial times New York had 'wrongfully and forcibly possessed herself of the said island called Staten Island and the other small islands in the dividing waters between the two states' and that New Jersey was a 'feeble colony, and under a proprietary government and could pose no effectual resistance to the encroachment of the state of New York.' "

Demos Declare Ike Isn't 'Soft' On Red Probes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee said today President Eisenhower has not been "soft" on investigation of Communists in government, despite what it termed "insinuations" of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) and others.

The committee added, however, that the new GOP administration "cannot claim a single conviction of a Communist for which the investigation was not initiated by the Democratic administration in the first place."

It said the Communist party in this country "has been wrecked by the internal security system fathered by Democratic administrations."

The committee's assertion injected a new twist into the running battle between Atty. Gen. Brownell and former President Truman on the question of who lowered the boom on the Communists.

Brownell last night hit back at Truman's recent statement that the Eisenhower administration had failed to jail any Reds. The attorney general said in a radio broadcast that since taking office on Jan. 20, 1953, the Republican administration has:

Convicted 17 Communist party leaders; indicted 20 additional Red leaders who will be tried this spring; caught five top Communists who were fugitives from justice and sent them to jail; indicted 12 Red party leaders for making false statements; brought 12 Communist front groups before the Subversive Activities Control Board, and deported 714 subversive aliens from the United States.

There was no immediate comment from Brownell on the Democratic Committee's assertion.

The committee dealt with the Communist issue in a question-and-answer style article in the February issue of the Democratic Digest, its official publication. It said:

"President Eisenhower, a great soldier and sincere patriot, is as dedicated as Harry Truman and Franklin D. Roosevelt were to the defense of America and the defeat of communism. He is now being assailed in his own party by the same forces which sought, for narrow partisan and personal reasons, to discredit the Roosevelt and Truman security measures."

Southern Baptists On Move Toward More Consolidated Denominational Organization

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Southern Baptists are taking a look at themselves.

Generally they're pleased by what they see, denominational leaders say, but they're also in for some surprises.

It's the first time they've had such a full-length view.

The mirror was held up to them this week by Dr. William Wright Barnes, professor of history at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex.

His findings point up some widely unnoticed developments, such as:

1. That intensely independent Southern Baptist churches have moved steadily toward more consolidated denominational organization.

2. That only after a sharp struggle did they throw off a movement for "high church" exclusiveness—that held Baptist churches were the only valid, true churches.

3. That the denomination, once hesitant to speak out on community questions for fear of detracting from emphasis on individual redemption, has increasingly recognized the need to project the Gospel into "every individual and social problem."

4. That Baptist churches, in their mistrust of ecclesiastical authority once were even suspicious of having denominational seminaries to train ministers. (The denomination's five major seminaries now enroll nearly 1,500.)

5. That Southern Baptists, with continuing consistency, have refused bids to join any of the rising interdenominational bodies, either on the national or world scene—though some have favored it.

The historical study of the Southern Baptist Convention supervised by a five-man commission and published by the convention Broadman Press in Nashville, Tenn., is the first of its scope.

It traces the story of the denomination from its beginnings 108 years ago, through a maze of controversies, setbacks and growth to its present stature as the nation's fastest-growing major religious body.

Southern Baptists now number nearly eight million, and since 1950 have been adding members at the rate of more than a quarter million a year.

The new study, said Porter Routh, convention executive secretary, "can play an important role in introducing Southern Baptists to themselves."

"A really monumental work," said the Rev. J. W. Storer of Tulsa, Okla., convention president.

The book develops in detail the theme that it was not only the slavery issue that split Southern from Northern Baptists—but also a dispute, based on a misunderstanding, over home missionary activity.

Southern churches complained steadily, until the final break in 1845, that the South was being "almost totally neglected" in assignment of missionaries.

The complaints were "honestly made but were based on inadequate information," writes Barnes, but "the effect on Southern minds was the same as if the charges had been true."

It was, however, the abolitionist sentiment in the North, he says, that precipitated the final split—and caused Southerners from 11 states to form a separate convention at Augusta, Ga., in May 1845.

Afterward, delegates adjourned to Augusta's First Baptist Church "for the Lord's Supper."

Reunion efforts after the Civil War failed. Comments Barnes: "The moderate men, North and South, were outnumbered by the extremists." Attempts to rejoin the two branches have continued intermittently until today.

The study deals only briefly with the denomination's aloofness from the National Council of Churches. Southern Baptists, and the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church denominations not in the council.

The Southern Baptist idea, says Barnes, is that their "churches cannot be bound by the convention to cooperate or not cooperate with any interdenominational organization, since the churches themselves are independent bodies."

That idea harkens back to the struggle over "high churchism" or "landmarkism" that permeated the Southern convention until after the turn of the century, and still influences many of its churches.

The movement held that only Baptist churches are real New Testament churches — that all others are human societies—and that religious fellowship with other denominations thus is unacceptable.

This position resembled, in some ways, that of the Roman Catholics, although Southern Baptists have always been critical of Catholic authoritarianism.)

For Southern Baptist "landmark" believers, it was the local, individual church that had "ultimate authority" over proclamation of the Gospel—rather than any authoritarianism.

This view, Barnes said, led to a challenge of the authority of the Southern Baptist Foreign Missions Board, and finally boiled to a showdown in the 1905 convention, when many Landmarkers, mostly in Arkansas and Texas, withdrew.

"The agitation left a deposit in the thinking and organization of Southern Baptists," Barnes said.

The book probes many other facets of the denomination, the rise of women's activities and their final admission to the convention, the development of training programs, publishing, schools, hospitals and missions.

Dr. Duke K. McCall, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, said it "will undoubtedly be the most influential book to appear within Southern Baptist circles."

Elks' Ruler Arraigned On Gambling Charge

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP)—George O. Krill, exalted ruler of the Baltimore Lodge of Elks, was arraigned in Central Police Court today on charges of maintaining slot machines in the club rooms.

Two other officers of the club, including Krill's father, George W. Krill, were summoned after a police raid on the club late yesterday.

Vice Squad Chief Lt. Joseph Byrne said charges were placed against the Krills and Edward R. Young, 47, secretary of the club, because they were listed as licensees.

Trip Geography Believed Factor In Auto Accidents

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP) — Reaching a town earlier than you thought you would get there might lead you to an automobile accident, a trio of California highway engineers said today.

It's all part of a new concept the engineers reported to the 33rd annual meeting of the Highway Research Board. They called the concept "the psychology of trip geography."

Noting that many accidents result from driving too fast, the engineers observed, however, that mere speed is rarely the cause of a highway mishap.

Instead, they listed a combination of factors including the nature of the terrain driven over and such psychological odds and ends as "distances between large cities, origin and destination points, sightseeing points, desirable eating and overnight accommodations, filling stations . . ."

Also included in the concept of trip geography are such accident causes as drinking, fatigue, mountain sickness and road hypnosis, which comes about when you drive for a long period over a monotonous stretch of highway.

The originators of the concept are Heinz Haber, Robert Brenner and Slade Hulbert of the Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering of the University of California at Los Angeles.

They said they did no actual experimental work in drafting their theory but that they made a detailed study of the 16-mile stretch on U.S. 66 from the New Mexico-Arizona border to Albuquuerque, N.M., where in 1952 there were 900 major accidents resulting in about 400 deaths.

That stretch of road is well up in the mountains at 6,500 feet above sea level but its countryside is monotonously level.

To show how trip geography could bring on an accident, the Californians offered this illustration:

A driver leaves Los Angeles for Albuquerque early in the morning planning to spend the night at Flagstaff, Ariz., 450 miles away. But he gets to Flagstaff earlier than he had planned and decides to drive on to Albuquerque. Between Flagstaff and Albuquerque he cracks up.

The California engineers offered this possible explanation:

"The driver was in an overfatigued state and, hence, was unable to cope with or respond successfully to some minor condition on the road. This overfatigue could have been the direct result of his having underestimated the time and driving effort necessary for him to reach his newly set goal, Albuquerque."

They suggested a network of signs along the nation's highways, cautioning the motorist to watch out for fatigue, hypnosis and wrong estimates.

Southern Baptists On Move Toward More Consolidated Denominational Organization

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Southern Baptists are taking a look at themselves.

Generally they're pleased by what they see, denominational leaders say, but they're also in for some surprises.

It's the first time they've had such a full-length view.

The mirror was held up to them this week by Dr. William Wright Barnes, professor of history at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex.

His findings point up some widely unnoticed developments, such as:

1. That intensely independent Southern Baptist churches have moved steadily toward more consolidated denominational organization.

2. That only after a sharp struggle did they throw off a movement for "high church" exclusiveness—that held Baptist churches were the only valid, true churches.

3. That the denomination, once hesitant to speak out on community questions for fear of detracting from emphasis on individual redemption, has increasingly recognized the need to project the Gospel into "every individual and social problem."

4. That Baptist churches, in their mistrust of ecclesiastical authority once were even suspicious of having denominational seminaries to train ministers. (The denomination's five major seminaries now enroll nearly 1,500.)

5. That Southern Baptists, with continuing consistency, have refused bids to join any of the rising interdenominational bodies, either on the national or world scene—though some have favored it.

The historical study of the Southern Baptist Convention supervised by a five-man commission and published by the convention Broadman Press in Nashville, Tenn., is the first of its scope.

It traces the story of the denomination from its beginnings 108 years ago, through a maze of controversies, setbacks and growth to its present stature as the nation's fastest-growing major religious body.

Southern Baptists now number nearly eight million, and since 1950 have been adding members at the rate of more than a quarter million a year.

The new study, said Porter Routh, convention executive secretary, "can play an important role in introducing Southern Baptists to themselves."

"A really monumental work," said the Rev. J. W. Storer of Tulsa, Okla., convention president.

The book develops in detail the theme that it was not only the slavery issue that split Southern from Northern Baptists—but also a dispute, based on a misunderstanding, over home missionary activity.

Southern churches complained steadily, until the final break in 1845, that the South was being "almost totally neglected" in assignment of missionaries.

The complaints were "honestly made but were based on inadequate information," writes Barnes, but "the effect on Southern minds was the same as if the charges had been true."

It was, however, the abolitionist sentiment in the North, he says, that precipitated the final split—and caused Southerners from 11 states to form a separate convention at Augusta, Ga., in May 1845.

Afterward, delegates adjourned to Augusta's First Baptist Church "for the Lord's Supper."

Reunion efforts after the Civil War failed. Comments Barnes: "The moderate men, North and South, were outnumbered by the extremists." Attempts to rejoin the two branches have continued intermittently until today.

The study deals only briefly with the denomination's aloofness from the National Council of Churches. Southern Baptists, and the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church denominations not in the council.

The Southern Baptist idea, says Barnes, is that their "churches cannot be bound by the convention to cooperate or not cooperate with any interdenominational organization, since the churches themselves are independent bodies."

That idea harkens back to the struggle over "high churchism" or "landmarkism" that permeated the Southern convention until after the turn of the century, and still influences many of its churches.

The movement held that only Baptist churches are real New Testament churches — that all others are human societies—and that religious fellowship with other denominations thus is unacceptable.

This position resembled, in some ways, that of the Roman Catholics, although Southern Baptists have always been critical of Catholic authoritarianism.)

For Southern Baptist "landmark" believers, it was the local, individual church that had "ultimate authority" over proclamation of the Gospel—rather than any authoritarianism.

This view, Barnes said, led to a challenge of the authority of the Southern Baptist Foreign Missions Board, and finally boiled to a showdown in the 1905 convention, when many Landmarkers, mostly in Arkansas and Texas, withdrew.

"The agitation left a deposit in the thinking and organization of Southern Baptists," Barnes said.

The book probes many other facets of the denomination, the rise of women's activities and their final admission to the convention, the development of training programs, publishing, schools, hospitals and missions.

Dr. Duke K. McCall, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, said it "will undoubtedly be the most influential book to appear within Southern Baptist circles."

Elks' Ruler Arraigned On Gambling Charge

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP)—George O. Krill, exalted ruler of the Baltimore Lodge of Elks, was arraigned in Central Police Court today on charges of maintaining slot machines in the club rooms.

Two other officers of the club, including Krill's father, George W. Krill, were summoned after a police raid on the club late yesterday.

Vice Squad Chief Lt. Joseph Byrne said charges were placed against the Krills and Edward R. Young, 47, secretary of the club, because they were listed as licensees.

Trip Geography Believed Factor In Auto Accidents

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP) — Reaching a town earlier than you thought you would get there might lead you to an automobile accident, a trio of California highway engineers said today.

It's all part of a new concept the engineers reported to the 33rd annual meeting of the Highway Research Board. They called the concept "the psychology of trip geography."

Noting that many accidents result from driving too fast, the engineers observed, however, that mere speed is rarely the cause of a highway mishap.

Instead, they listed a combination of factors including the nature of the terrain driven over and such psychological odds and ends as "distances between large cities, origin and destination points, sightseeing points, desirable eating and overnight accommodations, filling stations . . ."

Also included in the concept of trip geography are such accident causes as drinking, fatigue, mountain sickness and road hypnosis, which comes about when you drive for a long period over a monotonous stretch of highway.

The originators of the concept are Heinz Haber, Robert Brenner and Slade Hulbert of the Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering of the University of California at Los Angeles.

They said they did no actual experimental work in drafting their theory but that they made a detailed study of the 16-mile stretch on U.S. 66 from the New Mexico-Arizona border to Albuquerque, N.M., where in 1952 there were 900 major accidents resulting in about 400 deaths.

That stretch of road is well up in the mountains at 6,500 feet above sea level but its countryside is monotonously level.

To show how trip geography could bring on an accident, the Californians offered this illustration:

A driver leaves Los Angeles for Albuquerque early in the morning planning to spend the night at Flagstaff, Ariz., 450 miles away. But he gets to Flagstaff earlier than he had planned and decides to drive on to Albuquerque. Between Flagstaff and Albuquerque he cracks up.

The California engineers offered this possible explanation:

"The driver was in an overfatigued state and, hence, was unable to cope with or respond successfully to some minor condition on the road. This overfatigue could have been the direct result of his having underestimated the time and driving effort necessary for him to reach his newly set goal, Albuquerque."

They suggested a network of signs along the nation's highways, cautioning the motorist to watch out for fatigue, hypnosis and wrong estimates.

The Law And Harry Bridges

The government is proceeding "as quickly as possible," according to Deputy Attorney General Olney, to bring a civil action to revoke the citizenship of Harry R. Bridges, West Coast labor leader. A civil action had been filed in 1949, at the same time criminal charges had been brought against Bridges.

Bridges was convicted in April 1950 of perjury and conspiracy in obtaining citizenship. Thereupon the government moved promptly to strip him of citizenship. On June 20, 1950, a federal judge in San Francisco ruled Bridges a "legal alien."

But the 1950 conviction was overruled by the U. S. Supreme Court by a 4 to 3 vote on June 15, 1953. In a decision written by Justice Burton, with Justices Black, Frankfurter and Douglas joining, the court held that the indictment against Bridges had "come too late to be effective."

The finding in favor of Bridges was based solely on the ground that the statute of limitations had run out. The government had contended that the Wartime Suspension of Limitations Act had superseded the general three-year statute of limitations. But Justice Burton reasoned that the wartime suspension "applies to offenses involving the defrauding of the United States or any agency thereof, whether by conspiracy or not, and in any manner, but only where the fraud is of a pecuniary nature or at least of a nature concerning property."

Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Minton, dissenting, supported the government view that the wartime act had superceded the general limitation statute. Justices Jackson and Clark, former attorneys general, took no part in the case.

The 1949 criminal case was based on the allegation that Bridges and two others had conspired to defraud the United States by impairing, obstructing and defeating the naturalization laws by means of fraudulent petition, and also that Bridges had falsely testified that he was not a Communist when he applied for citizenship in 1945.

The Supreme Court's ruling barred the denaturalization proceeding based on the criminal indictment and voided a five-year prison sentence Bridges had received. The government now holds that a civil action based on charges of obtaining naturalization by fraud is not affected by the statute of limitations.

Bridges had obtained citizenship on September 17, 1945. He had applied three months earlier. This was shortly after the U. S. Supreme Court, on June 18, 1945, had ruled, 5-3, that a government deportation order for Bridges was illegal.

The majority decision in 1945 was based on the theory that deportation is a penalty, and that meticulous care had not been used in obtaining evidence against Bridges. The court noted that unsworn, unsigned statements had been used to prove Bridges membership in the Communist party.

Efforts to deport Bridges, who entered the United States in 1920, date back to the San Francisco general strike of 1934. A Supreme Court decision in another case in April 1939 had the effect of temporarily halting deportation proceedings against him.

Split Personality TV

As if there weren't enough cases of split personalities being instrumental in splitting families and raising hob in general, comes announcement now of a split personality TV set. There is no better way to describe it.

Two programs can be superimposed on the single screen, each with its own sound. Two viewers, sitting at angle to the set, can pick up the one program or the other visually by looking through a polaroid screen. Earphones carry the sound. The viewer with a special screen or earphones would see a scrambled mess and hear nothing.

From a technical standpoint this development shows the lightning forward pace which characterizes this infant industry. Who can say that it will not be possible to view many programs at one and the same time, with customers peering at the screen through polaroid glasses? Perhaps such advances would be more applicable to military and industrial use than entertainment in the home.

Among the many purported blessings which the new medium has conferred on the American way of life is the mortar it has furnished to hold the family unit together. Undoubtedly this has been true, although television watching patterns now indicate that in the "one-set" family the youngsters do the early looking and the parents the later.

Once husband and wife get lost in separate entertainment worlds of their own, which is entirely possible with this schizophrenic electronic system, there may be readjustments to make when they are forced to reality and start meeting the multitudinous problems of everyday living as a team again.

H-Bombs And Backbones

If a series of winter test-shots with new atomic weapons were ready to go, this would be the best possible time to announce them. This may have been the thinking behind the announcement by the Atomic Energy Commission that weapons tests "in all categories" would be made, in February, at the atomic proving area in the Marshall Islands.

The AEC announcement carefully spells out the fact that only American observers will be on hand to witness the tests and it is quite reasonable to speculate that another H-bomb, or another hydrogen weapon "device," such as was exploded in the Pacific in 1952, may be evaluated.

Aside from the technical aspects of the tests, the news that we are about to try an entirely new family of weapons is a psychological stroke that falls at the right moment, a point that was doubtless taken into consideration by top men in the administration.

With the approach of the Big Four conference of foreign ministers in Berlin, for example, the top Russian military spokesman in the city has released a statement which claimed that the Russians were entering the parley "from a position of strength." He added that the Russians were equipped to overrun Europe if war broke out and could attack enemy home fronts from the air.

It is this sort of talk that always sends shivers down the backs of European governments, generally bringing on an accute attack of a now-familiar psychosis that takes the attitude: Why resist? The Russians are only minutes away by air! Playing on these fears has netted the Russians many advantages in the years since 1946.

The new AEC announcement should provide more starch for European backbones.

Factors In Sterility

Seven out of eight American married couples are able to produce offspring. The eighth offers a fertility problem that may be so simple it is solved by a word of advice or so complex that months of examinations and research are required. Both partners stand an equal chance of being to blame in contrast to the old belief that the woman was at fault.

How long should a childless couple wait before consulting the family physician about the possibility of being sterile? Two years is the accepted period altho some authorities believe that there is little sense in waiting longer than a year. They base their conclusion on the observation that 90 per cent of married couples are able to conceive by the end of the first year if they have not tried to avoid conception. Under the same conditions 80 per cent achieve pregnancy within six months.

Most infertility studies begin with the wife because she is the one who prefers to consult the family physician. However, it is better that both go because they must be questioned about constitutional diseases such as diabetes, tuberculosis, anemia, syphilis, and other conditions that interfere with conception. The psychologic aspects also are considered because marital conflicts and nervous disorders influence the glandular system. Obesity, malnutrition, and disturbances of the thyroid, pituitary, adrenal, and sex glands also are causes of infertility and must be considered. The husband should be studied first because the male factor is the easier to investigate. In some instances minor disorders are found and when corrected pregnancy follows. If the husband is found to be normal, his wife is examined. There are several diagnostic tests to determine whether the uterus and tubes are functioning properly. It may be necessary to make daily temperature graphs covering several menstrual cycles to determine when the period of maximum fertility exists.

When it is learned that absolute sterility exists there is nothing to do and the couple may want to adopt children. This is why fertility studies should be made early and not postponed until middle age. If examination discloses there is a chance for conception, several remedies are available. Formerly only 10 to 15 per cent became pregnant after treatment; now three times this number are helped. Going thru tests, for example, enables 10 per cent of the women to become fertile because these procedures open up the tubal passageways. Thyroid tablets are useful when the metabolism is low; in such instances conception occurs in more than 25 per cent. Other glandular products are employed also when ther are signs of hormone deficiency. Should pelvic abnormalities exist, surgery may be necessary to remove a uterine fibroid or polyp, correct the position of a displaced uterus, or dilate the opening to the cervix. In others there are adhesions to eliminate. A few may need psychotherapy in which maladjustment, anxiety, and frustration are corrected.

Justice Department Cracks Down On "Untouchable" Pan American Airways; PAA Considered Most Potent Political Airline In U. S. A.

WASHINGTON—The Eisenhower administration almost scared the shirt off big business the other day.

It did so when the Justice Department showed its teeth on antitrust prosecutions in a more glowering manner than Thurman Arnold and Franklin D. Roosevelt. What it did was bring suit against Pan American Airways, long considered the sacred cow of both Republicans and Democrats.

A few weeks ago Sam Pryor, vice president of Pan American in charge of Washington lobbying, spoke with confidence about the Eisenhower administration.

"Things have changed in Washington," he said happily. "We don't have to take all that guff we used to take. And we're not going to tolerate it."

Sam had reason to be happy and confident. In the first place, he was long a member of the Republican National Committee from Connecticut, a top manager of Wendell Willkie, and a generous money-raiser for the Republicans. So even though his friend and wire-puller for Pan American, Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine, had been defeated, Sam had every reason to expect well of the Eisenhowerites.

He knew that, back in the Hoover administration, Pan American had been able to get Postmaster General Brown to send an amazing and unprecedented instruction to the State Department asking that "all practical assistance be given to Pan American-Grace Airways in preference to any other American company." This was in violation of the age-old ruling that the U. S. Government does not favor any one company abroad at the expense of another.

Even under Democratic administrations, Pan American continued to get just as many favors. Ed Stettinius, brother-in-law of Juan Trippe, Pan American president, was long in the Roosevelt administration and for a time a member of the cabinet. FDR liked both Ed and Juan Trippe and he also liked Pan Am. The latter got the heaviest mail subsidies—and still does. And, when trust-busting Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general, proposed prosecuting Pan American for violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act, he was stopped dead in his tracks.

"If you insist on this," warned Attorney General Robert Jackson, "you'll have to resign."

Arnold backed away for a time, but still made noises about going after Pan American. Shortly thereafter and must to his own surprise, he was abruptly promoted to the U. S. Court of Appeals.

Imagine the surprise of the aviation world, therefore, and particularly Sam Pryor, when the Eisenhower administration this week slapped exactly the same antitrust suit on Pan American that Roosevelt had vetoed. Pan Am with the Grace Steamship Lines and their subsidiary, Panagra, were charged with monopolizing air transportation between the United States and Latin America.

Ironically, the suit came shortly after Robert C. Hill, vice president of Grace, was rewarded by the Eisenhower administration by being made U. S. ambassador to Costa Rica.

NOTE—Latest wisecrack among Washington lawyers: "How soon will Assistant Attorney General Stanley Barnes be promoted to the Supreme Court?" (In addition to Arnold's promotion to the Court of Appeals when he tried to sue Pan Am, Harlan F. Stone, then attorney general, was appointed to the Supreme Court by Calvin Coolidge when he insisted on prosecuting Andy Mellon's Aluminum Corporation of America. Mellon was then secretary of the treasury and a cabinet colleague of Stone's.)

150,000 Auto Thefts

Senate investigators are calling upon the automobile industry to supply the answer to the nation's most common juvenile crime—auto thefts.

The Hendrickson Committee, investigating juvenile delinquency, has found that nearly 150,000 autos are stolen each year, mostly by teen-age kids. If cars could be made tamper-proof, it would help curb this flagrant contribution to delinquency.

As a result, the committee will invite industry spokesmen to explain what is being done to protect automobiles from juvenile "hot wire" specialists. This is the name given to auto thieves who pick the ignition lock, cross certain wires and start the car without a key.

Committee investigators have found that thieves usually break into a car by forcing the side window-vent or picking the outside lock. What is needed, they say, is a side window that can't be smashed or forced, an outside lock that can't be picked and an inside lock on the ignition.

Churchill Irked

Prime Minister Churchill has sent a diplomatic though pointed warning to President Eisenhower that Britain wants to be kept fully informed during the secret Russian-American talks on atomic energy.

Churchill has sent a special message to the White House pointing out that Britain, as an atomic power and ally of the United States, must be consulted every step of the way.

He did not say so, but Churchill is reported to be burned up because Britain has been frozen out of the first stage of the talks. The old British war horse believes Eisenhower and Dulles are doing exactly what they urged him not to do—namely, talk to the Russians in secret.

Eisenhower has now promised the British embassy that they will get a day-by-day fill-in on the talks but, even so, Churchill is still fuming.

Korean Iron Curtain

The Chinese are building an underground Maginot Line of steel and concrete across the 38th Parallel in Korea, which doesn't look good for the unification of that country. Chinese farmers are also pouring into North Korea and settling there permanently.

This has convinced U. S. observers that the Reds do not intend to renew the Korean War, but at the same time will never agree to unification.

U. S. policy will be to accept the stalemate, but the big problem will be to stop Syngman Rhee from renewing the war on his own. If we can hold Rhee back, the 38th Parallel will become a permanent iron curtain frontier between the free world on the south and communism on the north.

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

WASHINGTON — (INS) — This country is going through one of its bloodless revolutions. Changes are being attempted by the Eisenhower administration which, transplanted to Russia, let's say, might mean chaos in the streets as regimes and governmental procedures underwent alteration.

The administration is attempting to revise the basic labor law of the land. It is proposing a counter-revolution to the revolutionary agricultural price support program devised by F. D. R.'s young economists in the 1930's as a means of saving the American farmer.

Eisenhower and his advisers are reshaping the ancient theory that a nation's security rests on its land and sea forces. Ike, an old foot soldier, sees security chiefly in air power and further improvements in atomic and hydrogen weapons which individually can do the work of countless tens of thousands of traditional tools of war.

Elsewhere in Washington we are offering our chief enemy, Soviet Russia, access to all the incredible strides we have made in the field of atomic energy . . . Information which, a short time ago, might have been resulted in the private giver's arrest and trial. Up for consideration by Congress also will be a reduction in the voting age, a reduction of taxes, a re-examination of what we can afford to give to the rest of the world and what we can not afford to give.

Roosevelt's "first 100 days" may have constituted a titanic upheaval in a way of life. What is happening now—if Congress lets it go all the way through—is an upheaval of almost similar force. It seeks to alter, hopefully for the better, that miracle of all time—the fantastically vibrant economy of the U. S.

You can get a lot of double talk in Washington if you inquire why no reporters will be permitted to view and write about the forthcoming tests of the H-bomb and other weapons at Bikini and Eniwetok. At the AEC you're likely to be told that the Defense Department made the rule. At the Pentagon you're told the AEC is the unit that put its foot down.

The inevitable result of this logger-head will be thousands of letters sent home by members of the crew of ships in the neighborhood of the tests, some of them certain to include drawings and a reasonable percentage of them certain to say that the H-bomb was dropped by a flying saucer. These letters, in turn, will be given by proud parents to home-town newspapers, and out of this welter of half-fact and full-fiction will come a distorted public comprehension of the new weapons it is paying for.

It would seem more sensible to take along a few trained newsmen from the various media so that an accurate picture could be brought to the people back home. Seems to me it also would be a good idea to invite Malenkov, Mao, Nehru, and a few other leaders of the opposition and the could-be opposition and let them watch a few of the loudest firecrackers go off.

Security wise, what could they learn from a bunker 30 miles from ground zero? But psychologically, it would be tremendous.

Speaking of the H-bomb, there will be competition in the Air Force for the somewhat dubious privilege of dropping the first one. Present plans call for it to be dropped by a B-36, from 30,000 feet. A free drop, of course, would destroy the bomber and its crew, no matter how fast the getaway after release. So it will be lowered by chutes.

Competition will be among the crews that have done the work at Yucca Flat, Nev., in the past. It is the real hush-hush arm of the Air Force. Nor even SAC, the big branch of airmen assigned to intercontinental A-bombing, seems to know much about this special group.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has begun to give to the nation the sad details about the farm "mess" which his administration inherited from its predecessors.

Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin is reported to have joined a group of other Republicans in saying at a Republican party conference here that the President's abandonment of the 90 per cent parity protection would be a political mistake in the Middle West. But the Wisconsin senator is wrong on this. For he is assuming that the farm voters will react unfavorably without taking into account the side of the story that the President has to tell.

There are other senators who have committed themselves to a rigid system of price supports — Republicans as well as Democrats. But never before has the other side of the controversy been emphasized as Mr. Eisenhower and his aides probably will tell it in the next few months. The farm vote will not be lost to the Republicans when the facts are thoroughly understood. For the farmer is not a radical and, though he favors subsidies, he doesn't like low farm prices. What he dosn't realize is that by subsidizing and encouraging production, the farmer is taxing himself higher and forcing a lower price at the same time.

Decision Is Commendable

Mr. Eisenhower has courageously come to grips with a highly sensitive political problem, and his determination to fight it out in public debate is commendable. The President says each farm crop has its own problems and each requires specific treatment but there are certain fundamentals that apply to all. He declares, first of all, that "food once produced must not be destroyed" and that excessive stocks can be removed from the markets by governmental action.

But, by this, it is not meant that the system which produced the excessive surpluses must be continued, and that's what the champions of the 90 per cent rigid price-support formula are asking the taxpayers to approve.

The President is right when he says that "there should be no wide year-to-year fluctuation in the level of price support" and that "no single program can apply uniformly to the whole farm industry." So far as the basic principle is concerned, however, Mr. Eisenhower properly lines himself up behind the necessity for government price supports on a flexible basis depending on market conditions, "in order to bring needed stability to farm income and farm production."

The present administration has sought advice from all sides and in a non-political way. The conclusions reached after months of study are sound from an economic standpoint. The only thing that stands in the way of their acceptance is political exploitation of the issue by those who, in certain areas, think it is unpopular to do otherwise. That's only because the farmers themselves have not been educated on the facts of the "mess" created. Mr. Eisenhower describes it thus:

"The urgency in this situation may be illustrated by a few basic facts. During the past year, the investment of the Commodity Credit Corporation in farm commodities more than doubled, increasing by about $2,500,000,000. As a result the financial obligations of the corporation are pressing hard against the $6,750,000,000 limitation on its borrowing authority. In order to assure that present price-support commitments on 1953 and 1954 crops will be covered, I shall request the Congress to take early action to restore the corporation's capital losses as of June 30, 1953, and to increase its borrowing authority to $8,500,000,000, effective July 1, 1954.

Flexible System Is Answer

"The government's commodity holdings are enormous. It has investments in more than $2,000,000,000 worth of wheat alone. This includes 440,000,000 bushels owned outright. About 400,000,000 additional bushels are under loan, the greater share of which the government can expect to acquire. This is more than the domestic wheat requirements of the entire nation for a full year.

"The carry-over of vegetable oils may be about 1,500,000,000 pounds, roughly double the carry-over that should normally be maintained."

What makes the situation worse is that consumer demand is at or near a record high level and in some instances products without price supports have done as well in price as some of those with price supports. The solution of the problem is related to the opening up of foreign markets and the removal of rigidity from the government's formula. A flexible system is the natural answer, with no commitment to do more than to sustain the markets from dropping precipitately or from rising too rapidly.

The President advocates the principle of gradualness and a range of from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, which ought to be enough to attain stabilization. The alternative is a continuation of chaos and greater expense to all taxpayers without the lower living costs which increased production normally brings to the consumers. Their votes are also important to either political party.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Red China

Referring to China, in his "State of the Union" message, President Eisenhower said:

". . . We shall continue military and economic aid to the Nationalist Government of China."

The single reference to the subject evoked great applause from the Congress, but only after the message had been carefully read did it become clear that not one word was said about the more critical question on the American policy toward Communist China. Regarding this, President Eisenhower did not say what American policy is.

Referring to South Asia, President Eisenhower said:

"In South Asia, profound changes are taking place in free nations which are demonstrating their ability to progress through democratic methods. They provide an inspiring contrast to the dictatorial methods and backward course of events in Communist China . . ."

This does not answer the question of recognition of Communist China. It is no secret that an effort was made out of Washington to give the impression that Vice President Nixon, after his return from the Far East, favored such recognition. Nixon, realizing what was being done, hit out straight by a total denial of his support for such recognition. He said that he opposed it. Republican Senate Majority Leader William F. Knowland, in a "Meet the Press" discussion last Sunday, most emphatically opposed recognition either by the United States or the United Nations.

The British are employing all their strength to bring about the recognition of Communist China. It is the focus of their diplomacy at this moment. They resent the American resistance to what they regard as an essential trade policy.

A factor in this situation is Arthur H. Dean, our most recent negotiator at Panmunjom and law partner in Sullivan and Cromwell of both John Foster Dulles, secretary of state, and Allen Dulles, head of the CIA.

Dean has gone through a harrowing experience with the Chinese Communists at Panmunjom. Undoubtedly he was sent on this mission because of his close relations to the secretary of state and his ability as a negotiator. He had also been associated with the Institute of Pacific Relations. In a letter to Clayton Lane, executive secretary of the institute, as recently as April 18, 1949, he wrote:

"I realize that you have come into an exceptionally difficult situation, but I think we might go back to the publications of the institute and with the help of Larry Rosinger point out the difficulties our State Department is now facing in attempting to get up a constructive policy for China. I think we might make a very real contribution to the subject if we could state very objectively, but explicitly, problems which we now face in China. I am sure Owen Lattimore would be a great help in this."

In this same letter, he said the following:

"I hope you won't get discouraged. It is tough but I think worth while. You have my complete support but (1) I would not mention the Communist attack in relation to IPR publications, (2) for income tax as well as policy reasons I would not indicate we are engaged in pro- or anti-Communist attacks, (3) I would not indicate you have been brought in, to relieve a bad situation . . . Some way we must solve the Russian problem. It's up to us to find out what makes them tick; why they are what they are; it's not up to use to fight communism. If we try that we have no function; we must expose how it works, what it is, what it does, when it fails."

A man who could in 1949 write, it's not up to us to fight communism," surely should not have been hurt by Chinese Communists But they wore him down. He returned to the United States.

What intellectual and psychological effect this has had upon Dean, I do not know. Varying reports come out of the State Department to the effect that he finds the present situation hopeless because the Chinese Communists are playing for recognition, not for the solution of the Korean question. I have not attempted to confirm these reports because what really matters is whether the State Department, in a justifiably desperate desire to get out of the Korean situation, will finally decide to offer Red China recognition in the hope that thus some progress will be made in the negotiations.

Had President Eisenhower mentioned this subject, the response might have been startling.

The Law And Harry Bridges

The government is proceeding "as quickly as possible," according to Deputy Attorney General Olney, to bring a civil action to revoke the citizenship of Harry R. Bridges, West Coast labor leader. A civil action had been filed in 1949, at the same time criminal charges had been brought against Bridges.

Bridges was convicted in April 1950 of perjury and conspiracy in obtaining citizenship. Thereupon the government moved promptly to strip him of citizenship. On June 20, 1950, a federal judge in San Francisco ruled Bridges a "legal alien."

But the 1950 conviction was overruled by the U. S. Supreme Court by a 4 to 3 vote on June 15, 1953. In a decision written by Justice Burton, with Justices Black, Frankfurter and Douglas joining, the court held that the indictment against Bridges had "come too late to be effective."

The finding in favor of Bridges was based solely on the ground that the statute of limitations had run out. The government had contended that the Wartime Suspension of Limitations Act had superseded the general three-year statute of limitations. But Justice Burton reasoned that the wartime suspension "applies to offenses involving the defrauding of the United States or any agency thereof, whether by conspiracy or not, and in any manner, but only where the fraud is of a pecuniary nature or at least of a nature concerning property."

Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Minton, dissenting, supported the government view that the wartime act had superceded the general limitation statute, Justices Jackson and Clark, former attorneys general, took no part in the case.

The 1949 criminal case was based on the allegation that Bridges and two others had conspired to defraud the United States by impairing, obstructing and defeating the naturalization laws by means of fraudulent petition, and also that Bridges had falsely testified that he was not a Communist when he applied for citizenship in 1945.

The Supreme Court's ruling barred the denaturalization proceeding based on the criminal indictment and voided a five-year prison sentence Bridges had received. The government now holds that a civil action based on charges of obtaining naturalization by fraud is not affected by the statute of limitations.

Bridges had obtained citizenship on September 17, 1945. He had applied three months earlier. This was shortly after the U. S. Supreme Court, on June 18, 1945, had ruled, 5-3, that a government deportation order for Bridges was illegal.

The majority decision in 1945 was based on the theory that deportation is a penalty, and that meticulous care had not been used in obtaining evidence against Bridges. The court noted that unsworn, unsigned statements had been used to prove Bridges membership in the Communist party.

Efforts to deport Bridges, who entered the United States in 1920, date back to the San Francisco general strike of 1934. A Supreme Court decision in another case in April 1939 had the effect of temporarily halting deportation proceedings against him.

Split Personality TV

As if there weren't enough cases of split personalities being instrumental in splitting families and raising hob in general, comes announcement now of a split personality TV set. There is no better way to describe it.

Two programs can be superimposed on the single screen, each with its own sound. Two viewers, sitting at angle to the set, can pick up the one program or the other visually by looking through a polaroid screen. Earphones carry the sound. The viewer with a special screen or earphones would see a scrambled mess and hear nothing.

From a technical standpoint this development shows the lightning forward pace which characterizes this infant industry. Who can say that it will not be possible to view many programs at one and the same time, with customers peering at the screen through polaroid glasses? Perhaps such advances would be more applicable to military and industrial use than entertainment in the home.

Among the many purported blessings which the new medium has conferred on the American way of life is the mortar it has furnished to hold the family unit together. Undoubtedly this has been true, although television watching patterns now indicate that in the "one-set" family the youngsters do the early looking and the parents the later.

Once husband and wife get lost in separate entertainment worlds of their own, which is entirely possible with this schizophrenic electronic system, there may be readjustments to make when they are forced to reality and start meeting the multitudinous problems of everyday living as a team again.

H-Bombs And Backbones

If a series of winter test-shots with new atomic weapons were ready to go, this would be the best possible time to announce them. This may have been the thinking behind the announcement by the Atomic Energy Commission that weapons tests "in all categories" would be made, in February, at the atomic proving area in the Marshall Islands.

The AEC announcement carefully spells out the fact that only American observers will be on hand to witness the tests and it is quite reasonable to speculate that another H-bomb, or another hydrogen weapon "device," such as was exploded in the Pacific in 1952, may be evaluated.

Aside from the technical aspects of the tests, the news that we are about to try an entirely new family of weapons is a psychological stroke that falls at the right moment, a point that was doubtless taken into consideration by top men in the administration.

With the approach of the Big Four conference of foreign ministers in Berlin, for example, the top Russian military spokesman in the city has released a statement which claimed that the Russians were entering the parley "from a position of strength." He added that the Russians were equipped to overrun Europe if war broke out and could attack enemy home fronts from the air.

It is this sort of talk that always sends shivers down the backs of European governments, generally bringing on an accute attack of a now-familiar psychosis that takes the attitude: Why resist? The Russians are only minutes away by air! Playing on these fears has netted the Russians many advantages in the years since 1946.

The new AEC announcement should provide more starch for European backbones.

Factors In Sterility

Seven out of eight American married couples are able to produce offspring. The eighth offers a fertility problem that may be so simple it is solved by a word of advice or so complex that months of examinations and research are required. Both partners stand an equal chance of being to blame in contrast to the old belief that the woman was at fault.

How long should a childless couple wait before consulting the family physician about the possibility of being sterile? Two years is the accepted period altho some authorities believe that there is little sense in waiting longer than a year. They base their conclusion on the observation that 90 per cent of married couples are able to conceive by the end of the first year if they have not tried to avoid conception. Under the same conditions 80 per cent achieve pregnancy within six months.

Most infertility studies begin with the wife because she is the one who prefers to consult the family physician. However, it is better that both go because they must be questioned about constitutional diseases such as diabetes, tuberculosis, anemia, syphilis, and other conditions that interfere with conception. The psychologic aspects also are considered because marital conflicts and nervous disorders influence the glandular system. Obesity, malnutrition, and disturbances of the thyroid, pituitary, adrenal, and sex glands also are causes of infertility and must be considered. The husband should be studied first because the male factor is the easier to investigate. In some instances minor disorders are found and when corrected pregnancy follows. If the husband is found to be normal, his wife is examined. There are several diagnostic tests to determine whether the uterus and tubes are functioning properly. It may be necessary to make daily temperature graphs covering several menstrual cycles to determine when the period of maximum fertility exists.

When it is learned that absolute sterility exists there is nothing to do and the couple may want to adopt children. This is why fertility studies should be made early and not postponed until middle age. If examination discloses there is a chance for conception, several remedies are available. Formerly only 10 to 15 per cent became pregnant after treatment; now three times this number are helped. Going thru tests, for example, enables 10 per cent of the women to become fertile because these procedures open up the tubal passageways. Thyroid tablets are useful when the metabolism is low; in such instances conception occurs in more than 25 per cent. Other glandular products are employed also when ther are signs of hormone deficiency. Should pelvic abnormalities exist, surgery may be necessary to remove a uterine fibroid or polyp, correct the position of a displaced uterus, or dilate the opening to the cervix. In others there are adhesions to eliminate. A few may need psychotherapy in which maladjustment, anxiety, and frustration are corrected.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Justice Department Cracks Down On "Untouchable" Pan American Airways; PAA Considered Most Potent Political Airline In U. S. A.

WASHINGTON—The Eisenhower administration almost scared the shirt off big business the other day.

It did so when the Justice Department showed its teeth on anti-trust prosecutions in a more glowering manner than Thurman Arnold and Franklin D. Roosevelt. What it did was bring suit against Pan American Airways, long considered the sacred cow of both Republicans and Democrats.

A few weeks ago Sam Pryor, vice president of Pan American in charge of Washington lobbying, spoke with confidence about the Eisenhower administration.

"Things have changed in Washington," he said happily. "We don't have to take all that guff we used to take. And we're not going to tolerate it."

Sam had reason to be happy and confident. In the first place, he was long a member of the Republican National Committee from Connecticut, a top manager of Wendell Willkie, and a generous money-raiser for the Republicans. So even though his friend and wire-puller for Pan American, Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine, had been defeated, Sam had every reason to expect well of the Eisenhowerites.

He knew that, back in the Hoover administration, Pan American had been able to get Postmaster General Brown to send an amazing and unprecedented instruction to the State Department asking that "all practical assistance be given to Pan American-Grace Airways in preference to any other American company." This was in violation of the age-old ruling that the U. S. Government does not favor any one company abroad at the expense of another.

Even under Democratic administrations, Pan American continued to get just as many favors. Ed Stettinius, brother-in-law of Juan Trippe, Pan American president, was long in the Roosevelt administration and for a time a member of the cabinet. FDR liked both Ed and Juan Trippe and he also liked Pan Am. The latter got the heaviest mail subsidies—and still does. And, when trust-busting Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general, proposed prosecuting Pan American for violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act, he was stopped dead in his tracks.

"If you insist on this," warned Attorney General Robert Jackson, "you'll have to resign."

Arnold backed away for a time, but still made noises about going after Pan American. Shortly thereafter and must to his own surprise, he was abruptly promoted to the U. S. Court of Appeals.

Imagine the surprise of the aviation world, therefore, and particularly Sam Pryor, when the Eisenhower administration this week slapped exactly the same anti-trust suit on Pan American that Roosevelt had vetoed. Pan Am with the Grace Steamship Lines and their subsidiary, Panagra, were charged with monopolizing air transportation between the United States and Latin America.

Ironically, the suit came shortly after Robert C. Hill, vice president of Grace, was rewarded by the Eisenhower administration by being made U. S. ambassador to Costa Rica.

NOTE—Latest wisecrack among Washington lawyers: "How soon will Assistant Attorney General Stanley Barnes be promoted to the Supreme Court?" (In addition to Arnold's promotion to the Court of Appeals when he tried to sue Pan Am, Harlan F. Stone, then attorney general, was appointed to the Supreme Court by Calvin Coolidge when he insisted on prosecuting Andy Mellon's Aluminum Corporation of America. Mellon was then secretary of the treasury and a cabinet colleague of Stone's.)

150,000 Auto Thefts

Senate investigators are calling upon the automobile industry to supply the answer to the nation's most common juvenile crime—auto thefts.

The Hendrickson Committee, investigating juvenile delinquency, has found that nearly 150,000 autos are stolen each year, mostly by teen-age kids. If cars could be made tamper-proof, it would help curb this flagrant contribution to delinquency.

As a result, the committee will invite industry spokesmen to explain what is being done to protect automobiles from juvenile "hot wire" specialists. This is the name given to auto thieves who pick the ignition lock, cross certain wires and start the car without a key.

Committee investigators have found that thieves usually break into a car by forcing the side window-vent or picking the outside lock. What is needed, they say, is a side window that can't be smashed or forced, an outside lock that can't be picked and an inside lock on the ignition.

Churchill Irked

Prime Minister Churchill has sent a diplomatic though pointed warning to President Eisenhower that Britain wants to be kept fully informed during the secret Russian-American talks on atomic energy.

Churchill has sent a special message to the White House pointing out that Britain, as an atomic power and ally of the United States, must be consulted every step of the way.

He did not say so, but Churchill is reported to be burned up because Britain has been frozen out of the first stage of the talks. The old British war horse believes Eisenhower and Dulles are doing exactly what they urged him not to do—namely, talk to the Russians in secret.

Eisenhower has now promised the British embassy that they will get a day-by-day fill-in on the talks but, even so, Churchill is still fuming.

Korean Iron Curtain

The Chinese are building an underground Maginot Line of steel and concrete across the 38th Parallel in Korea, which doesn't look good for the unification of that country. Chinese farmers are also pouring into North Korea and settling there permanently.

This has convinced U. S. observers that the Reds do not intend to renew the Korean War, but at the same time will never agree to unification.

U. S. policy will be to accept the stalemate, but the big problem will be to stop Syngman Rhee from renewing the war on his own. If we can hold Rhee back, the 38th Parallel will become a permanent iron curtain frontier between the free world on the south and communism on the north.

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

WASHINGTON — (INS) — This country is going through one of its bloodless revolutions. Changes are being attempted by the Eisenhower administration which, transplanted to Russia, let's say, might mean chaos in the streets as regimes and governmental procedures underwent alteration.

The administration is attempting to revise the basic labor law of the land. It is proposing a counter-revolution to the revolutionary agricultural price support program devised by F. D. R.'s young economists in the 1930's as a means of saving the American farmer.

Eisenhower and his advisers are reshaping the ancient theory that a nation's security rests on its land and sea forces. Ike, an old foot soldier, sees security chiefly in air power and further improvements in atomic and hydrogen weapons which individually can do the work of countless tens of thousands of traditional tools of war.

Elsewhere in Washington we are offering our chief enemy, Soviet Russia, access to all the incredible strides we have made in the field of atomic energy . . . Information which, a short time ago, might have been resulted in the private giver's arrest and trial. Up for consideration by Congress also will be a reduction in the voting age, a reduction of taxes, a re-examination of what we can afford to give to the rest of the world and what we can not afford to give.

Roosevelt's "first 100 days" may have constituted a titanic upheaval in a way of life. What is happening now—if Congress lets it go all the way through—is an upheaval of almost similar force. It seeks to alter, hopefully for the better, that miracle of all time—the fantastically vibrant economy of the U. S.

You can get a lot of double talk in Washington if you inquire why no reporters will be permitted to view and write about the forthcoming tests of the H-bomb and other weapons at Bikini and Eniwetok. At the AEC you're likely to be told that the Defense Department made the rule. At the Pentagon you're told the AEC is the unit that put its foot down.

The inevitable result of this logger-head will be thousands of letters sent home by members of the crew of ships in the neighborhood of the tests, some of them certain to include drawings and a reasonable percentage of them certain to say that the H-bomb was dropped by a flying saucer. These letters, in turn, will be given by proud parents to home-town newspapers, and out of this welter of half-fact and full-fiction will come a distorted public comprehension of the new weapons it is paying for.

It would seem more sensible to take along a few trained newsmen from the various media so that an accurate picture could be brought to the people back home. Seems to me it also would be a good idea to invite Malenkov, Mao, Nehru, and a few other leaders of the opposition and the could-be opposition and let them watch a few of the loudest firecrackers go off.

Security wise, what could they learn from a bunker 30 miles from ground zero? But psychologically, it would be tremendous.

Speaking of the H-bomb, there will be competition in the Air Force for the somewhat dubious privilege of dropping the first one. Present plans call for it to be dropped by a B-36, from 30,000 feet. A free drop, of course, would destroy the bomber and its crew, no matter how fast the getaway after release. So it will be lowered by chutes.

Competition will be among the crews that have done the work at Yucca Flat, Nev., in the past. It is the real hush-hush arm of the Air Force. Nor even SAC, the big branch of airmen assigned to intercontinental A-bombing, seems to know much about this special group.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has begun to give to the nation the sad details about the farm "mess" which his administration inherited from its predecessors.

Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin is reported to have joined a group of other Republicans in saying at a Republican party conference here that the President's abandonment of the 90 per cent parity protection would be a political mistake in the Middle West. But the Wisconsin senator is wrong on this. For he is assuming that the farm voters will react unfavorably without taking into account the side of the story that the President has to tell.

There are other senators who have committed themselves to a rigid system of price supports — Republicans as well as Democrats. But never before has the other side of the controversy been emphasized as Mr. Eisenhower and his aides probably will tell it in the next few months. The farm vote will not be lost to the Republicans when the facts are thoroughly understood. For the farmer is not a radical and, though he favors subsidies, he doesn't like low farm prices. What he dosn't realize is that by subsidizing and encouraging production, the farmer is taxing himself higher and forcing a lower price at the same time.

Decision Is Commendable

Mr. Eisenhower has courageously come to grips with a highly sensitive political problem, and his determination to fight it out in public debate is commendable. The President says each farm crop has its own problems and each requires specific treatment but there are certain fundamentals that apply to all. He declares, first of all, that "food once produced must not be destroyed" and that excessive stocks can be removed from the markets by governmental action.

But, by this, it is not meant that the system which produced the excessive surpluses must be continued, and that's what the champions of the 90 per cent rigid price-support formula are asking the taxpayers to approve.

The President is right when he says that "there should be no wide year-to-year fluctuation in the level of price support" and that "no single program can apply uniformly to the whole farm industry." So far as the basic principle is concerned, however, Mr. Eisenhower properly lines himself up behind the necessity for government price supports on a flexible basis depending on market conditions, "in order to bring needed stability to farm income and farm production."

The present administration has sought advice from all sides and in a non-political way. The conclusions reached after months of study are sound from an economic standpoint. The only thing that stands in the way of their acceptance is political exploitation of the issue by those who, in certain areas, think it is unpopular to do otherwise. That's only because the farmers themselves have not been educated on the facts of the "mess" created. Mr. Eisenhower describes it thus:

"The urgency in this situation may be illustrated by a few basic facts. During the past year, the investment of the Commodity Credit Corporation in farm commodities more than doubled, increasing by about $2,500,000,000. As a result the financial obligations of the corporation are pressing hard against the $6,750,000,000 limitation on its borrowing authority. In order to assure that present price-support commitments on 1953 and 1954 crops will be covered, I shall request the Congress to take early action to restore the corporation's capital losses as of June 30, 1953, and to increase its borrowing authority to $8,500,000,000, effective July 1, 1954.

Flexible System Is Answer

"The government's commodity holdings are enormous. It has investments in more than $2,000,000,000 worth of wheat alone. This includes 440,000,000 bushels owned outright. About 400,000,000 additional bushels are under loan, the greater share of which the government can expect to acquire. This is more than the domestic wheat requirements of the entire nation for a full year.

"The carry-over of vegetable oils may be about 1,500,000,000 pounds, roughly double the carry-over that should normally be maintained."

What makes the situation worse is that consumer demand is at or near a record high level and in some instances products without price supports have done as well in price as some of those with price supports. The solution of the problem is related to the opening up of foreign markets and the removal of rigidity from the government's formula. A flexible system is the natural answer, with no commitment to do more than to sustain the markets from dropping precipitately or from rising too rapidly.

The President advocates the principle of gradualness and a range of from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, which ought to be enough to attain stabilization. The alternative is a continuation of chaos and greater expense to all taxpayers without the lower living costs which increased production normally brings to the consumers. Their votes are also important to either political party.

These Days

Red China

Referring to China, in his "State of the Union" message, President Eisenhower said:

". . . We shall continue military and economic aid to the Nationalist Government of China."

The single reference to the subject evoked great applause from the Congress, but only after the message had been carefully read did it become clear that not one word was said about the more critical question on the American policy toward Communist China. Regarding this, President Eisenhower did not say what American policy is.

Referring to South Asia, President Eisenhower said:

"In South Asia, profound changes are taking place in free nations which are demonstrating their ability to progress through democratic methods. They provide an inspiring contrast to the dictatorial methods and backward course of events in Communist China . . ."

This does not answer the question of recognition of Communist China. It is no secret that an effort was made out of Washington to give the impression that Vice President Nixon, after his return from the Far East, favored such recognition. Nixon, realizing what was being done, hit out straight by a total denial of his support for such recognition. He said that he opposed it. Republican Senate Majority Leader William F. Knowland, in a "Meet the Press" discussion last Sunday, most emphatically opposed recognition either by the United States or the United Nations.

The British are employing all their strength to bring about the recognition of Communist China. It is the focus of their diplomacy at this moment. They resent the American resistance to what they regard as an essential trade policy.

A factor in this situation is Arthur H. Dean, our most recent negotiator at Panmunjom and law partner in Sullivan and Cromwell of both John Foster Dulles, secretary of state, and Allen Dulles, head of the CIA.

Dean has gone through a harrowing experience with the Chinese Communists at Panmunjom. Undoubtedly he was sent on this mission because of his close relations to the secretary of state and his ability as a negotiator. He had also been associated with the Institute of Pacific Relations. In a letter to Clayton Lane, executive secretary of the institute, as recently as April 18, 1949, he wrote:

"I realize that you have come into an exceptionally difficult situation, but I think we might go back to the publications of the institute and with the help of Larry Rosinger point out the difficulties our State Department is now facing in attempting to get up a constructive policy for China. I think we might make a very real contribution to the subject if we could state very objectively, but explicitly, problems which we now face in China. I am sure Owen Lattimore would be a great help in this."

In this same letter, he said the following:

"I hope you won't get discouraged. It is tough but I think worth while. You have my complete support but (1) I would not mention the Communist attack in relation to IPR publications, (2) for income tax as well as policy reasons I would not indicate we are engaged in pro- or anti-Communist attacks, (3) I would not indicate you have been brought in, to relieve a bad situation . . . Some way we must solve the Russian problem. It's up to us to find out what makes them tick; why they are what they are; it's not up to use to fight communism. If we try that we have no function; we must expose how it works, what it is, what it does, when it fails."

A man who could in 1949 write, "It's not up to us to fight communism," surely should not have been hurt by Chinese Communists But they wore him down. He returned to the United States.

What intellectual and psychological effect this has had upon Dean, I do not know. Varying reports come out of the State Department to the effect that he finds the present situation hopeless because the Chinese Communists are playing for recognition, not for the solution of the Korean question. I have not attempted to confirm these reports because what really matters is whether the State Department, in a justifiably desperate desire to get out of the Korean situation, will finally decide to offer Red China recognition in the hope that thus some progress will be made in the negotiations.

Had President Eisenhower mentioned this subject, the response might have been startling.

Medical Expert Backs Ike's View That Old Folks Should Keep Busy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Old folks, President Eisenhower told Congress today, are much happier if they can keep working on a productive job after they reach retirement age.

Eisenhower, a youthful 63 who hasn't shown the least sign of caving in on Oct. 14, 1955, the day he'll reach 65, said:

The present old age law, which deprives a wage earner of benefits in any month in which he makes more than $75, should be liberalized.

"Retired persons should be encouraged to continue their contributions to the productive needs of the nation," Eisenhower said. "I am convinced that the great majority of our able-bodied older citizens are happier and better off when they continue in some productive work.

Most of us grub away all our lives trying to get a nest egg to retire on.

Would we be better off if we devoted a little of that time to figuring out what kind of a job we could hold down after we passed 65?

Let's put the question to Dr. Edward J. Stieglitz, a medical authority on longevity. His prompt answer: "Absolutely."

Stieglitz thinks the present social setup is "vicious" because, he says, it destroys the initiative of the old. In fact, Stieglitz takes a dim view of any scheme which calls for an arbitrary retirement at, say, 65.

He says this produces two losses.

1. It hacks away livewood that is still productive.

2. It tends to keep deadwood that might better be pruned at 55.

Stieglitz thinks it's the abruptness of retirement that hurts most persons. At the age of 64 years, 364 days, a man is a producer, with responsibilities. One day later, he's too old.

The doctor's prescription:

"If it's wise to prepare a child for becoming a young adult—and it is—it's equally wise to prepare the adult for his senescence."

Stieglitz says he has treated plenty of old-timers who are still hard at work—"not necessarily at the same job they held before retiring"—and doing fine.

He cited the case of a woman of 86 who came to him six months or so ago and said she had been asked to revise a book she had written 20 years earlier. Should she attempt it?

Stieglitz said go ahead, and explained, tactfully, that anything she accomplished would be just that much done if someone else had to complete the job.

"Ran into her the other day," the doctor said, "and asked her how she was getting along. 'Oh,' she said, 'I've finished with the revision and correcting proofs.'"

Woman Is Loser Of Gun Battle With Police

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 14 (AP)—A woman who police said engaged them in battle with shooting gallery rifles was in a hospital today with wounds in the leg and neck.

One policeman was wounded slightly in the hip in the battle last night in the downtown business district. More than 10 shots were fired.

The woman started shooting at police with one rifle, the officers said, and when it was wrested from her by a Navy shore patrolman seized another and continued the battle.

She was tentatively identified at County Hospital, where she was reported recovering, as Betty Crane, 29. She was under police guard, without a specific charge, pending investigation.

Policeman Richard O. Morse, the wounded officer, said the young woman opened fire as he and Officer Howard Kennedy arrived in response to a call from the shooting gallery operator that the woman had seized a rifle and was pointing it at passersby.

Judge Raps Parents After Baby, Refused Blood Transfusion, Dies

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—An angry judge censured today two young parents whose infant son died after they refused, because of their religious belief, to authorize a blood transfusion for him.

Thomas Grzyb, 20, and his wife, Barbara, 18, were dry-eyed and silent as Judge Thomas E. Kluczynski declared they "held everybody else from helping the child while the child's life was ebbing away by minutes and seconds."

Their 9-day-old son, Thomas Jr., died several hours earlier in St. Anthony's Hospital where physicians made futile attempts to save his life with transfusions of salt and sugar solutions.

Grzyb, who had declared earlier that "it's better to have a dead baby without the blood than a living baby with the transfusion," said he was "sorry the child died."

"If it is God's will that a life must be taken, it must be taken," he said.

The Grzybs are members of the Jehovah's Witnesses religious sect. They contended that receiving blood by transfusion is the same as blood eating, which they claim is prohibited by the Bible.

Judge Kluczynski said the Illinois State Supreme Court has held that "parents have no right to impose their religious beliefs on a third

Announcing The New Packard CLIPPER

America's Newest Medium-Priced Car!

A year ago the Packard CLIPPER was introduced as America's newest medium-priced car.

■ And men who know were quick to say: "That's a lot of car for the money!"

■ And it was a lot of car for the money. And it is a lot of car for the money. Because Packard builds it.

So the news spread!

■ And in 1954 the new CLIPPER brings you fine-car luxuries, fine-car power, fine-car ride . . . (the high-price features everybody wants) . . . and yet at a popular, medium price!

■ We have built a finer car for '54 because experience in '53 proved that there are many thousands of Americans who want a true luxury car in the medium-price range.

■ Most cars in the medium-price field are simply big brothers of smaller cars made by the same company. These cars may offer the modern gadgets and the smooth look of the big car, but in most cases their basic engineering is still influenced by small-car engineering.

"Packard-built" makes the difference

■ No feature or claim will ever give you a more powerful reason for buying a CLIPPER than the name Packard.

■ You'll find the reason when you take command of a Packard CLIPPER and put it through its paces over a road of your own choosing. Make that date with "Packard-built quality at a popular, medium price" very soon . . . won't you?

■ You'll get luxury for a lot less in a Packard CLIPPER.

Since you can't test the new Packard CLIPPER at the famous Packard Proving Ground, get the story, fact by fact, on the pocket proving ground at your dealer's. But don't stop there! For the real thrill, drive a CLIPPER. N-139G

Judge Raps Parents After Baby, Refused Blood Transfusion, Dies

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—An angry judge censured today two young parents whose infant son died after they refused, because of their religious belief, to authorize a blood transfusion for him.

Thomas Grzyb, 20, and his wife, Barbara, 18, were dry-eyed and silent as Judge Thomas E. Kluczynski declared they "held everybody else from helping the child while the child's life was ebbing away by minutes and seconds."

Their 9-day-old son, Thomas Jr., died several hours earlier in St. Anthony's Hospital where physicians made futile attempts to save his life with transfusions of salt and sugar solutions.

Grzyb, who had declared earlier that "it's better to have a dead baby without the blood than a living baby with the transfusion," said he was "sorry the child died."

"If it is God's will that a life must be taken, it must be taken," he said.

The Grzybs are members of the Jehovah's Witnesses religious sect. They contended that receiving blood by transfusion is the same as blood eating, which they claim is prohibited by the Bible.

Judge Kluczynski said the Illinois State Supreme Court has held that "parents have no right to impose their religious beliefs on a third

Announcing The New Packard CLIPPER

America's Newest Medium-Priced Car!

A year ago the Packard CLIPPER was introduced as America's newest medium-priced car.

■ And men who know were quick to say: "That's a lot of car for the money!"

■ And it was a lot of car for the money. And it is a lot of car for the money. Because Packard builds it.

So the news spread!

■ And in 1954 the new CLIPPER brings you fine-car luxuries, fine-car power, fine-car ride . . . (the high-price features everybody wants) . . . and yet at a popular, medium price!

■ We have built a finer car for '54 because experience in '53 proved that there are many thousands of Americans who want a true luxury car in the medium-price range.

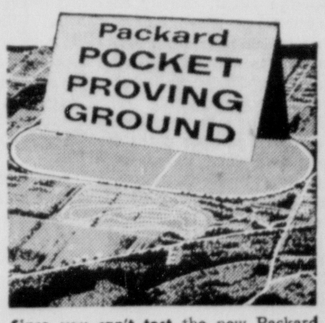
■ Most cars in the medium-price field are simply big brothers of smaller cars made by the same company. These cars may offer the modern gadgets and the smooth look of the big car, but in most cases their basic engineering is still influenced by small-car engineering.

"Packard-built" makes the difference

■ No feature or claim will ever give you a more powerful reason for buying a CLIPPER than the name Packard.

■ You'll find the reason when you take command of a Packard CLIPPER and put it through its paces over a road of your own choosing. Make that date with "Packard-built quality at a popular, medium price" very soon . . . won't you?

■ You'll get luxury for a lot less in a Packard CLIPPER.



Since you can't test the new Packard CLIPPER at the famous Packard Proving Ground, get the story, fact by fact, on the pocket proving ground at your dealer's. But don't stop there! For the real thrill, drive a CLIPPER. N-130G

Bird Club Is Sponsoring Exhibit

An informal discussion of the "Audubon photography tour" on display at the Cumberland Free Public Library, featured the meeting of the Allegany County Bird Club Wednesday evening at the library. It was pointed out that most of the photographers were here in previous years on the "screen tour program."

The Audubon pictures, sponsored by the Bird Club, will be on display to the end of the month and the exhibit is open to the public.

H. C. Heineman presided and routine reports were given. It was announced that there will be no field trips until March. Mrs. Gilbert Miller spoke of the birds she observed on a recent trip to Florida, when she recorded a total of 68 species. Each member discussed feeding stations which they maintain.

Kendrick Y. Hodgdon, science instructor at Valley High School, will be the speaker at the next meeting, February 10 at the library. He will discuss "The Art of Bird Watching," based on field observation.

Club Has Election

The Pleasant Grove Homemakers Club had installation of two officers and a birthday shower at the Yuletide meeting, held in the form of a turkey dinner. It was at the Baltimore Pike fire hall with Mrs. Leslie Hinkle hostess.

Mrs. Mary Burchord was installed as president and Mrs. Robert Schubert, treasurer. Mrs. Rhoda Clingerman, retiring president, was in charge of the installation. Committees and chairmen for the year were selected.

After the business session there were games and entertainment with the Recreation committee in charge. Mrs. Hinkle was honored with a handkerchief shower in celebration of her birthday, and members exchanged gifts.

Ethel Zimmerman Heads Diehl-Morton Officers Club

The Diehl-Morton Officers Club of Cumberland Chapter, No. 56, Order of Eastern Star, elected officers and named monthly Social committees at the meeting held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Morton, Fayette Street. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Diehl were cohosts.

Mrs. Martha Diehl, worthy matron, conducted a short business meeting at which time Mrs. Ethel Zimmerman was elected president and Mrs. Lillian Zimmerman, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Zimmerman then assumed her duties and tentative plans for a luncheon and card party were discussed. Secret pals for the year were selected.

Social committees for the various months were selected. February Social committee includes Mrs. Hattie Roby, Mrs. Cora Hardin, Mrs. Lillian Zimmerman; March, Mrs. Charlotte Hall, Mrs. Elizabeth Capaldi, Mrs. Cecelia DeBouch; April, Mrs. Gertrude Rice, Miss Helen Kreiling, Mrs. Elizabeth Landis; May, Mrs. Ruth Mason, Miss Margaret Flurshutz, Henry Earle; June, Mrs. Margaret Hixon, Mrs. Arbutus Lohr, Miss Ruth Screen; September, Mrs. Ethel Zimmerman, Mrs. Mamie Hinkle, Mrs. Elizabeth Lamp; October, Miss Bessie Baird, Mrs. Mary Earle, Ivan Hall; November, Miss Sara Ann Wolfe, Mrs. Gertrude Moreland, Mrs. Annie Smith; December; Miss Barbara DeBouch, Mrs. Louise Emerick and Harold Hixon.

Ursuline Academy To Hold Sweetheart Dance Feb. 14

It is being held in the parish hall, February 14. Dancing will be from 8:30 until 11:30 o'clock with the crowning of the Sweetheart Queen at 10 o'clock.

The winner of the title will be selected from a representative of each class. They are Kathleen Schriver, freshman; Shirley Abbey, sophomore; Isabel Helmstetter, junior, and Anna Marie Dressman, senior.

The Senior Class is holding the second in the series of three dances to raise funds for a memorial plaque honoring the late Barbara Madden, a member of the class who died last year.

The dance will be Sunday evening in the parish hall, with music by the Swing Kings. The public is invited.

January 24 will be the next dance of the series, which are sportswear events.

Young Business Women To Honor Single Girls July 4

The sixth anniversary party and installation of officers of the Young Business Women's Club was held at Central YMCA Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Mary Frye, retiring president, presided and prayer was offered by Miss Mary Ellen Helmick, retiring chaplain.

Officers installed are Mrs. Barbara Merritt, president; Miss Ellen Newnam, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Shroyer, secretary; Miss Beatrice Parks, treasurer, and Mrs. Frye, chaplain.

Following the installation a brief business session was held with the new officers assuming their duties. Since the club honors the secret sisters on their wedding anniversaries, Christmas and birthday, it was decided that all the single girls would be honored on July 4, their "Independence Day."

After the business meeting the anniversary party was held and refreshments served.

Others present were Miss Mary Louise Firley, Miss Clara June Helmick, Miss Joan Schaidt, Miss Mary Lynn Baker, Miss Nichols, Miss Newnam, Miss Naomi Parks, Miss Beatrice Parks, Miss Helen Martz, Miss Hannah Drubeck, Mrs. Marion Ryan, Mrs. Shroyer, Mrs. Merritt and Mrs. Joyce Dorsey.

Pfc. Miller, Miss Iman Marry

Miss Virginia Mae Iman, 422 Seymour Street, formerly of Maysville, W. Va., became the bride of Pfc. Robert W. Miller, son of Mrs. William Rose, Bedford, Pa., December 6.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized in the parsonage of St. Mark's Reformed Church, with Rev. Carl H. Clapp officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. George Long were their attendants.

The bride was attired in a blue crepe dress, with which she wore matching accessories and a white hat. A corsage of white roses completed her costume. She is employed in Brooks' Restaurant.

Pfc. Miller is a graduate of Bedford High School and was employed by the Celanese Corporation prior to his induction into the service 14 months ago. On February 8 he is to report at Fort Lewis, Washington, for overseas duty.

Washington at times seems far removed from the daily difficulties and joys of the individual and his family.

The President of the United States has delivered his State of the Union address before the second session of the 83rd Congress which has now convened. The lofty ideals expressed, and his recommendations for legislation, probably do not appear to relate to any particular problem which you experience.

Washington can seem to be quite separate from the rest of the United States — and I know from personal experience that life in our nation's capital can appear quite detached from Maryland and my own home town of Frostburg.

President Eisenhower spoke of three goals — to protect the freedom of our people; to maintain a strong, growing economy; and, to concern ourselves with the human problems of the individual citizen.

"Only by active concern for each of these purposes," he told the Congress, "can we be sure that we are on the forward road to a better and stronger America. All my recommendations today are in furtherance of these three purposes."

He then proceeded to talk of foreign affairs, foreign assistance and trade, defense, internal security, strong economy, the budget, taxes, agriculture, conservation of resources, labor and welfare, health, education and housing.

The President's recommendations in these fields, and comment by members of Congress, were in general terms, national in scope — the language of government too often seems peculiar to Washington, intelligible only to the initiated.

President Eisenhower's stated purposes will probably have general acceptance. It would be difficult to disagree with their intent, but you may question as to how such purposes come to be stated, and how they are put into effect by your federal government.

How, you may ask, is it determined that these purposes are desirable for us as individuals and citizens of the United States? How does government decide what actions will be beneficial to me?

Concluding his address President Eisenhower gave as good an answer as can be stated. He said, "a government can try, as ours tries, to sense the deepest aspirations of the people, and to express them in political action at home and abroad. So long as action and aspiration humbly and earnestly seek favor in the sight of the Almighty, I can see no end to the road ahead for America and no human limit to the service we can perform."

Government action is the result of problems which arise in your daily life — at home, at your job, in your local communities. We, your elected representatives, try to gain an understanding of these problems and also to anticipate such problems. Action by government — in the form of new laws; of administrative acts by the President — then has a direct effect on you, your home and your community.

When you see the President on television delivering his address to Congress, or read in your newspaper of the discussions in Congress, the men and their ideas may seem far removed from your living room or breakfast table. They are not — they are your personal problems and aspirations, expressed in terms applicable to a nation.

Foreign affairs to your family can be reduced down to war or peace.

Defense can mean whether the factory where you work produces military or consumer goods — and to your sons it means how aware they are of the existence of the local draft board.

The budget and taxes are just as real as your weekly pay envelope; and the policies established by the Treasury Department affect the value of the dollar in your pocket, your savings in the bank, the insurance you have for your security and the mortgage on your home.

Foreign trade means how much competition the businessman can expect from businessmen in other countries.

Your government in Washington may seem formidable and distant, but it is as personal as your own, and your family's health, happiness and security.

About 100 different kinds of fish have flesh that is so poisonous it is dangerous to eat.

Along The Potomac

by Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON — Congress has settled down to work on what may be one of the most interesting legislative programs in history following President Eisenhower's memorable address on the State of the Union.

Hasty comment offered by some of the members of Congress who didn't have time to really study the President's message pretty much followed party lines. But after hearing the message delivered and studying its contents, certain impressions become outstanding.

First, I was pleased with the President's acknowledgement of Americans as individuals. He kept away from lumping us into nameless units in categories such as farmers, laborers or businessmen. "Banishment of destitution," he said, "and cushioning the shock of personal disaster are proper concerns of all levels of government, including the federal government. This is especially true where remedy and prevention alike are beyond the individual's capacity.

Second, the State of the Union address seemed to be one of the most extensive discussions ever given before Congress by a president. He covered dozens of subjects — even discussing federal responsibilities for interstate highway systems. I noticed this particularly because about three-fourths of our congressional district is bounded by other states and the congested metropolitan area of Washington.

The President has asked that the federal gasoline tax remain at its present two-cent-a-gallon level in order to keep the federal highway program in high gear. I am in favor of this because I think in our situation in Western Maryland the need for improved highways, particularly our main U. S. Routes 240 and 40, is so great we should be willing to pay this two cents a while longer.

President Eisenhower finished his speech by talking about some of the things a government cannot do. Enterprise and ambition in our own people, he declared, as well as peace in the hearts of foreign rulers, must come from the individuals themselves. But, he continued, "a government can try, as ours tries, to sense the deepest aspirations of the people, and to express them in political action at home and abroad. So long as action and aspiration humbly and earnestly seek favor in the sight of the Almighty, there is no end to America's forward road. . ."

I have introduced a House Joint Resolution to make September 1955 John Marshall Bicentennial Month. September 24 is the birthday of John Marshall, often called "the great chief justice" because of his profound expression of constitutional principles. Monday, I will give a brief talk to the Interfederation Council, a group of civic associations in Washington. Wednesday I will speak to the Christ Lutheran Church Brotherhood in Bethesda, and Thursday to the Hancock Rotary and Lions clubs in a joint meeting at Sagle's Restaurant in Hancock.

Smithsonian Wistfully Looks For People To Purchase Its $500 Wildflower Book

BEVERLY LOUISE PACK, of El Paso, Tex., the 1954 "Maid of Cotton," finds New York's heavy snowfall to her liking. She is not throwing snow balls—perish the thought—but balls of cotton. (International)

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON Jan. 14 (AP)—The Smithsonian Institution is looking around wistfully for people with most unusual qualifications.

These people must be (a) crazy about wildflowers and (b) so affluent they can spend $500 for the beautful portfolio, "Wildflowers of North America."

The Smithsonian has good news for those who have the (a) but not so much of the (b). There's a poor man's edition selling for a paltry $100.

This comes up today because a commercial publisher has brought out a similar book, using pictures of some of the same illustrations, in a $10 edition. This is perfectly legal, since government books aren't copyrighted.

Because "Wildflowers of North America" has been available since 1925, and at no time has the Smithsonian had to hire extra guards to control crowds fighting to buy it, there appears to be small chance of a fast sale of the 500 copies or so of the $100 and $500 editions still around.

"I will say this, though," said Paul H. Oehser, who heads the Smithsonian's editorial division. "No one has matched the beauty of the pictures in our book. Fortunately, the commercial publisher mentioned our work in his and we're hoping that will stir up a little interest."

"Wildflowers of North America" is extraordinary not only because of its startling price tag. For one thing, it didn't cost the taxpayers a dime to print, largely because of an extraordinary woman.

That woman was Mary Vaux Walcott. She was an artist, a botanist and was married to Charles D. Walcott, at that time secretary for the Smithsonian. Both have been dead for years.

More important to the present discussion: Mrs. Walcott was rich.

On field trips with her husband, who was a geologist she painted the pictures. Then she subsidized the printing of 2,000 copies. Libraries and some garden clubs have bought the de luxe $500 job while the $100 edition has been more in demand from individual wildflower lovers.

The Smithsonian in general, and Oehser in particular, has a very real interest in its sales. Every time one is sold it means that an additional $100—or maybe even $500—is available to publish other scientific works.

And how had "Wildflowers" been selling before the $10 book came out and presumably slowed down sales?

"Oh, we've been selling them right along," Oehser said.

How many?

Premeditated Murder Charge Faces Soldier

ABERDEEN, Md., Jan. 14 (AP) — The Army said it was preparing a charge of premeditated murder against Pvt. Walter C. Thomas, 22-year-old Negro from Birmingham, Ala., in the death of Pvt. Ben Terry Jr., 24, Negro, of Columbus, Ga.

Lt. Col. E. T. Devlin, provost marshal at the proving ground, said Thomas admitted shooting Terry in a fight outside an enlisted men's service club.

In 1755, Maryland's assembly voted a tax on all bachelors more than 25 years old.

Softly Tailored But Feminine Easter Suit Reaches Climax

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP) — The softly tailored but oh-so-feminine Easter suit reaches a new climax this year in Hattie Carnegie's spring collection. She outdoes even her own past creations in featherlight fabrics, smooth silhouettes and imaginative touches of subtle decoration.

Her suits, often in dress-and-jacket combinations, features such feminine touches as stickpin flowers peeping from pockets, hidden jewels glinting through tabs or beneath pocket flaps, rounded collars and lapels cut away from the neck and silk-and-wool fabric blends light and smooth enough for evening gowns.

Colors are muted in the Carnegie suit lineup. They include such subtle tones as silver navy, thyme gray, silver birch and gray-beige. Suit skirts appear slim and narrow, but walking width is achieved in various ingenious ways. One of the newest of these is the "spoke seam" skirt, which has three seams in back.

Miss Carnegie likes such feminine touches as a sheer linen and lace handkerchief on a tweed suit, a petal collar on a smooth silk-and-wool doeskin suit, or a flat flower stuck into a skirt pocket.

Her summer furs may well start a new fad. She has always considered it silly for women to go around swathed in furs in hot weather, simply for fashion's sake. So she offers white or pastel silk organza stoles which are draped about the shoulders of suits, dresses or evening gowns with all the elegance of fur, but with much more comfort. These are shown in an endless variety of sizes, shapes and colors, and should provide a new look for hot weather fashions.

Miss Carnegie also scores with a series of sweater jackets in silk prints, knits and various versions, designed to toss on over everything. One, called a "necessity jacket," is bulky chevron knit for casual wear.

Date For Pollack Arraignment Set

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP) — An arraignment date for James H. (Jack) Pollack was set today a few minutes after the Baltimore Democratic leader asked for dismissal of charges he attempted to obstruct justice.

While State's Attorney Anselm Sodaro conferred with Judge Emory H. Niles who set the arraignment for Jan. 25, Pollack's attorneys were filing a motion seeking dismissal of the indictment.

Pollack is accused of trying to influence the testimony of witnesses in the morals trial of the son of Baltimore's mayor, 20-year-old Franklin Roosevelt D'Alesandro.

His attorneys claimed the indictment was invalid on technical grounds and failed to show any illegal actions were involved.

The mayor's son is the only one of 12 youths found innocent of charges involving two young girls. The same grand jury that indicted Pollack charged young D'Alesandro with lying under oath at his trial.

Four others involved in the series of cases are scheduled to go on trial Monday. They are all under 16, but could be sent to training schools. The girls, 12 and 14, are also to be tried as delinquents.

TB Drug's Bad Effects Offset

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14 (AP)—A way of minimizing ear damage from the wonder drug streptomycin in tuberculosis cases was reported today by four California medical researchers.

Streptomycin, although a good drug against TB, sometimes causes dizzy spells in patients because the medicine affects the inner ear which provides the sense of balance.

A close relative of this same drug is dihydrostreptomycin. It also is a TB fighter but it can cause a partial loss of hearing.

These damaging effects can be greatly reduced by giving both drugs at once, said a report by Dr. Walter E. Heck and H. Crowin Hinshaw of the Stanford University medical school and Drs. Harold L. Graves and Mildred E. Thoren of the Weiman Joint Sanitarium at Weimar, Calif.

Among 42 patients given the two drugs in combination for four months or more, only one showed any ear damage and that was slight, the researchers reported in the Stanford medical bulletin.

Smithsonian Wistfully Looks For People To Purchase Its $500 Wildflower Book

BEVERLY LOUISE PACK, of El Paso, Tex., the 1954 "Maid of Cotton," finds New York's heavy snowfall to her liking. She is not throwing snow balls—perish the thought—but balls of cotton. (International)

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON Jan. 14 (AP)—The Smithsonian Institution is looking around wistfully for people with most unusual qualifications.

These people must be (a) crazy about wildflowers and (b) so affluent they can spend $500 for the beautful portfolio, "Wildflowers of North America."

The Smithsonian has good news for those who have the (a) but not so much of the (b). There's a poor man's edition selling for a paltry $100.

This comes up today because a commercial publisher has brought out a similar book, using pictures of some of the same illustrations, in a $10 edition. This is perfectly legal, since government books aren't copyrighted.

Because "Wildflowers of North America" has been available since 1925, and at no time has the Smithsonian had to hire extra guards to control crowds fighting to buy it, there appears to be small chance of a fast sale of the 500 copies or so of the $100 and $500 editions still around.

"I will say this, though," said Paul H. Oehser, who heads the Smithsonian's editorial division. "No one has matched the beauty of the pictures in our book. Fortunately, the commercial publisher mentioned our work in his and we're hoping that will stir up a little interest."

"Wildflowers of North America" is extraordinary not only because of its startling price tag. For one thing, it didn't cost the taxpayers a dime to print, largely because of an extraordinary woman.

That woman was Mary Vaux Walcott. She was an artist, a botanist and was married to Charles D. Walcott, at that time secretary for the Smithsonian. Both have been dead for years.

More important to the present discussion: Mrs. Walcott was rich.

On field trips with her husband, who was a geologist she painted the pictures. Then she subsidized the printing of 2,000 copies. Libraries and some garden clubs have bought the de luxe $500 job while the $100 edition has been more in demand from individual wildflower lovers.

The Smithsonian in general, and Oehser in particular, has a very real interest in its sales. Every time one is sold it means that an additional $100—or maybe even $500—is available to publish other scientific works.

And how had "Wildflowers" been selling before the $10 book came out and presumably slowed down sales?

"Oh, we've been selling them right along," Oehser said.

How many?

Premeditated Murder Charge Faces Soldier

ABERDEEN, Md., Jan. 14 (AP) — The Army said it was preparing a charge of premeditated murder against Pvt. Walter C. Thomas, 22-year-old Negro from Birmingham, Ala., in the death of Pvt. Ben Terry Jr., 24, Negro, of Columbus, Ga.

Lt. Col. E. T. Devlin, provost marshal at the proving ground, said Thomas admitted shooting Terry in a fight outside an enlisted men's service club.

In 1755, Maryland's assembly voted a tax on all bachelors more than 25 years old.

Softly Tailored But Feminine Easter Suit Reaches Climax

Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP) — The softly tailored but oh-so-feminine Easter suit reaches a new climax this year in Hattie Carnegie's spring collection. She outdoes even her own past creations in feather-light fabrics, smooth silhouettes and imaginative touches of subtle decoration.

Her suits, often in dress-and-jacket combinations, features such feminine touches as stickpin flowers peeping from pockets, hidden jewels glinting through tabs or beneath pocket flaps, rounded collars and lapels cut away from the neck and silk-and-wool fabric blends light and smooth enough for evening gowns.

Colors are muted in the Carnegie suit lineup. They include such subtle tones as silver navy, thyme gray, silver birch and gray-beige. Suit skirts appear slim and narrow, but walking width is achieved in various ingenious ways. One of the newest of these is the "spoke seam" skirt, which has three seams in back.

Miss Carnegie likes such feminine touches as a sheer linen and lace handkerchief on a tweed suit, a petal collar on a smooth silk-and-wool doeskin suit, or a flat flower stuck into a skirt pocket.

Her summer furs may well start a new fad. She has always considered it silly for women to go around swathed in furs in hot weather, simply for fashion's sake. So she offers white or pastel silk organza stoles which are draped about the shoulders of suits, dresses or evening gowns with all the elegance of fur, but with much more comfort. These are shown in an endless variety of sizes, shapes and colors, and should provide a new look for hot weather fashions.

Miss Carnegie also scores with a series of sweater jackets in silk prints, knits and various versions, designed to toss on over everything. One, called a "necessity jacket," is bulky chevron knit for casual wear.

Date For Pollack Arraignment Set

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP) — An arraignment date for James H. (Jack) Pollack was set today a few minutes after the Baltimore Democratic leader asked for dismissal of charges he attempted to obstruct justice.

While State's Attorney Anselm Sodaro conferred with Judge Emory H. Niles who set the arraignment for Jan. 25, Pollack's attorneys were filing a motion seeking dismissal of the indictment.

Pollack is accused of trying to influence the testimony of witnesses in the morals trial of the son of Baltimore's mayor, 20-year-old Franklin Roosevelt D'Alesandro.

His attorneys claimed the indictment was invalid on technical grounds and failed to show any illegal actions were involved.

The mayor's son is the only one of 12 youths found innocent of charges involving two young girls. The same grand jury that indicted Pollack charged young D'Alesandro with lying under oath at his trial.

Four others involved in the series of cases are scheduled to go on trial Monday. They are all under 16, but could be sent to training schools. The girls, 12 and 14, are also to be tried as delinquents.

TB Drug's Bad Effects Offset

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14 (AP)—A way of minimizing ear damage from the wonder drug streptomycin in tuberculosis cases was reported today by four California medical researchers.

Streptomycin, although a good drug against TB, sometimes causes dizzy spells in patients because the medicine affects the inner ear which provides the sense of balance.

A close relative of this same drug is dihydrostreptomycin. It also is a TB fighter but it can cause a partial loss of hearing.

These damaging effects can be greatly reduced by giving both drugs at once, said a report by Dr. Walter E. Heck and H. Crowin Hinshaw of the Stanford University medical school and Drs. Harold L. Graves and Mildred E. Thoren of the Weiman Joint Sanitarium at Weimar, Calif.

Among 42 patients given the two drugs in combination for four months or more, only one showed any ear damage and that was slight, the researchers reported in the Stanford medical bulletin.

THIS CAR OF A SWISS TRAIN is almost buried by an avalanche that roared down the slopes of the Alps near Oberriet. It was one of a series of avalanches that have left trails of destruction, with 200 dead, in Austria, Switzerland and West Germany. Heaviest sufferer was Austria, where 172 persons were reported killed. Thousands of tourists were reported stranded in many ski resorts. (International Radiophoto)

City To Hold Exams For Three Positions

Examinations for a designer-draftsman, senior stenographer and a warehouse clerk for the City of Cumberland will be held at Fort Hill High School February 3 at 7 p. m., according to an announcement by the City Civil Service Commission.

Applicants must have been residents of Cumberland for the past three years and must complete application forms with the city clerk not later than 5 p. m. January 25. A fee of $2 will be charged for physical examination.

Applicants for stenographer must be between 21 and 40 years old, and have had two years experience as a stenographer.

The warehouse clerk must be a high school graduate between 21 and 40 years old with ability in typing and general clerical work.

The designer-draftsman must be at least 21 years old, a graduate from a recognized college with a degree in civil engineering or from a recognized high school plus seven years experience in civil engineering.

Farmers Must Report Lime Use By Today

Today is the last day for Alleany County farmers to report their use of lime and fertilizer during 1953 if they expect to receive a bonus, termed a small payment increase, from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

About 225 farmers submitted their reports by New Year's Eve as originally requested. Notices then were mailed to some 65 others who were slow in reporting.

Despite the snowy weather this week about 25 have submitted their reports to Miss Elizabeth A. Hoover, manager of the ASC office at 37 Washington Street.

Color Doesn't Improve The Jokes

Color television is a truly marvelous thing but — like the first broadcast from the new tower on the Empire State Building which was, you recall, an old cowboy movie — the programs that spill in lovely blues and greens and reds into your livingroom sometimes make you wonder whether it was worth the trouble inventing the darn thing.

John Crosby

The two shows most recently viewed were CBS's "New Revue" which is billed as the first regularly scheduled color program and "The Amateur Hour" on NBC which may be the oldest program anywhere around. Both were pretty dreary. Color, though, certainly adds a tremendous eye appeal to even the sorriest spectacle. "The Amateur Hour," for example, opened with a succession of curtains, all of different hues, rolling back one after another. It was quite a sight.

Ted Mack, who presides over "The Amateur Hour," has settled on a formula of homespun corn which, I guess, is relished in the backwoods but is not my dish of tea at all. You get barbershop quartets, cowboys playing harmonicas, that sort of thing. You can hear some of the worst singing your ears were ever assaulted with — and color television, I'm afraid, does nothing to conceal the absence of vocal chords.

Four small Negro boys, the winners from the previous week, did a rather odd act, slapping their thighs and clapping their hands in a fine rhythmic manner — if that sort of thing appeals to you. The high point of a real low evening — to me at least — were four youngsters dressed in wine-colored clown suits who did a tumbling act. They were cute as buttons and, tumbling about the floor, they looked like a troupe of performing puppies.

The program — if you can call it that — wound up with a group of Irish folk doing an Irish reel which was notable chiefly for the dark green dresses worn by the girls and the mustard color shirts worn by the boys. Technically, it was a triumph of electronics. I can't recall ever seeing such glowing colors, such pleasant lighting and the rest of it. But as show business, I should say that Barnum was a good hundred years ahead of this in his day — and that was a hundred years ago.

What hath RCA wrought, I kept musing to myself, and having wrought it, can't they do something better than this with it? "Color television," intoned Ted Mack, who inherited this show from the late Major Bowes, "is just another milestone in the march of 'The Amateur Hour.' " Well, yes, I suppose that's true. But "The Amateur Hour" is hardly a milestone in the march of color television. More of a roadblock.

The commercials, incidentally, were just plain terrific. A cherry pie was covered with whipped cream is absolutely sensational on color TV, Mannie. Let's see if we can't sign it up exclusive — and the whole concoction looked, if you'll pardon the expression, good enough to eat.

"The first regularly scheduled color television show" looks as if it had been put together with a piece of string and 25 cents. It could loosely be called a variety show, singers, tap dancers, puppets, and occasionally from Make Wallace, the emcee, jokes. "Marriage is a wonderful institution," declared Mr. Wallace, "but who wants to live in an institution." That, I've decided, is what you might call an on-color joke. Enough of those and they'll drive us all back to the burlesque houses to listen to the other kind.

The brightest moment of this confection to me was, of all things, a setting for a song which had the impudence and gaiety and dreamy enchantment of a Dufy painting. The scene designers, I decided, are going to have a field day in color television.

Bill Passed By General Assembly Of Md. 155 Years Ago Started First School Here

Education in Allegany County is 155 years old today. The first school here was provided by a bill passed by the General Assembly of Maryland on January 15, 1799.

The measure adopted was as follows:

"Whereas, it is reasonable that education should be extended to the several parts of the state and that there should be public school in Allegany County.

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland that in order to the erecting and building a house and other conveniences for a county school, the persons herein named shall have power to purchase one or more acre of land in or adjacent to the town of Cumberland in Allegany County, to wit: John Lynn, Evan Gwynn, William McMahon, Joseph Cresap, David Lynn, Patrick Murdoch, Hanson Briscoe, John B. Beall and John C. Beatty, who shall be visitors of said school. x x x"

State Aid Provided

Thus the first step was taken to educate the children in the "Gateway to the West."

Under the legislative act, the Board of Visitors of Allegany County School, as it was called, was given $200 annually from the state to be donated to the school.

The board acquired a lot on Fayette Street, on the corner of Plum Alley, the site of the present SS. Peter and Paul School. Through public contributions, a one-story brick building with three rooms was constructed.

In 1811 and 1831 the General Assembly upped the donation to the school to $800 annually.

The first principal was Prof. William H. Pierce. The enrollment grew through the years and finally in 1849 Prof. Allen P. Weld, principal, declared the building was insufficient for the student body.

Academy Constructed

The Allegany County School or the Allegany County Academy as it came to be known, was built by public subscription at a cost of $5,000 on Washington Street. The Academy formally opened June 8, 1850 in the building now occupied by the Cumberland Free Public Library. In a pure sense, the academy or county school was not a public school as students were charged tuition, although it got state aid.

In 1828 a measure to have primary schools in the county failed by a vote of 1,031 to 249.

In 1831 the county commissioners set up a number of schools, allocating $25 a year each for their operation.

Allegany County in 1831 also included Garrett County and in the nine election districts the commissioners provided for 44 schools.

Lena Furnace First

According to Miss Mary I. Murphy, retired librarian of Allegany High School, the first public school was the Lena Furnace School on Lena Street in North End. Cumberland's second public school house was on Maryland Avenue.

In Scharf's History of Western Maryland, it is revealed that a public school system providing for teachers, buildings and equipment was established in 1865. Prior to that time the maintenance and teaching was up to the parents of the children enrolled in the various little schools.

By 1881 Garrett County was formed from Allegany County and a public school system was in operation that had 81 schools and 127 teachers.

J. W. S. Cochrane was the examiner, or superintendent of schools. Schools were as follows:

Election District 1 (Southeastern part of the County)—Orleans, Hartley's, Brickhouse, Shircliff's, Barnes, Slider, Sulphur Spring and Tunnell Hill.

More Schools Listed

Election District 2 (Oldtown area)—Oldtown, Town Creek, Upper Green Ridge, Lower Green Ridge and Spring Gap.

Election District 3 (Flintstone area)—Flintstone 1 and Flintstone 2; Fairview, Murley's Branch, Twiggtown, Bucey, Lashley and Piney Plains.

City of Cumberland — Union Street (ten teachers), Lena Furnace (six teachers including a German instructor, Rev. J. L. Eiseman, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church), Maryland Avenue, Greene Street, Fair Ground, and Ebenezer.

Election District 4—Pleasant Grove, Wentling, Irons Mountain and North Branch.

Election District 5—Little Valley.

Election District 7—Cresaptown, Frost River, Rawling's Station and Ravenscraft.

School At Barton

Election District 9—Barton.

Election District 10—Castle, Detmold, Pekin and Ocean Mines.

Election District 11—Frostburg, Sand Spring, Borden Mines, Allegany Mines, Borden Shaft and Midlothian Mines.

Election District 14—Wilson Academy, Pleasant Valley, Folck's Mill and Bottle Run.

Election District 15—Rockville.

The census of 1880 showed there were 78 schools for white children and three for colored children.

Nineteen of the 81 schools had two rooms, 19 had three rooms or more, while the rest were one-room buildings. They could seat 8,000 students.

Of the 127 teachers, 60 were male and 64 were female and three were male colored teachers.

Only three of them had normal school educations but the remainder held teaching certificates. The average monthly salary was $36.50.

The average daily attendance was 4,623 pupils and the value of the buildings was $305,800.

The school system cost $45,172.59 to operate in 1880. Income was $50,470.34 from state, county and town and dog taxes.

Today there are no one-room schools. This was accomplished during the past year when Valley High School was opened at Lonaconing.

Public education has come a long way. Through the series of consolidations, there are now 30 elementary schools and 10 high schools operating on an annual budget of $3,016,220.

Odd Fellows Will Install Officers

Bill Passed By General Assembly Of Md. 155 Years Ago Started First School Here

Education in Allegany County is 155 years old today. The first school here was provided by a bill passed by the General Assembly of Maryland on January 15, 1799.

The measure adopted was as follows:

"Whereas, it is reasonable that education should be extended to the several parts of the state and that there should be public school in Allegany County.

"Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland that in order to the erecting and building a house and other conveniences for a county school, the persons herein named shall have power to purchase one or more acre of land in or adjacent to the town of Cumberland in Allegany County, to wit: John Lynn, Evan Gwynn, William McMahon, Joseph Cresap, David Lynn, Patrick Murdoch, Hanson Briscoe, John B. Beall and John C. Beatty, who shall be visitors of said school. x x x"

State Aid Provided

Under the legislative act, the Board of Visitors of Allegany County School, as it was called, was given $200 annually from the state to be donated to the school.

The board acquired a lot on Fayette Street, on the corner of Plum Alley, the site of the present SS. Peter and Paul School. Through public contributions, a one-story brick building with three rooms was constructed.

In 1811 and 1831 the General Assembly upped the donation to the school to $800 annually.

The first principal was Prof. William H. Pierce. The enrollment grew through the years and finally in 1849 Prof. Allen P. Weld, principal, declared the building was insufficient for the student body.

Academy Constructed

The Allegany County School or the Allegany County Academy as it came to be known, was built by public subscription at a cost of $5,000 on Washington Street. The Academy formally opened June 8, 1850 in the building now occupied by the Cumberland Free Public Library. In a pure sense, the academy or county school was not a public school as students were charged tuition, although it got state aid.

In 1828 a measure to have primary schools in the county failed by a vote of 1,031 to 249.

In 1831 the county commissioners set up a number of schools, allocating $25 a year each for their operation.

Allegany County in 1831 also included Garrett County and in the nine election districts the commissioners provided for 44 schools.

Lena Furnace First

According to Miss Mary I. Murphy, retired librarian of Allegany High School, the first public school was the Lena Furnace School on Lena Street in North End. Cumberland's second public school house was on Maryland Avenue.

In Scharf's History of Western Maryland, it is revealed that a public school system providing for teachers, buildings and equipment was established in 1865. Prior to that time the maintenance and teaching was up to the parents of the children enrolled in the various little schools.

By 1881 Garrett County was formed from Allegany County and a public school system was in operation that had 81 schools and 127 teachers.

J. W. S. Cochrane was the examiner, or superintendent of schools. Schools were as follows:

Election District 1 (Southeastern part of the County)—Orleans, Hartley's, Brickhouse, Shircliff's, Barnes, Slider, Sulphur Spring and Tunnell Hill.

More Schools Listed

Election District 2 (Oldtown area)—Oldtown, Town Creek, Upper Green Ridge, Lower Green Ridge and Spring Gap.

Election District 3 (Flintstone area)—Flintstone 1 and Flintstone 2; Fairview, Murley's Branch, Twiggtown, Bucey, Lashley and Piney Plains.

City of Cumberland — Union Street (ten teachers), Lena Furnace (six teachers including a German instructor, Rev. J. L. Eiseman, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church), Maryland Avenue, Greene Street, Fair Ground, and Ebenezer.

Election District 4—Pleasant Grove, Wentling, Irons Mountain and North Branch.

Election District 7—Cresaptown, Frost River, Rawling's Station and Ravenscraft.

School At Barton

Election District 9—Barton.

Election District 10—Castle, Detmold, Pekin and Ocean Mines.

Election District 11—Frostburg, Sand Spring, Borden Mines, Allegany Mines, Borden Shaft and Midlothian Mines.

Election District 14—Wilson Academy, Pleasant Valley, Folck's Mill and Bottle Run.

Election District 15—Rockville.

The census of 1880 showed there were 78 schools for white children and three for colored children.

Nineteen of the 81 schools had two rooms, 19 had three rooms or more, while the rest were one-room buildings. They could seat 8,000 students.

Of the 127 teachers, 60 were male and 64 were female and three were male colored teachers.

Only three of them had normal school educations but the remainder held teaching certificates. The average monthly salary was $36.50.

The average daily attendance was 4,623 pupils and the value of the buildings was $305,800.

The school system cost $45,172.59 to operate in 1880. Income was $50,470.34 from state, county and town and dog taxes.

Today there are no one-room schools. This was accomplished during the past year when Valley High School was opened at Lonaconing.

Public education has come a long way. Through the series of consolidations, there are now 30 elementary schools and 10 high schools operating on an annual budget of $3,016,220.

Odd Fellows Will Install Officers

Officers of Chosen Friends Lodge 34, IOOF, will be installed at a meeting in Odd Fellows Temple, South Mechanic Street, today at 7:30 p. m.

Elective officers to be installed are Charles W. Short, noble grand, C. E. Dowlan, vice grand; P. A. Creighton, financial secretary; B E. DeBolt, recording secretary, and John E. Woodyard, treasurer.

Berkeley Springs Officer Is Cited

Lt. Colonel Arthur O. Swisher, husband of Mrs. Rachel Swisher Berkeley Springs, recently was awarded the Republic of Korea presidential unit citation for duty with the U. S. Army Communications Zone at Taegu.

In the Far East since September, 1952, Col. Swisher served in Africa during World War II. He is a graduate of West Virginia University.

Lockard Will Face Jury Trial Here Monday

Full Bench Likely To Sit For Case

Defense attorneys for William E. Lockard, 42, of Homewood Addition, charged with the murder of William F. Eline, 53, of Narrows Park, said yesterday they have requested a trial before a jury in Circuit Court Monday.

Harold E. Naughton and George R. Hughes Jr., who were appointed by the court to defend Lockard, said a plea of "not guilty" will be entered when the case comes before the court.

It is also understood that the trial will be before a full bench comprising Chief Judge Joseph D. Mish, of Hagerstown, and Associate Judges George Henderson and Morgan C. Harris.

Lockard has been held in the county jail since December 11 a few hours after the body of Eline was found in an alley just off Bedford Street near City Hall. Eline had been shot in the head with a .22 caliber rifle.

The weapon was thrown in the Potomac River at the Wiley Ford bridge, according to a statement allegedly signed by Lockard at the state's attorney's office a few days after he was taken into custody. The weapon has not been recovered.

Both men were employed by the Western Maryland Railway and had been friends for some time.

Among witnesses called to testify Monday are Assistant Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney, Detective Lieut. James E. Van, Detective Roy C. Hawse, and Officers Ralph M. Buser, Kenneth W. Morrissey, Carl E. Williams, A. Gordon Hite, Harry Iser and Warren G. Brehm.

Psychiatric Treatment Advised For Youths

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick said yesterday he has advised psychiatric treatment for two local 18-year-old youths convicted last Saturday on auto theft charges.

One of the defendants, Jerry Frantz, was sentenced to 12 months in the House of Correction. The other, Charles W. Johnson, drew a six-month term.

Winfield Adam To Address Cresaptown PTA At Dinner

The Cresaptown Parent-Teacher Association will hold its monthly meeting Thursday, January 21, at 6 p. m. in the form of a fellowship dinner in the school cafeteria.

Winfield Adam, general secretary of Central YMCA, will speak on "Better Acceptance of Civic Responsibilities."

The Tonettes, a trio of Cresaptown women, Mrs. Elizabeth Higgs, Mrs. Bernice Wotring and Miss Alice Ward, will sing.

Each organization in Cresaptown has been contacted and asked to send five representatives. Also invited have been ministers and their wives, local health department representatives as well as special teachers.

Reservations to the dinner are to be made by Friday.

The committee in charge is comprised of Miss Myra Nefflin, principal; Mrs. Walter Richardson, president of the PTA; Mrs. Otis Chaney, Mrs. Lester McGill and school cafeteria employes.

The regular PTA meeting set for tomorrow has been postponed until the night of the dinner.

After the Revolutionary War, the first nation to recognize the new United States was Holland which provided a three million guilder loan.

Camels were not found in Africa in prehistoric times.

Baptist Church Dedication Set

The newly-constructed Calvary Baptist Church in Cresaptown will be dedicated at services Sunday at 2:30 p. m., according to Rev. William L. Stroup, pastor.

The structure was erected at a cost of $27,000, Rev. Mr. Stroup stated, and was completed in time to hold Watch Night services New Year's Eve. Work on the new church was begun in September by Ray Coffman, Keyser contractor.

The dedication speaker will be Rev. Sidney S. Aldrich, pastor of Eckhart Baptist Church. Other clergymen who have been invited to participate include Rev. Jack Waite, pastor of the Christian Missionary Alliance Church of this city; Rev. Donald A. Vosseler, pastor of English Baptist Church, Frostburg, and Rev. Robert D. Glass, pastor of Grace Brethren Church, Bowling Green.

Music for the services will be by the Mixed Quartet of Pinto Mennonite Church. Mrs. Stroup will be organist and a violin solo will be presented by Paul Drechsel.

Rev. Stroup said 200 folding chairs have been given as a gift to the church from the estate of and in memory of the late Frank and Thelma Powell. Mr. Powell, Rev. Stroup explained, was a charter member of the church and a member of the first board of trustees. The chairs, he continued, will be used in the Sunday School room.

The 100-member church is one of three in Maryland which is affiliated with the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches, with headquarters in Chicago. The other Baptist churches in the state, Rev. Mr. Stroup said, are affiliated with the Southern Baptist Convention.

Additional services will be presented at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, the pastor said.

Hospital Needs Added Space

The need of an addition to Memorial Hospital was pointed out by the Board of Governors and staff doctors of Memorial Hospital at a dinner meeting in the Cumberland Country Club.

Several speakers pointed out the hospital is continually packed, with patients having to be bedded in hallways.

William A. Gunter, president of the board who conducted the business meeting, said there was a unanimous expression of opinion that the hospital's need for more space is critical.

Dr. A. G. T. Twigg spoke in behalf of the 13 dentists attending. Speaking for physicians were Dr. Donald B. Grove, president of the hospital staff, and Dr. W. F. Williams.

A former member of the board of governors, Arthur J. Weber, also discussed the problem.

Charles L. Kopp, retired superintendent of county schools and former member of the board, spoke on nursing education.

John A. Moberly, hospital superintendent, also spoke.

There are more than 600 varieties of fish in the water around Miami, Fla.

Sunday School Installs Leaders

Officers of all departments of St. Paul's Lutheran Church Sunday School were installed Sunday morning by Rev. Dr. Hixon T. Bowersox, pastor.

They are Ralph Frantz, superintendent; Harold Fishell, first assistant superintendent; David Smith, second assistant superintendent; Monroe MacKenzie, secretary; Isaac Judy, first assistant secretary; Lewis Ayers, second assistant secretary; James Orr, treasurer.

Miss Mildred Beck, superintendent of Primary Department; Miss Gladys Judy, assistant superintendent; Miss Anna Kraft, secretary; Mrs. Earl Judy, treasurer; Mrs. Myra Floto, pianist; Mrs. Harold Fishell, assistant pianist.

Mrs. James Orr, superintendent of Beginners Department; Miss Margaret Beck, assistant superintendent; Mrs. Myron Landis, secretary; Mrs. Josephine Shirley, assistant secretary and treasurer and Mrs. Leliah Thom, pianist.

Although George Washington usually is called the first president of the United States, John Hanson was elected president under the Continental Congress and signed documents as "President of the United States."

Mullaney Named President Of County Bar Association

He succeeds Simon F. Reilly of Midland, a member of the State Industrial Accident Commission.

Mullaney was born in Mt. Savage and after attending school there graduated in 1927 from LaSalle High School. He later attended Catholic University in Washington and graduated from the Law School in 1932.

During his attendance at LaSalle he was a member of the school's basketball team playing guard for two years. Mullaney was also a member of the basketball varsity at Catholic University for two years, being named on the All-District of Columbia first team one year.

When he took up the practice of law in Cumberland he was associated with the late Fuller Barnard. Later he was a member of the law firm of William C. Walsh and W. Earle Cobey. During World War II he was associated with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. Since 1944 he has had his own law office. Mullaney is active in Democratic politics.

Mullaney is married to the former Miss Anna Conroy of Barton and they have five sons.

Other officers named yesterday were Noel Speir Cook of Frostburg, vice president; George R. Hughes Jr., treasurer; and David Kauffman, secretary. The latter was re-elected.

Kauffman said the association discussed formation of a study committee to investigate proposed constitutional amendments pertaining to the judiciary and then submit recommendations to the proper legislative and bar groups.

The lawyers also voted to give $50 in prize money for the best essay in Allegany County by a high school student on American Citizenship.

CAA Will Be Asked To Approve Race

The Mayor and Council will ask the Civil Aeronautics Administration to grant the Lions Club use of Municipal Airport for its sport car racing event May 16.

Council acted Monday after the Airport Commission urged approval of the Lions' request.

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who presented the matter, said the event attracted several thousand last year and an even larger crowd is expected for the second show.

"These people take no money out of a town," the Mayor said, "but they bring a lot in."

Wins Automobile

Mrs. Mary Wilburn of Farmington, Pa., is the winner of the 1954 Ford given away by the Ford dealers in this zone, according to Thomas Smithen, manager of the St. George Motor Company.

Lockard Will Face Jury Trial Here Monday

Full Bench Likely To Sit For Case

Defense attorneys for William E. Lockard, 42, of Homewood Addition, charged with the murder of William F. Eline, 53, of Narrows Park, said yesterday they have requested a trial before a jury in Circuit Court Monday.

Harold E. Naughton and George R. Hughes Jr., who were appointed by the court to defend Lockard, said a plea of "not guilty" will be entered when the case comes before the court.

It is also understood that the trial will be before a full bench comprising Chief Judge Joseph D. Mish, of Hagerstown, and Associate Judges George Henderson and Morgan C. Harris.

Lockard has been held in the county jail since December 11 a few hours after the body of Eline was found in an alley just off Bedford Street near City Hall. Eline had been shot in the head with a .22 caliber rifle.

The weapon was thrown in the Potomac River at the Wiley Ford bridge, according to a statement allegedly signed by Lockard at the state's attorney's office a few days after he was taken into custody. The weapon has not been recovered.

Both men were employed by the Western Maryland Railway and had been friends for some time.

Among witnesses called to testify Monday are Assistant Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney, Detective Lieut. James E. Van, Detective Roy C. Hawse, and Officers Ralph M. Buser, Kenneth W. Morrissey, Carl E. Williams, A. Gordon Hite, Harry Iser and Warren G. Brehm.

Psychiatric Treatment Advised For Youths

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick said yesterday he has advised psychiatric treatment for two local 18-year-old youths convicted last Saturday on auto theft charges.

One of the defendants, Jerry Frantz, was sentenced to 12 months in the House of Correction. The other, Charles W. Johnson, drew a six-month term.

Winfield Adam To Address Cresaptown PTA At Dinner

The Cresaptown Parent-Teacher Association will hold its monthly meeting Thursday, January 21, at 6 p. m. in the form of a fellowship dinner in the school cafeteria.

Winfield Adam, general secretary of Central YMCA, will speak on "Better Acceptance of Civic Responsibilities."

The Tonettes, a trio of Cresaptown women, Mrs. Elizabeth Higgs, Mrs. Bernice Wotring and Miss Alice Ward, will sing.

Each organization in Cresaptown has been contacted and asked to send five representatives. Also invited have been ministers and their wives, local health department representatives as well as special teachers.

Reservations to the dinner are to be made by Friday.

The committee in charge is comprised of Miss Myra Nefflin, principal; Mrs. Walter Richardson, president of the PTA; Mrs. Otis Chaney, Mrs. Lester McGill and school cafeteria employes.

The regular PTA meeting set for tomorrow has been postponed until the night of the dinner.

After the Revolutionary War, the first nation to recognize the new United States was Holland which provided a three million guilder loan.

Camels were not found in Africa in prehistoric times.

Baptist Church Dedication Set

The newly-constructed Calvary Baptist Church in Cresaptown will be dedicated at services Sunday at 2:30 p. m., according to Rev. William L. Stroup, pastor.

The structure was erected at a cost of $27,000, Rev. Mr. Stroup stated, and was completed in time to hold Watch Night services New Year's Eve. Work on the new church was begun in September by Ray Coffman, Keyser contractor.

The dedication speaker will be Rev. Sidney S. Aldrich, pastor of Eckhart Baptist Church. Other clergymen who have been invited to participate include Rev. Jack Waite, pastor of the Christian Missionary Alliance Church of this city; Rev. Donald A. Vosseler, pastor of English Baptist Church, Frostburg, and Rev. Robert D. Glass, pastor of Grace Brethren Church, Bowling Green.

Music for the services will be by the Mixed Quartet of Pinto Mennonite Church. Mrs. Stroup will be organist and a violin solo will be presented by Paul Drechsel.

Rev. Stroup said 200 folding chairs have been given as a gift to the church from the estate of and in memory of the late Frank and Thelma Powell. Mr. Powell, Rev. Stroup explained, was a charter member of the church and a member of the first board of trustees. The chairs, he continued, will be used in the Sunday School room.

The 100-member church is one of three in Maryland which is affiliated with the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches, with headquarters in Chicago. The other Baptist churches in the state, Rev. Mr. Stroup said, are affiliated with the Southern Baptist Convention.

Additional services will be presented at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, the pastor said.

Hospital Needs Added Space

The need of an addition to Memorial Hospital was pointed out by the Board of Governors and staff doctors of Memorial Hospital at a dinner meeting in the Cumberland Country Club.

Several speakers pointed out the hospital is continually packed, with patients having to be bedded in hallways.

William A. Gunter, president of the board who conducted the business meeting, said there was a unanimous expression of opinion that the hospital's need for more space is critical.

Dr. A. G. T. Twigg spoke in behalf of the 13 dentists attending. Speaking for physicians were Dr. Donald B. Grove, president of the hospital staff, and Dr. W. F. Williams.

A former member of the board of governors, Arthur J. Weber, also discussed the problem.

Charles L. Kopp, retired superintendent of county schools and former member of the board, spoke on nursing education.

John A. Moberly, hospital superintendent, also spoke.

There are more than 600 varieties of fish in the water around Miami, Fla.

Sunday School Installs Leaders

Officers of all departments of St. Paul's Lutheran Church Sunday School were installed Sunday morning by Rev. Dr. Hixon T. Bowersox, pastor.

They are Ralph Frantz, superintendent; Harold Fishell, first assistant superintendent; David Smith, second assistant superintendent; Monroe MacKenzie, secretary; Isaac Judy, first assistant secretary; Lewis Ayers, second assistant secretary; James Orr, treasurer.

Andrew Wilson, music director; Mrs. Monroe MacKenzie, assistant music director; Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, co-assistant music director; Mrs. Ralph Taylor, pianist; Miss Delores Rowley, assistant pianist.

Miss Mildred Beck, superintendent of Primary Department; Miss Gladys Judy, assistant superintendent; Miss Anna Kraft, secretary; Mrs. Earl Judy, treasurer; Mrs. Myra Floto, pianist; Mrs. Harold Fishell, assistant pianist.

Mrs. James Orr, superintendent of Beginners Department; Miss Margaret Beck, assistant superintendent; Mrs. Myron Landis, secretary; Mrs. Josephine Shirley, assistant secretary and treasurer and Mrs. Leliah Thom, pianist.

Although George Washington usually is called the first president of the United States, John Hanson was elected president under the Continental Congress and signed documents as "President of the United States."

Mullaney Named President Of County Bar Association

He succeeds Simon F. Reilly of Midland, a member of the State Industrial Accident Commission.

Mullaney was born in Mt. Savage and after attending school there graduated in 1927 from LaSalle High School. He later attended Catholic University in Washington and graduated from the Law School in 1932.

During his attendance at LaSalle he was a member of the school's basketball team playing guard for two years. Mullaney was also a member of the basketball varsity at Catholic University for two years, being named on the All-District of Columbia first team one year.

When he took up the practice of law in Cumberland he was associated with the late Fuller Barnard. Later he was a member of the law firm of William C. Walsh and W. Earle Cobey. During World War II he was associated with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. Since 1944 he has had his own law office. Mullaney is active in Democratic politics.

Mullaney is married to the former Miss Anna Conroy of Barton and they have five sons.

Other officers named yesterday were Noel Speir Cook of Frostburg, vice president; George R. Hughes Jr., treasurer; and David Kauffman, secretary. The latter was re-elected.

Kauffman said the association discussed formation of a study committee to investigate proposed constitutional amendments pertaining to the judiciary and then submit recommendations to the proper legislative and bar groups.

The lawyers also voted to give $50 in prize money for the best essay in Allegany County by a high school student on American Citizenship.

CAA Will Be Asked To Approve Race

The Mayor and Council will ask the Civil Aeronautics Administration to grant the Lions Club use of Municipal Airport for its sport car racing event May 16.

Council acted Monday after the Airport Commission urged approval of the Lions' request.

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who presented the matter, said the event attracted several thousand last year and an even larger crowd is expected for the second show.

"These people take no money out of a town," the Mayor said, "but they bring a lot in."

Wins Automobile

Mrs. Mary Wilburn of Farmington, Pa., is the winner of the 1954 Ford given away by the Ford dealers in this zone, according to Thomas Smithen, manager of the St. George Motor Company.

Local Woman's Disappearance Is Still Mystery

Police have reported no progress in a state-wide search for Mrs. Louise Rebecca Spevock, 29-year-old divorcee who vanished more than three months ago from her apartment at 223 Pear Street.

Detective Lt. James E. Van said Baltimore authorities notified him that they have been unable to locate the woman. A picture and description were forwarded some time ago.

Mrs. Spevock, former employe of the Liberty Trust Company, was reportedly seen in a Baltimore restaurant by a Cumberland couple.

Her mother, Mrs. George E. Evans, who resides about 12 miles from Romney, reported the disappearance December 10. The missing woman has not been seen here since October 9 when she last worked.

A two-week pay check which Mrs. Spevock has not claimed is still being held for her at the bank. Prior to her disappearance, she left a note saying she had to go to Baltimore over the weekend and might be late returning.

Mrs. Spevock is five feet, six inches tall, weighs 126 pounds, has blue eyes, medium blonde hair and is of medium build. She wears a 1942 Romney High School class ring.

Neighbors of Mrs. Evans said yesterday that she has received no word concerning her daughter's whereabouts.

Authorities recalled that one year ago this coming Sunday the murdered body of Mrs. Odessa Frances (Molinari) Meister, 35, of Columbia Street, was found on McNamee's Hill. She disappeared December 20, 1952. The case is still unsolved.

Godfrey Figured In Plane Takeoff Incident In 1953

TETERBORO, N.J., Jan. 14 (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, who firmly denies "buzzing" the Teterboro Airport control tower with his plane in a fit of pique, figured in another takeoff incident of "abrupt maneuvering" here a year ago, the airport manager said today.

Manager William M. Beveridge said the entertainer took off in a Navion plane last year, made an "abrupt turn, and departure on a southbound heading."

Beveridge told newsmen he wouldn't call that an example of buzzing, which means zooming as close as possible to an object, but did say it was "not standard practice."

Junior Optimists Will Hear Talk By Recruiter

M/Sgt. Ralph W. Stewart, local Army and Air Force recruiter, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Braddock Junior Optimist Club at Central YMCA at 6 o'clock this evening.

The Junior Optimists, composed of boys between 13 and 17 years old, are sponsored by the Cumberland Optimist Club as a boys' project. Frank H. Kaplon is chairman of the program.

Among various matters of importance to be considered tonight is the selection of a contestant from the club for a national oratorical contest to be held in the spring.

It is estimated there are 78 million motor vehicles in use throughout the world.

State Roads Commission Calls Out 350 Pieces Of Equipment For Big Snowfall

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP) — The State Roads Commission had most of its 350 pieces of snow removal equipment out across the state tonight, fighting for the second time this week the battle to keep roads open.

The operation started about noon when snow began falling in Western Maryland.

Crews went into action as the storm moved eastward and 1,200 men were working or standing by through the night, waiting to pitch in if the snow continued falling.

They were the same 1,200 who took to the roads last Sunday afternoon and evening when the earlier storm swirled into Maryland.

Many of them were called back to work before they could take some time off to compensate for the extra hours they put in Sunday night and through Monday and Tuesday.

Frank P. Scrivener, maintenance engineer for the roads commission, said most districts had crews out Thursday afternoon and that they would be replaced by a second shift before midnight if conditions continued to grow worse.

"We've found it is always best to hold part of the crew in reserve unless conditions approach an emergency status," Scrivener explained.

"Then you have fresh men to call on. You can't work a man more than 18 hours at a stretch or you run the risk of having him hurt."

The 1,200 who battle the snow are regular roads commission maintenance men, busy at other times cutting grass along the right-of-way and patching holes.

When a big snowfall comes, they drop everything else to keep the roads open.

They start out as soon as snow begins to stick to the pavement.

The first job is to spread cinders, mixed with salt or calcium chloride, on hills, at intersections, and other points where cars are likely to stall or skid.

Each unit—usually a truck with a snow blade on front and a load of impregnated cinders—operates with two men and covers a sector of road averaging 12 miles.

Maryland has one big rotary snow plow based at Oakland, in western-most Garrett County, and it goes into action when the wind piles up big drifts that ordinary plows can't handle.

Special Music Planned At Bible Class Event

Mrs. Stanley Zmachinski will be guest soloist at a guest Sunday meeting of the Duke Memorial Bible Class Sunday at 9:45 a. m. in Central YMCA.

She will sing "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings," Liddle; "The 23d Psalm," Malotte, and "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," Willson, and will be accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Beck.

Howard Perrin will be instructor.

Cumberland Savings Has Annual Election

Arthur J. Weber is chairman of the Board; F. Brooke Whiting, president; Marcus A. Naughton, vice president; John L. Conway, cashier and Elma Hose, assistant cashier.

Directors include, Conway, James T. Coyle, W. McKinley Dailey, Webster K. Edwards, W. Jennings Milburn, Naughton, Albert L. Weber, Arthur J. Weber and Whiting.

Three Area Men Join Air Force

They are George Robert Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Keller, 239 Henderson Avenue; James M. Steele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford C. Steele, RD 1, city, and Robert Emmett Flynn Jr., son of City Police Chief and Mrs. Robert Emmett Flynn, 619 Patterson Avenue.

The three men were sent to Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y., for basic training.

Youth Is Injured

Jackie Roeder, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kalbaugh, Park Heights, LaVale, was "shaken up" and scratched and bruised in a sled-riding accident Wednesday evening when his sled struck a sand box.

The youth was X-rayed at Memorial Hospital and returned to his home. He is a member of the "sight-saving" class at Johnson Heights School and is in the sixth grade.

Area Man Accused Of Stealing Rifle

Garth Webster Yonkers is accused of taking a .35 calibre lever-action rifle valued at $81, belonging to Eugene W. Wayson, Annapolis, on December 8.

Rags Catch Fire In Coal Truck

Central Fire Company was called to the 100 block of Wineow Street early yesterday afternoon after a parked tractor leased by the Howell Coal Company caught fire.

Firemen said the slight blaze resulted from the spontaneous ignition of rags lying in the cab of the vehicle. There was no damage, they said.

Snow Won't Stop Young Lovers

It will take more than a heavy snowstorm to halt a couple of young lovers from Conneaut, Ohio.

Traveling through snow all the way, a young couple from the Ohio town arrived at the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, yesterday afternoon to apply for a marriage license. They traveled some 200 miles.

Now they must wait at least 48 hours before they can obtain the license.

Shrine Officers To Be Elected Tonight

Officers for the coming year will be elected at the annual meeting of Ali Ghan Shrine Temple at 8 o'clock tonight at Ali Ghan City Club.

It will be followed by the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Ali Ghan City Club. Preceding the session there will be a concert by the temple band.

Only One Supervisor Gets To Meeting

The Allegany Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors met yesterday afternoon in the office of County Agent Ralph F. McHenry but only one of the five supervisors was able to get to the Court House for the affair.

Wilbert R. Paul of Mt. Savage was the only supervisor present. Others there were McHenry and the two specialists from the Soil Conservation Service, Kenneth Stone and Martin Gordon.

Presbyterian Church Plans Annual Meeting

The annual congregational meeting of Southminster Presbyterian Church will be held Sunday evening, following a covered dish supper scheduled at 5 o'clock.

Rev. C. H. Goshorn, pastor of Lonaconing Presbyterian Church, will be moderator. Business will include the election of 1954 officers and the presentation of annual reports.

A two-week pay check which Mrs. Spevock has not claimed is still being held for her at the bank. Prior to her disappearance, she left a note saying she had to go to Baltimore over the weekend and might be late returning.

Mrs. Spevock is five feet, six inches tall, weighs 126 pounds, has blue eyes, medium blonde hair and is of medium build. She wears a 1942 Romney High School class ring.

Neighbors of Mrs. Evans said yesterday that she has received no word concerning her daughter's whereabouts.

Authorities recalled that one year ago this coming Sunday the murdered body of Mrs. Odessa Frances (Molinari) Meister, 35, of Columbia Street, was found on McNamee's Hill. She disappeared December 20, 1952. The case is still unsolved.

Godfrey Figured In Plane Takeoff Incident In 1953

TETERBORO, N.J., Jan. 14 (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, who firmly denies "buzzing" the Teterboro Airport control tower with his plane in a fit of pique, figured in another takeoff incident of "abrupt maneuvering" here a year ago, the airport manager said today.

Manager William M. Beveridge said the entertainer took off in a Navion plane last year, made an "abrupt turn, and departure on a southbound heading."

Beveridge told newsmen he wouldn't call that an example of buzzing, which means zooming as close as possible to an object, but did say it was "not standard practice."

Junior Optimists Will Hear Talk By Recruiter

M/Sgt. Ralph W. Stewart, local Army and Air Force recruiter, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Braddock Junior Optimist Club at Central YMCA at 6 o'clock this evening.

The Junior Optimists, composed of boys between 13 and 17 years old, are sponsored by the Cumberland Optimist Club as a boys' project. Frank H. Kaplon is chairman of the program.

Among various matters of importance to be considered tonight is the selection of a contestant from the club for a national oratorical contest to be held in the spring.

State Roads Commission Calls Out 350 Pieces Of Equipment For Big Snowfall

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP) — The State Roads Commission had most of its 350 pieces of snow removal equipment out across the state tonight, fighting for the second time this week the battle to keep roads open.

The operation started about noon when snow began falling in Western Maryland.

Crews went into action as the storm moved eastward and 1,200 men were working or standing by through the night, waiting to pitch in if the snow continued falling.

They were the same 1,200 who took to the roads last Sunday afternoon and evening when the earlier storm swirled into Maryland.

Many of them were called back to work before they could take some time off to compensate for the extra hours they put in Sunday night and through Monday and Tuesday.

Frank P. Scrivener, maintenance engineer for the roads commission, said most districts had crews out Thursday afternoon and that they would be replaced by a second shift before midnight if conditions continued to grow worse.

"We've found it is always best to hold part of the crew in reserve unless conditions approach an emergency status," Scrivener explained.

"Then you have fresh men to call on. You can't work a man more than 18 hours at a stretch or you run the risk of having him hurt."

The 1,200 who battle the snow are regular roads commission maintenance men, busy at other times cutting grass along the right-of-way and patching holes.

When a big snowfall comes, they drop everything else to keep the roads open.

They start out as soon as snow begins to stick to the pavement.

The first job is to spread cinders, mixed with salt or calcium chloride, on hills, at intersections, and other points where cars are likely to stall or skid.

Each unit—usually a truck with a snow blade on front and a load of impregnated cinders—operates with two men and covers a sector of road averaging 12 miles.

Maryland has one big rotary snow plow based at Oakland, in western-most Garrett County, and it goes into action when the wind piles up big drifts that ordinary plows can't handle.

Special Music Planned At Bible Class Event

Mrs. Stanley Zmachinski will be guest soloist at a guest Sunday meeting of the Duke Memorial Bible Class Sunday at 9:45 a. m. in Central YMCA.

She will sing "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings," Liddle; "The 23d Psalm," Malotte, and "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," Willson, and will be accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Beck.

Howard Perrin will be instructor.

The Cumberland Savings Bank held its annual meeting yesterday and elected officers and directors.

Arthur J. Weber is chairman of the Board; F. Brooke Whiting, president; Marcus A. Naughton, vice president; John L. Conway, cashier and Elma Hose, assistant cashier.

Directors include, Conway, James T. Coyle, W. McKinley Dailey, Webster K. Edwards, W. Jennings Milburn, Naughton, Albert L. Weber, Arthur J. Weber and Whiting.

Three Area Men Join Air Force

They are George Robert Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Keller, 239 Henderson Avenue; James M. Steele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford C. Steele, RD 1, city, and Robert Emmett Flynn Jr., son of City Police Chief and Mrs. Robert Emmett Flynn, 619 Patterson Avenue.

The three men were sent to Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y., for basic training.

Youth Is Injured

Jackie Roeder, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kalbaugh, Park Heights, LaVale, was "shaken up" and scratched and bruised in a sled-riding accident Wednesday evening when his sled struck a sand box.

The youth was X-rayed at Memorial Hospital and returned to his home. He is a member of the "sight-saving" class at Johnson Heights School and is in the sixth grade.

Area Man Accused Of Stealing Rifle

Garth Webster Yonkers is accused of taking a .35 calibre lever-action rifle valued at $81, belonging to Eugene W. Wayson, Annapolis, on December 8.

Rags Catch Fire In Coal Truck

Central Fire Company was called to the 100 block of Wineow Street early yesterday afternoon after a parked tractor leased by the Howell Coal Company caught fire.

Firemen said the slight blaze resulted from the spontaneous ignition of rags lying in the cab of the vehicle. There was no damage, they said.

Snow Won't Stop Young Lovers

It will take more than a heavy snowstorm to halt a couple of young lovers from Conneaut, Ohio.

Traveling through snow all the way, a young couple from the Ohio town arrived at the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, yesterday afternoon to apply for a marriage license. They traveled some 200 miles.

Now they must wait at least 48 hours before they can obtain the license.

Shrine Officers To Be Elected Tonight

Officers for the coming year will be elected at the annual meeting of Ali Ghan Shrine Temple at 8 o'clock tonight at Ali Ghan City Club.

It will be followed by the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Ali Ghan City Club. Preceding the session there will be a concert by the temple band.

Only One Supervisor Gets To Meeting

The Allegany Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors met yesterday afternoon in the office of County Agent Ralph F. McHenry but only one of the five supervisors was able to get to the Court House for the affair.

Wilbert R. Paul of Mt. Savage was the only supervisor present. Others there were McHenry and the two specialists from the Soil Conservation Service, Kenneth Stone and Martin Gordon.

Presbyterian Church Plans Annual Meeting

The annual congregational meeting of Southminster Presbyterian Church will be held Sunday evening, following a covered dish supper scheduled at 5 o'clock.

Rev. C. H. Goshorn, pastor of Lonaconing Presbyterian Church, will be moderator. Business will include the election of 1954 officers and the presentation of annual reports.

Central Invades Allegany, Beall Visits Fort Hill Tonight

LaSalle Quint Meets Vikings At Petersburg

Bruce Seeks 10th Win Over Mt. Savage; Lions Host Moorefield High

Led by their 6-foot-4 center, Richard "Dick" Waddell, a junior who has averaged 22.4 points per game in nine contests played to date, Valley High School's basketeers are slated to blow in from Lonaconing tonight to test the Allegany High Campers in a W.M.I. League game at Campobello at 8 o'clock.

Rivalling this attraction is Beall High School's invasion of Fort Hill High School tonight at 8 bells.

Bruce High, Allegany county's only undefeated scholastic team, is figured to score its 10th straight win over Mt. Savage High which battles the Bulldogs on the Westernport floor.

Officials for the three W.M.I. League games are: Joe Stanislawczyk and Bill Hahn at Allegany; Jim Roby and Joe Wagner at Fort Hill and Fred "Tack" Clark and Ray Hull at Westernport.

Valley High, coached by Johnny Meyers, invades Campobello with a four-game winning streak and a 5-4 record for the season. Allegany (8-1) was jolted for the first time on Tuesday night in an overtime thriller which Beall won at Frostburg by the score of 64-58.

Sentinels On Toboggan

Still groggy from three successive defeats at the hands of LaSalle, 42-31; Valley, 51-45, and Bruce, 57-52 in overtime, Fort Hill (5-4) should encounter a worthy rival in Beall which spilled Allegany for the first time after taking a 72-49 drubbing from Bruce. "Ebbie" Finzel's Mountaineers have won six out of eight games this season.

LaSalle's Explorers are hopeful of making it four in a row when they invade Petersburg, W. Va. tonight for the series finale with Jesse Riggleman's Petersburg High Vikings who suffered their first defeat of the season here, 62-36. The Grant County team should be much tougher on its home floor. LaSalle owns a 7-2 record while Petersburg has won six and lost two.

PVC Leaders Tangle

Leaders and runners-up will be tangling when Moorefield High's Yellow Jackets collide with the Piedmont High Lions tonight at Piedmont High School. Coach "Huck" Miers' defending champions of the Potomac Valley Conference are perched on top with a 5-0 record while Moorefield is in second place with a record of six wins and one reverse. The Yellow Jackets from Hardy County could grab the P.V.C. lead by snaring tonight's tilt.

Four other P.V.C. games are on the boards for Friday night. They are Elk Garden at Keyser, Ridgeley at Fort Ashby, Franklin at Circleville and Romney High at Capon Bridge.

Panthers Seek 8th Win

Southern, of Oakland at Parsons where the Panthers will be shooting for their 8th consecutive win.

Thomas at Rowlesburg, Beverly at Bayard, Howard at Fairmont, Hyndman at Bedford, Paw Paw at Wardensville, and West Virginia School for the Deaf (Romney) at Sanders High School, Moorefield.

Edgar Jones Resigns As Steelers' Coach

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14 (AP) — Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones, a star halfback for the University of Pittsburgh during the late 30's and early 40's, resigned today as backfield coach of the National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers.

Jones, with the Steelers only during the 1953 season, said he will become a salesman for a paper products firm headed by Joe Skladany, former Pitt player.

Undergoes Surgery

BROOKLYN, June 14 (AP) — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's all-star catcher and National League's most valuable player of 1953, was operated on for the removal of external and internal hemeroids today, the Dodger front office announced.

Campanella, who entered Queens General Hospital yesterday will be released in four or five days.

Cleveland Buckeyes Play Old Germans Here Sunday

Locals Seek 6th Win; Game Set For 9 P. M.

Cumberland's Old Germans will resume firing on Sunday when they play the Cleveland Buckeyes at SS. Peter and Paul gym at 9 o'clock.

It will be the eighth start of the season for the locals who have won five and lost two. Both setbacks came at the hands of the Washington Jets, featuring All-America Dick Groat.

According to Bob Pence, Old Germans' player-manager, the Buckeyes have won 22 out of 25 games.

The roster of the Buckeyes includes Jack Lavell, formerly of Holy Cross; Joe Reidel, Baldwin-Wallace; Joe Donahue, formerly of Bowling Green; Bob Walsh, of Toledo U.; Bill Bennett, Dayton, and Joe Armstrong, Scranton University.

In the preliminary game, Ballistics will play the Missiles at 7:30 o'clock. These teams are made up of employes of the Allegany Ballistics Lab and much intra-plant rivalry has resulted.

Refs Avert Trouble

By C. V. BURNS

NO SWEEPING changes in high school football rules for 1954 were made at the convention of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, held last week in Atlanta, Ga., according to Arthur G. Ramey.

Ramey and H. Edwin Semler, of Hagerstown, represented Maryland on the federation's football committee. West Virginia's representatives at the Atlanta sessions were W. G. Eismon, of Charles Town, and Frank Brinkman, of Wheeling.

Most important among the rules revisions was one calling for a 15-yard penalty for defensive holding. Heretofore, this penalty was five yards.

If a team is penalized while attempting the point-after-touchdown, the yards shall be marked off on the ensuing kickoff.

If interference of a fair catch is made on the last timed play of a quarter, the quarter will not be extended.

No player may take a spread or flanker position until he first has participated in the huddle or lined up within 15 yards of the ball.

The present substitute rule used by high schools proved satisfactory by an overwhelming vote of 4,504 to 161 while the present fair catch rules were approved by 4,137 to 482.

The committee modified rules to permit the use of a cleat with a rounded end in an attempt to eliminate cuts and cleat injuries. Another experiment will be with a new shoe that has cleats moulded in the shoe.

Forty-seven of the 48 states are affiliated with the NFSHSAA. Texas insists on running its own independent system in Texas style but its form of law and order is similar to that of the national federation.

THE NAME Keeler popped up in the news last week. It wasn't Willie or Ruby but Jesse Keeler, the boxer.

Jesse, who hails from Greensburg, Pa., was kayoed in two rounds by Joe Miceli, of New York, in a scheduled 8-rounder at Holyoke, Mass.

Keeler, incidentally, is the boxer who brought the ring career of Jim Folk, the Meyersdale, Pa., lightweight to an end at the local Armory on May 22, 1950.

The Pennsylvanian stopped Folk after handing the latter an unmerciful beating. It was Jim's 40th and final ring engagement. Folk had a 17-10 record in the amateurs and won six, lost six and fought one draw as a professional.

IN PITTSBURGH, a radio station's interviewer climbed down an open sewer to talk to the workmen and the first question he asked was:

"Have you ever met the Pirates down here?"

AUGIE EICHHORN, Bruce High cage mentor, not only has shifted the Bruce-Allegany game to the Piedmont High School court on

Reds Sign Four

CINCINNATI, Jan. 14 (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs announced tonight that they had received the signed contracts of four more members of the 1954 club.

Veteran catcher Andy Seminick, who knocked in 64 runs last year, was one of the men to sign up. Second baseman Johnny Temple, pitcher Joe Nuxhall and outfielder Jim Bolger were the others.

Somerset Beats Beall Grapplers

Pennsylvanians Win By Score Of 35-12

FROSTBURG, Jan. 14 — Somerset High School's wrestling team defeated the grapplers of Beall High School here tonight by the score of 35-12.

The Pennsylvanian won six of the 11 matches, Beall won two and three ended in draws. Somerset won three on pins and won via default when James Lewis, Beall, suffered several broken ribs when Spangler fell on him.

In team scoring three points are given for a decision, five for a pin or default and a draw is scored 2-2.

It was Beall's third loss in four matches.

The results:

98 Pounds — Drake, Somerset, decisioned William Rice, 5-3.

103 — Berkley, Somerset, decisioned Don Lewis, 6-2.

120 — Jack Ewing, Beall, decisioned Meyers, 2-0.

165 — Bill Eichhorn, Beall, and Bear drew, 2-2.

175 — Mike Passarell, Beall, won decision over Garlitz, 6-4.

Tickets Go On Sale Here For Bruce-AHS Contest On Monday

Tickets for the W.M.I. Basketball League game between Bruce High School and Allegany High School set for Monday, January 18, may be purchased now at Allegany High School, Coach Walter L. Bowers announced last night.

Two hundred and eighty pasteboards have been sent to Allegany High School by Bruce High officials.

William P. Hahn and Fred "Tack" Clark will officiate.

The Philadelphia Athletics have dropped eight players from their roster and have added six since Eddie Joost replaced Jimmie Dykes as manager.

Mrs. G. W. Bibby To Get Plaque At D. D. Dinner

Golf Star Will Be Honored On Jan. 31

Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland's golf queen, will receive a plaque in recognition of the fact that she did the most of any athlete to publicize Cumberland during 1953 when the Dapper Dan Club holds its sports benefit dinner at the Knights of Columbus Home, Sunday, January 31.

Mrs. Bibby's achievements were reviewed in the "Sports Chronology of 1953" which appeared in the Cumberland News on January 1.

John Alderton, University of Maryland's co-captain, received the award at the Dapper Dan Club's fifth annual banquet last year.

Joseph K. Mooney, president of the Dapper Dan Club, has announced that Clarence Miles, president of the Baltimore Orioles will be unable to attend the dinner.

Tickets priced at $5 per person, including tax, may be purchased at the Galen Bar,. Nu-Way Shoe Shop, Goodfellowship Club, Wilson Hardware Company, Spa Bar, Southern Bar, Geatz's Cafe and Shaw's Tavern. Proceeds of the dinner go to local charities.

SS. Peter-Paul Posts 7th Win

Top St. Mary's, 58-29; Van Parsons Gets 26

Van Parsons dumped in 26 points on 13 field goals last night as SS. Peter and Paul's undefeated quint registered its 7th straight victory of the C.Y.O. League over St. Mary's on the latter's court. The score was 58-29.

Held to an 11-10 score in the first period, Coach Bob Mattingly's aggregation found the range in the second period, upped its lead to 38-12, and was on top 50-21 when the third stanza was concluded.

Tommy Kegg and Delton Barbe scored 11 points each for the league leaders. Beck with eight points and Howell and Garlitz with six each paced St. Mary's scorers.

The twin bill scheduled for SS. Peter and Paul court was postponer because road conditions made travel too hazardous for the Frostburg, Mt. Savage and Westernport teams.

Beckley Faces Potomac State

Cats Play 7th WVIC Contest At Keyser

Paced by the sharpshooting Luther Stover, who has scored 217 points for a 24.1 average, Beckley College's basketeers are scheduled to invade Keyser tonight for a West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference contest with Dana "Horse" Lough's Catamounts.

It will be the tenth start for Potomac State which broke its eight-game losing streak Wednesday night by upsetting Shepherd College at Shepherdstown to the tune of 80-77.

Tonight's game will be the 7th in the WVIC for State which dropped its first five to Salem, 87-78, West Liberty 78-64, West Virginia Tech 82-72, Fairmont State 83-73 and Alderson-Broaddus 82-60 before beating the Rams. Five of Potomac's losses were suffered on the home floor.

Sande Abandons Comeback Plans Due To Injury

Hopes To Make Bid At New York Tracks

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (INS) — Dejected Earl Sande said today that he had to abandon his second racing comeback attempt because of a bad shoulder and a lack of funds.

Sande, the plucky jockey who came out of retirement last year to boot home his first winner in 21 years, told International News Service:

"I wanted another try. And I was going to attempt it at the Hialeah meet in Florida, but I guess Lady Luck won't smile again.

"I have to give up all hope of riding this winter. I just don't have enough money to go south and I'm bothered by a wrenched shoulder.

The 55-year-old Sande, winner of three Kentucky Derbies in his racing days of glory, said he injured the shoulder recently when he slipped and fell while mounting a horse.

"It seemed like nothing at the time," the balding handy guy said mournfully. "But that night the shoulder stiffened and I knew that I'd have to put off my plans for the time being."

Sande has hopes of making another bid when the New York racing season opens this spring, but he admitted it would be difficult to get any mounts at his present weight — 120 pounds.

The jockey said he will try to lose the excess poundage and will continue to jog horses in preparation for the New York meets.

Sande disclosed that motion picture companies still are approaching him about the possible screening of his life story.

Allman Receives Blocking Trophy

CLINTON, S. C., Jan. 14 (AP) — Trophies for superiority in the task of paving the way for the football carrier went to outstanding blockers of the three areas here tonight.

The Jacobs blocking trophies were awarded at a banquet to All-America guard Crawford Mims of the University of Mississippi and fullback Bill Wohrman of South Carolina and Tommy Allman of West Virginia.

Mims' award was for the Southeastern Conference, Allman's for the Southern Conference, and Wohrman's two were for the Atlantic Coast Conference and for the state.

Stadium Inn, K-C Win, 3-0

Fisher & Robinette, Amvets Make Sweeps

Stadium Inn and the Cumberland Knights of Columbus scored 3-0 victories last night and remained two games apart in the close race of the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League.

The league leaders from Frostburg beat the Hi Dee Club to make their season's record 34-11. The Knights topped the Cumberland VFW. The runner-up team now owns a 32-13 record.

Other results were:

Skins Get Dorow, 4th Quarterback

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP) — The Washington Redskins today signed Al Dorow, the former Michigan State passing star, thereby placing themselves in a position unique in the club's history: The Redskins now have too many quarterbacks.

Dorow jumps into competition for the club's No. 1 passing assignment with Eddie Lebaron, Jack Scarbath and Harry Gilmer, all football throwers of note. There's a chance that Larry Isbell, the former Baylor great, may get in the act, too.

It's a far cry from the 17 year stretch—it ended last season—when the Redskins operated with one passing threat. Fellow named Samuel Baugh.

Since his graduation from Michigan State two years ago, Dorow has been playing a fine brand of football with the Bolling Air Force Base here. Bolling won the national service championship in 1952.

Charles Disagrees With Louis On Proper Way To Fight Champ

Ez Favors Crowding Slugger Like Rocky

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—The handlers of former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles will meet with International Boxing Club President Jim Norris and Al Weill, manager of champion Rocky Marciano, in New York next week to discuss a title bout between Marciano and Charles.

Charles last night knocked out hard-hitting Bob Satterfield of Chicago in the second round of a free-swinging bout at the Chicago stadium. The crashing left that flattened Satterfield presumably shot 32-year-old Charles into a June meeting with Marciano.

Truman Gibson, IBC secretary, said Charles' co-managers, Jake Mintz and Tom Tannas, would await the huddle with Norris and Weill before planning any future bouts for Charles.

"We'd like to keep busy," said Tannas. "Charles has never avoided any opponent. Unless Weill and Norris want us to mark time until Charles might fight Marciano, we'd like to box anybody. That includes Dan Bucceroni, Clarence Henry or Nino Valdes."

Former champion Joe Louis, after watching Charles belt out Satterfield, said Ez could not fight Marciano the same way.

"Charles will have to stay away from Marciano to have a chance to regain the title," Louis said.

Charles, however, disagreed.

"I'll fight Marciano the same way I fought Coley Wallace (whom he stopped Dec. 16) and Satterfield," said Charles. "You've got to crowd those sluggers and try and keep inside their long swings. I think I'm punching harder than ever and can handle myself at close range with Rocky."

Bob Porterfield Is Disappointed

Says He's Worth More Than Senators Offer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Bob Porterfield, the American League's leading pitcher of 1953, today joined the growing list of Washington Senators who think they're worth more money than the club has offered.

Washington's 22-game winner said the Senators "didn't offer anywhere near as much as I expected."

Calvin Griffith, the club's vice president, replied that "Porterfield has been paid extremely well since he has been with us." Griffith noted that the Senators lost $159,000 in home and road receipts last year as compared with 1952.

Porterfield was offered a raise, but it could not be learned how big it was. Last season, he shot up from a 13-14 mark to a record of 22-10, leading the major leagues in shutouts with nine.

Licenses Revoked By Racing Solons

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (INS) — The New York State Racing Commission revoked the owners licenses today of Mrs. Sara Chait and her son, Barton D. Chait.

The wife and son of Abe Chait, who was described by the commission as an "undesirable because of his criminal record and association with criminals," were barred for "misrepresentation."

The commission charged that Mrs. Chait and her son "fronted" the racing operations of Abe Chait.

Kiner Reports He's Satisfied With Contract

Ernie Banks May Start At Short For Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, seventh-place finishers last season, today had slugging Ralph Kiner in the fold and high hopes that a rebuilding program would pay off in 1954.

At a press luncheon, Wid Matthews, director of player personnel, announced that outfielder Kiner had wired from Pebble Beach, Calif., that terms of his 1954 contract were "completely satisfactory."

The terms were not disclosed by Matthews, but Kiner reportedly received $65,000 last season when the Cubs acquired him from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Kiner batted .279 last year, hitting 35 home runs and driving across 116 runs.

Manager Phil Cavaretta named a potential opening day lineup that included a possible rookie Negro second base combination of Ernie Banks at shortstop and Gene Baker at second.

Other likely 1954 Cub opening day starters, Cavarretta said, included Joe Garagiola, catcher; Dee Fondy, first base; Ransom Jackfield; Frankie Baumholtz or Bob Talbot, center field; Hank Sauer, right field; and Bob Rush, pitcher.

Central Invades Allegany, Beall Visits Fort Hill Tonight

LaSalle Quint Meets Vikings At Petersburg

Bruce Seeks 10th Win Over Mt. Savage; Lions Host Moorefield High

Led by their 6-foot-4 center, Richard "Dick" Waddell, a junior who has averaged 22.4 points per game in nine contests played to date, Valley High School's basketeers are slated to blow in from Lonaconing tonight to test the Allegany High Campers in a W.M.I. League game at Campobello at 8 o'clock.

Rivalling this attraction is Beall High School's invasion of Fort Hill High School tonight at 8 bells.

Bruce High, Allegany county's only undefeated scholastic team, is figured to score its 10th straight win over Mt. Savage High which battles the Bulldogs on the Westernport floor.

Officials for the three W.M.I. League games are: Joe Stanislawczyk and Bill Hahn at Allegany; Jim Roby and Joe Wagner at Fort Hill and Fred "Tack" Clark and Ray Hull at Westernport.

Valley High, coached by Johnny Meyers, invades Campobello with a four-game winning streak and a 5-4 record for the season. Allegany (8-1) was jolted for the first time on Tuesday night in an overtime thriller which Beall won at Frostburg by the score of 64-58.

Sentinels On Toboggan

Still groggy from three successive defeats at the hands of LaSalle, 42-31; Valley, 51-45, and Bruce, 57-52 in overtime, Fort Hill (5-4) should encounter a worthy rival in Beall which spilled Allegany for the first time after taking a 72-49 drubbing from Bruce. "Ebbie" Finzel's Mountaineers have won six out of eight games this season.

LaSalle's Explorers are hopeful of making it four in a row when they invade Petersburg, W. Va. tonight for the series finale with Jesse Riggleman's Petersburg High Vikings who suffered their first defeat of the season here, 62-36. The Grant County team should be much tougher on its home floor. LaSalle owns a 7-2 record while Petersburg has won six and lost two.

PVC Leaders Tangle

Leaders and runners-up will be tangling when Moorefield High's Yellow Jackets collide with the Piedmont High Lions tonight at Piedmont High School. Coach "Huck" Miers' defending champions of the Potomac Valley Conference are perched on top with a 5-0 record while Moorefield is in second place with a record of six wins and one reverse. The Yellow Jackets from Hardy County could grab the P.V.C. lead by snaring tonight's tilt.

Four other P.V.C. games are on the boards for Friday night. They are Elk Garden at Keyser, Ridgeley at Fort Ashby, Franklin at Circleville and Romney High at Capon Bridge.

Panthers Seek 8th Win

Southern, of Oakland at Parsons where the Panthers will be shooting for their 8th consecutive win.

Thomas at Rowlesburg, Beverly at Bayard, Howard at Fairmont, Hyndman at Bedford, Paw Paw at Wardensville, and West Virginia School for the Deaf (Romney) at Sanders High School, Moorefield.

Edgar Jones Resigns As Steelers' Coach

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14 (AP) — Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones, a star halfback for the University of Pittsburgh during the late 30's and early 40's, resigned today as backfield coach of the National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers.

Jones, with the Steelers only during the 1953 season, said he will become a salesman for a paper products firm headed by Joe Skladany, former Pitt player.

Undergoes Surgery

BROOKLYN, June 14 (AP) — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's all-star catcher and National League's most valuable player of 1953, was operated on for the removal of external and internal hemeroids today, the Dodger front office announced.

Campanella, who entered Queens General Hospital yesterday will be released in four or five days.

Cleveland Buckeyes Play Old Germans Here Sunday

Locals Seek 6th Win; Game Set For 9 P. M.

Cumberland's Old Germans will resume firing on Sunday when they play the Cleveland Buckeyes at SS. Peter and Paul gym at 9 o'clock.

It will be the eighth start of the season for the locals who have won five and lost two. Both setbacks came at the hands of the Washington Jets, featuring All-America Dick Groat.

According to Bob Pence, Old Germans' player-manager, the Buckeyes have won 22 out of 25 games.

The roster of the Buckeyes includes Jack Lavell, formerly of Holy Cross; Joe Reidel, Baldwin-Wallace; Joe Donahue, formerly of Bowling Green; Bob Walsh, of Toledo U.; Bill Bennett, Dayton, and Joe Armstrong, Scranton University.

In the preliminary game, Ballistics will play the Missiles at 7:30 o'clock. These teams are made up of employes of the Allegany Ballistics Lab and much intra-plant rivalry has resulted.

By C. V. BURNS

NO SWEEPING changes in high school football rules for 1954 were made at the convention of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, held last week in Atlanta, Ga., according to Arthur G. Ramey.

Ramey and H. Edwin Semler, of Hagerstown, represented Maryland on the federation's football committee. West Virginia's representatives at the Atlanta sessions were W. G. Eismon, of Charles Town, and Frank Brinkman, of Wheeling.

Most important among the rules revisions was one calling for a 15-yard penalty for defensive holding. Heretofore, this penalty was five yards.

If a team is penalized while attempting the point-after-touchdown, the yards shall be marked off on the ensuing kickoff.

If interference of a fair catch is made on the last timed play of a quarter, the quarter will not be extended.

No player may take a spread or flanker position until he first has participated in the huddle or lined up within 15 yards of the ball.

The present substitute rule used by high schools proved satisfactory by an overwhelming vote of 4,504 to 161 while the present fair catch rules were approved by 4,137 to 482.

The committee modified rules to permit the use of a cleat with a rounded end in an attempt to eliminate cuts and cleat injuries. Another experiment will be with a new shoe that has cleats moulded in the shoe.

Forty-seven of the 48 states are affiliated with the NFSHSAA. Texas insists on running its own independent system in Texas style but its form of law and order is similar to that of the national federation.

THE NAME Keeler popped up in the news last week. It wasn't Willie or Ruby but Jesse Keeler, the boxer.

Jesse, who hails from Greensburg, Pa., was kayoed in two rounds by Joe Miceli, of New York, in a scheduled 8-rounder at Holyoke, Mass.

Keeler, incidentally, is the boxer who brought the ring career of Jim Folk, the Meyersdale, Pa., lightweight to an end at the local Armory on May 22, 1950.

The Pennsylvanian stopped Folk after handing the latter an unmerciful beating. It was Jim's 40th and final ring engagement. Folk had a 17-10 record in the amateurs and won six, lost six and fought one draw as a professional.

IN PITTSBURGH, a radio station's interviewer climbed down an open sewer to talk to the workmen and the first question he asked was:

"Have you ever met the Pirates down here?"

Reds Sign Four

CINCINNATI, Jan. 14 (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs announced tonight that they had received the signed contracts of four more members of the 1954 club.

Veteran catcher Andy Seminick, who knocked in 64 runs last year, was one of the men to sign up. Second baseman Johnny Temple, pitcher Joe Nuxhall and outfielder Jim Bolger were the others.

Mrs. G. W. Bibby To Get Plaque At D. D. Dinner

Golf Star Will Be Honored On Jan. 31

Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland's golf queen, will receive a plaque in recognition of the fact that she did the most of any athlete to publicize Cumberland during 1953 when the Dapper Dan Club holds its sports benefit dinner at the Knights of Columbus Home, Sunday, January 31.

Mrs. Bibby's achievements were reviewed in the "Sports Chronology of 1953" which appeared in the Cumberland News on January 1.

John Alderton, University of Maryland's co-captain, received the award at the Dapper Dan Club's fifth annual banquet last year.

Joseph K. Mooney, president of the Dapper Dan Club, has announced that Clarence Miles, president of the Baltimore Orioles will be unable to attend the dinner.

Tickets priced at $5 per person, including tax, may be purchased at the Galen Bar, Nu-Way Shoe Shop, Goodfellowship Club, Wilson Hardware Company, Spa Bar, Southern Bar, Geatz's Cafe and Shaw's Tavern. Proceeds of the dinner go to local charities.

Somerset Beats Beall Grapplers

Pennsylvanians Win By Score Of 35-12

FROSTBURG, Jan. 14 — Somerset High School's wrestling team defeated the grapplers of Beall High School here tonight by the score of 35-12.

The Pennsylvanian won six of the 11 matches, Beall won two and three ended in draws. Somerset won three on pins and won via default when James Lewis, Beall, suffered several broken ribs when Spangler fell on him.

In team scoring three points are given for a decision, five for a pin or default and a draw is scored 2-2.

It was Beall's third loss in four matches.

The results:

95 Pounds — Drake, Somerset, decisioned William Rice, 5-3.
103 — Berkley, Somerset, decisioned Don Lewis, 6-2.
112 — Faidley, Somerset, pinned Del Folk in 1st period, 5-0.
120 — Jack Ewing, Beall, decisioned Meyers, 2-0.
127 — Blank, Somerset, pinned Adam Baer in 2nd period, 5-0.
133 — Koepp, Somerset, pinned Tom Pugh, in 3rd period, 5-0.
138 — Spangler, Somerset, won by default from James Lewis, Beall, when latter suffered broken ribs, 5-0.
145 — Kenny Johnson, Beall, and Suter drew, 2-2.
154 — Jim Kergan, Beall, and Moon drew, 3-3.
165 — Bill Eichhorn, Beall, and Bear drew, 2-2.
175 — Mike Passarell, Beall, won decision over Garlitz, 6-4.

Tickets Go On Sale Here For Bruce-AHS Contest On Monday

Tickets for the W.M.I. Basketball League game between Bruce High School and Allegany High School set for Monday, January 18, may be purchased now at Allegany High School, Coach Walter L. Bowers announced last night.

Two hundred and eighty pasteboards have been sent to Allegany High School by Bruce High officials.

William P. Hahn and Fred "Tack" Clark will officiate.

The Philadelphia Athletics have dropped eight players from their roster and have added six since Eddie Joost replaced Jimmie Dykes as manager.

SS. Peter-Paul Posts 7th Win

Top St. Mary's, 58-29; Van Parsons Gets 26

Van Parsons dumped in 26 points on 13 field goals last night as SS. Peter and Paul's undefeated quint registered its 7th straight victory of the C.Y.O. League over St. Mary's on the latter's court. The score was 58-29.

Held to an 11-10 score in the first period, Coach Bob Mattingly's aggregation found the range in the second period, upped its lead to 38-12, and was on top 50-21 when the third stanza was concluded.

Tommy Kegg and Delton Barbe scored 11 points each for the league leaders. Beck with eight points and Howell and Garlitz with six each paced St. Mary's scorers.

The twin bill scheduled for SS. Peter and Paul court was postponed because road conditions made travel too hazardous for the Frostburg, Mt. Savage and Westernport teams.

Beckley Faces Potomac State

Cats Play 7th WVIC Contest At Keyser

Paced by the sharpshooting Luther Stover, who has scored 217 points for a 24.1 average, Beckley College's basketeers are scheduled to invade Keyser tonight for a West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference contest with Dana "Horse" Lough's Catamounts.

It will be the tenth start for Potomac State which broke its eight-game losing streak Wednesday night by upsetting Shepherd College at Shepherdstown to the tune of 80-77.

Tonight's game will be the 7th in the WVIC for State which dropped its first five to Salem, 87-78, West Liberty 78-64, West Virginia Tech 82-72, Fairmont State 83-73 and Alderson-Broaddus 82-60 before beating the Rams. Five of Potomac's losses were suffered on the home floor.

Tonight's contest is set for 8 o'clock.

Sande Abandons Comeback Plans Due To Injury

Hopes To Make Bid At New York Tracks

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (INS) — Dejected Earl Sande said today that he had to abandon his second racing comeback attempt because of a bad shoulder and a lack of funds.

Sande, the plucky jockey who came out of retirement last year to boot home his first winner in 21 years, told International News Service:

"I wanted another try. And I was going to attempt it at the Hialeah meet in Florida, but I guess Lady Luck won't smile again.

"I have to give up all hope of riding this winter. I just don't have enough money to go south and I'm bothered by a wrenched shoulder.

The 55-year-old Sande, winner of three Kentucky Derbies in his racing days of glory, said he injured the shoulder recently when he slipped and fell while mounting a horse.

"It seemed like nothing at the time," the balding handy guy said mournfully. "But that night the shoulder stiffened and I knew that I'd have to put off my plans for the time being."

Sande has hopes of making another bid when the New York racing season opens this spring, but he admitted it would be difficult to get any mounts at his present weight — 120 pounds.

The jockey said he will try to lose the excess poundage and will continue to jog horses in preparation for the New York meets.

Sande disclosed that motion picture companies still are approaching him about the possible screening of his life story.

Allman Receives Blocking Trophy

CLINTON, S. C., Jan. 14 (AP) — Trophies for superiority in the task of paving the way for the football carrier went to outstanding blockers of the three areas here tonight.

The Jacobs blocking trophies were awarded at a banquet to All-America guard Crawford Mims of the University of Mississippi and fullback Bill Wohrman of South Carolina and Tommy Allman of West Virginia.

Mims' award was for the Southeastern Conference, Allman's for the Southern Conference, and Wohrman's two were for the Atlantic Coast Conference and for the state.

Skins Get Dorow, 4th Quarterback

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP) — The Washington Redskins today signed Al Dorow, the former Michigan State passing star, thereby placing themselves in a position unique in the club's history: The Redskins now have too many quarterbacks.

Dorow jumps into competition for the club's No. 1 passing assignment with Eddie Lebaron, Jack Scarbath and Harry Gilmer, all football throwers of note. There's a chance that Larry Isbell, the former Baylor great, may get in the act, too.

It's a far cry from the 17 year stretch—it ended last season—when the Redskins operated with one passing threat. Fellow named Samuel Baugh.

Since his graduation from Michigan State two years ago, Dorow has been playing a fine brand of football with the Bolling Air Force Base here. Bolling won the national service championship in 1952.

Charles Disagrees With Louis On Proper Way To Fight Champ

Ez Favors Crowding Slugger Like Rocky

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—The handlers of former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles will meet with International Boxing Club President Jim Norris and Al Weill, manager of champion Rocky Marciano, in New York next week to discuss a title bout between Marciano and Charles.

Charles last night knocked out hard-hitting Bob Satterfield of Chicago in the second round of a free-swinging bout at the Chicago stadium. The crashing left that flattened Satterfield presumably shot 32-year-old Charles into a June meeting with Marciano.

Truman Gibson, IBC secretary, said Charles ' co-managers, Jake Mintz and Tom Tannas, would await the huddle with Norris and Weill before planning any future bouts for Charles.

"We'd like to keep busy," said Tannas. "Charles has never avoided any opponent. Unless Weill and Norris want us to mark time until Charles might fight Marciano, we'd like to box anybody. That includes Dan Bucceroni, Clarence Henry or Nino Valdes."

Former champion Joe Louis, after watching Charles belt out Satterfield, said Ez could not fight Marciano the same way.

"Charles will have to stay away from Marciano to have a chance to regain the title," Louis said.

Charles, however, disagreed.

"I'll fight Marciano the same way I fought Coley Wallace (whom he stopped Dec. 16) and Satterfield," said Charles. "You've got to crowd those sluggers and try and keep inside their long swings. I think I'm punching harder than ever and can handle myself at close range with Rocky."

Bob Porterfield Is Disappointed

Says He's Worth More Than Senators Offer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Bob Porterfield, the American League's leading pitcher of 1953, today joined the growing list of Washington Senators who think they're worth more money than the club has offered.

Washington's 22-game winner said the Senators "didn't offer anywhere near as much as I expected."

Calvin Griffith, the club's vice president, replied that "Porterfield has been paid extremely well since he has been with us." Griffith noted that the Senators lost $159,000 in home and road receipts last year as compared with 1952.

Porterfield was offered a raise, but it could not be learned how big it was. Last season, he shot up from a 13-14 mark to a record of 22-10, leading the major leagues in shutouts with nine.

Licenses Revoked By Racing Solons

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (INS) — The New York State Racing Commission revoked the owners licenses today of Mrs. Sara Chait and her son, Barton D. Chait.

The wife and son of Abe Chait, who was described by the commission as an "undesirable because of his criminal record and association with criminals," were barred for "misrepresentation."

The commission charged that Mrs. Chait and her son "fronted" the racing operations of Abe Chait.

Kiner Reports He's Satisfied With Contract

Ernie Banks May Start At Short For Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, seventh-place finishers last season, today had slugging Ralph Kiner in the fold and high hopes that a rebuilding program would pay off in 1954.

At a press luncheon, Wid Matthews, director of player personnel, announced that outfielder Kiner had wired from Pebble Beach, Calif., that terms of his 1954 contract were "completely satisfactory."

The terms were not disclosed by Matthews, but Kiner reportedly received $65,000 last season when the Cubs acquired him from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Kiner batted .279 last year, hitting 35 home runs and driving across 116 runs.

Manager Phil Cavaretta named a potential opening day lineup that included a possible rookie Negro second base combination of Ernie Banks at shortstop and Gene Baker at second.

Wilbur Ewbank Is Named New Coach Of Baltimore Colts

Molesworth Is Vice President Of N.F.L. Team

Ewbank Was Tackle Coach, Talent Scout Of Cleveland Browns

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP) — Wilbur Ewbank took the job of coaching the Baltimore Colts today with the "sole idea to start a regime" similar to the Cleveland Browns of which he has been a successful part.

Ewbank gave up his job as an assistant coach of the Browns to head the job for the Colts, who returned last season to the National Football League after a two year absence.

Both Ewbank and his new employers emphasized to a news conference that his aim is to pattern Baltimore after the Browns who dominated the defunct All America Conference and have been a prevailing power in the National.

Molesworth Named V.P.

The appointment of Ewbank pushed Keith Molesworth, coach of the Colts in their return to the National League last season, into an administrative job with the organization. A position of executive vice president was created for Molesworth.

Both Don Kellett, Colt president and general manager, and Carroll Rosenbloom, the principal owner, said the changes were made as an expansion move to give Baltimore a winner. The team won only three games last season, while losing eight.

"If hard work will do it, we have the possibility of attainment," Ewbank told the newsmen.

Rosenbloom said that with hiring of the new coach "I feel we now have a man who will help build a winner. We've promised the people of Baltimore a winner. Until we give it to them, we won't be happy."

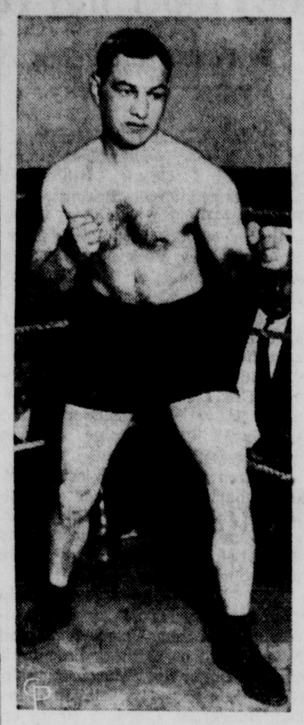
30 Applied For Job

Rosenbloom said 30 applicants and a list of prospects prepared by the Colts had been interviewed for the head coaching job. "We always returned to the successful Cleveland Browns," he said of the search.

The 46-year-old Ewbank has been Browns' tackle coach and chief talent scout for five years. They both are alumni of Miami University of Ohio which Ewbank coached for 13 years.

Before rejoining Brown in the pro game, Ewbank was his assistant at Great Lakes Naval Training Station during World War II. Ewbank also was an assistant coach at Brown and for two years he directed Washington U. of St. Louis to 14 victories for 13 in 18 games.

Ex-champ Dead



FORMER lightweight boxing champion, Rocky Kansas, 58, has succumbed at Buffalo, N.Y. Kansas won the crown in 1925 and lost it seven months later to Sammy Mandell. During his career he took part in 162 bouts. (International)

Top Harness Driver

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Del Miller of Meadow Lands, Pa., leading harness driver on the Grand Circuit in 1953, had almost a $50,000 edge over his nearest rival.

Miller won $234,490. Del Cameron of Harvard, Mass., won $184,958.

Miller won the title in 1950 by earning $259,933. He was second in 1951 with $170,591 and third in 1952 with $159,154.

Heart Flash Cops Feature

Scores Over Leclaire, Favorite At Tropical

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 14 (AP) — Mrs. D. L. MacLachlan's Heart Flash, winner of 11 of 18 starts in 1953, opened his 1954 campaign with a rousing victory in the Glenecho Purse before 10,986 at Tropical Park today.

The consistent 6-year-old son of Seven Hearts was in front all the way in an exceptionally fast effort, going 5½ furlongs in 1:04 2-5 equalling the best time at the meeting for the distance.

At the end of the sprint, he had a neck to spare over Leclaire Stable's 6 to 5 favorite, Ballydam while Putnam Stable's Combat Boots was two and a half lengths farther back.

Fourth in the field of 12 crack speedsters in this feature sixth race was Pur Sang, winner of the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes as a juvenile.

Backers of Heart Flash collected $13.30, $4.50 and $3.50 Across the board. He was ridden by Gayle L. Smith, whose chief claim to fame as a jockey came when he figured in the famous triple dead heat which marked the Carter Handicap at Aqueduct—Wait A Bit, Brownie and Bossuet--about a decade ago.

Wilbur Ewbank Is Named New Coach Of Baltimore Colts

Molesworth Is Vice President Of N.F.L. Team

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP) — Wilbur Ewbank took the job of coaching the Baltimore Colts today with the "sole idea to start a regime" similar to the Cleveland Browns of which he has been a successful part.

Ewbank gave up his job as an assistant coach of the Browns to head the job for the Colts, who returned last season to the National Football League after a two year absence.

Both Ewbank and his new employers emphasized to a news conference that his aim is to pattern Baltimore after the Browns who dominated the defunct All America Conference and have been a prevailing power in the National.

Molesworth Named V.P.

The appointment of Ewbank pushed Keith Molesworth, coach of the Colts in their return to the National League last season, into an administrative job with the organization. A position of executive vice president was created for Molesworth.

Both Don Kellett, Colt president and general manager, and Carroll Rosenbloom, the principal owner, said the changes were made as an expansion move to give Baltimore a winner. The team won only three games last season, while losing eight.

"If hard work will do it, we have the possibility of attainment," Ewbank told the newsmen.

Rosenbloom said that with hiring of the new coach "I feel we now have a man who will help build a winner. We've promised the people of Baltimore a winner. Until we give it to them, we won't be happy."

30 Applied For Job

Rosenbloom said 30 applicants and a list of prospects prepared by the Colts had been interviewed for the head coaching job. "We always returned to the successful Cleveland Browns," he said of the search.

The 46-year-old Ewbank has been Browns' tackle coach and chief talent scout for five years. They both are alumni of Miami University of Ohio which Ewbank coached for 13 years.

Before rejoining Brown in the pro game, Ewbank was his assistant at Great Lakes Naval Training Station during World War II. Ewbank also was an assistant coach at Brown and for two years he directed Washington U. of St. Louis to 14 victories for 13 in 18 games.

Top Harness Driver

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Del Miller of Meadow Lands, Pa., leading harness driver on the Grand Circuit in 1953, had almost a $50,000 edge over his nearest rival.

Miller won $234,490. Del Cameron of Harvard, Mass., won $184,958.

Miller won the title in 1950 by earning $259,933. He was second in 1951 with $170,591 and third in 1952 with $159,154.

Heart Flash Cops Feature

Scores Over Leclaire, Favorite At Tropical

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 14 (AP) — Mrs. D. L. MacLachlan's Heart Flash, winner of 11 of 18 starts in 1953, opened his 1954 campaign with a rousing victory in the Glenecho Purse before 10,986 at Tropical Park today.

The consistent 6-year-old son of Seven Hearts was in front all the way in an exceptionally fast effort, going 5½ furlongs in 1:04 2-5 equalling the best time at the meeting for the distance.

At the end of the sprint, he had a neck to spare over Leclaire Stable's 6 to 5 favorite, Ballydam while Putnam Stable's Combat Boots was two and a half lengths farther back.

Fourth in the field of 12 crack speedsters in this feature sixth race was Pur Sang, winner of the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes as a juvenile.

Backers of Heart Flash collected $13.30, $4.50 and $3.50 Across the board. He was ridden by Gayle L. Smith, whose chief claim to fame as a jockey came when he figured in the famous triple dead heat which marked the Carter Handicap at Aqueduct—Wait A Bit, Brownie and Bossuet—about a decade ago.

Maryland To Open 1954 Football Season At Kentucky

Terps To Play Second Tilt On Pacific Coast

Game With UCLA Set Oct. 1; Wake Forest, N. C. State On Card

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Jan. 14 (AP)—Maryland's elected national intercollegiate football champions of 1953 will open their 1954 schedule the hard way and close it on the easy grade.

The 10-game schedule announced today opens at Kentucky Sept. 18 and then sends Maryland to Los Angeles for a Friday night game, Oct. 1, with UCLA.

Maryland's last four games are at home with North Carolina State, Clemson, George Washington and Missouri. Wake Forest, North Carolina will be played in between.

Kentucky, UCLA, North Carolina State, and Wake Forest are 1954 replacements for Washington & Lee, Georgia, Mississippi, and Alabama of last season.

The last game with Missouri offers a possibility of making the Orange Bowl situation ticklish. Maryland and Missouri could be the logical choices for the Miami bowl when they meet.

The bowl has a contract to take representatives of Maryland's Atlantic Coast Conference and Missouri's Big Seven. The Big Seven has a rule that the same team can't go two years in a row which eliminates Oklahoma, 7-0 conquerors of Maryland this year. Missouri could finish runner up in the conference and qualify for the bowl.

The Atlantic Coast Conference has no rule which would ban Maryland from returning to Miami.

The 1954 Maryland schedule:

Sept. 18, Kentucky, away.

Oct. 1, UCLA, away (night); 9, Wake Forest, away; 16, North Carolina, home; 22, Miami, away (night); 30, South Carolina, away.

Nov. 6, North Carolina State, home; 13, Clemson, home; 20, George Washington, home; 27, Missouri, home.

MISS LOUISE BAKER made her debut at Fairgo last June as a trainer of race horses. One of her biggest boosters was Louis Pascal, who will be remembered as the trainer of Rising Temper, which finished in the money three times, Pictura, Night Raid, Flying Beam and Video Queen.

Now Miss Baker is Mrs. Louis Pascal. They were married December 29 at Westminster.

During the Fairgo meeting Miss Baker trained Bonesciana, Smoke Puff and Margaret A.

Lou is now wintering a 12-horse stable at Timonium.

DON ASMONGA, former Altoona Flyer ace, didn't last long with the Baltimore Bullets. He appeared in seven games, scored only five points and was given his release by Coach Clair Bee.

REMEMBER Robert F. "Bob" Duffy, who was the leading winning trainer at the Cumberland Fair Grounds several times in recent years?

Duffy, who lives at Bel Air, Md., has taken on a three months' assignment as starter for the Greek Jockey Club in Athens.

The popular Irishman, who is well known on all of Maryland's minor racing ovals, got his new assignment at the request of the British Bloodstock Agency, which was seeking a capable starter to teach the Greeks how to use an American starting gate.

PROMPT WORK by officials Alex Rich and Bill Bossi, who have worked high school basketball games in Allegany County in recent years, and Altoona police is credited with preventing what could have developed into major trouble in the last 28 seconds of play as Coach Paul Abele's Johnstown High Trojans defeated Altoona last weekend by the score of 58-46 for their 10th straight victory.

In a struggle between Don Betar and Ted Woods of Altoona and George Hanna of Johnstown for the ball, Betar fell into the scorers' table, striking his head.

That set off a mild uproar which brought a few fans out of the stands, with a girl identified as Betar's sister striking Hanna. It took several minutes to restore order.

Coach Job?

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (INS) — There was a time when all sports writers used to worry about the "inhuman monsters" who owned the ball clubs and paid a "mere pittance to those down-trodden slaves—the ball players."

We must admit we were one of the worst offenders. We can recall what we thought was our righteous wrath because Col. Jake Ruppert, the Yankee owner, was going to give "poor" Babe Ruth a "mere" $80,000 when the Babe "certainly deserved" at least $100,000.

And this, mind you, at a time when we were never too sure of having enough dough to pay our own rent.

We have to laugh now when we think of our own folly. One day Col. Ruppert said to us: "It's wonderful the way you sports writers can give away my money. See if you are as eager to give money away when you get as much as I have."

We thought, then, and still think, that last sentence is a pip. You will appreciate the point better when we tell you that the good Colonel left an estate valued at $70,000,000 when he died.

Yes, we raved and ranted to get many a ball player a bigger contract but we can not recall a single instance in which the ball player ever showed any appreciation of our efforts.

On the contrary, one of the two feuds we've ever had, grew out of our effort to get Bill Terry an increase from John McGraw. McGraw pointed out that although Terry had hit .400 he hadn't driven in enough runs and when we quoted what McGraw said Terry got sore, blaming us rather than McGraw.

So now when we read that Bob Carpenter is trying to cut Robin Roberts' salary some $3,500 we are not going to work ourselves into a lather over a question which surely does not concern us.

However, we do think Carpenter's argument that Roberts was paid $40,000 because he was a 25-28 game winner and had dropped out of that class because he won "only" 23 last year seems ridiculous.

Here is a case where you see the value of that baseball reserve clause—to the club owners.

If Roberts were free to step out and negotiate a contract with another club, he not only would not have his salary cut, but we know several clubs which would be glad to pay him $50,000. Perhaps more, because Roberts is surely one of the two or three outstanding pitchers of the game.

Among the clubs we have in mind are the Red Sox, Giants, Yanks and White Sox. Why, we'd be willing to give odds that even Branch Rickey of the Pirates would be glad to pay him $20,000. Of course, for that kind of dough Branch would expect the big right hander to win at least 30 games.

One thing sure—we are not going to worry about it.

Racing Solons To Consider Shift Of Cumberland Meet

Seek Marlboro Track To Avoid Conflict With Charles Town

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14 (AP) — The Maryland Racing Commission tomorrow considers requests of Cumberland and Ocean Downs to change 1954 assignments.

Cumberland wants contingent permission to operate at Marlboro instead of its own track and Ocean Downs seeks a revision of the schedule for harness horses.

Cumberland would like to move its 10 days of Aug. 4-14 to Southern Maryland to get farther away from competition at nearby Charles Town if that West Virginia track decides to operate the same time. The 10 days at Marlboro would then be more inviting to Washington fans who also provide a good deal of business at Charles Town.

Ocean Downs also wants to avoid competition with Brandywine Raceway, a harness track at Wilmington, Del. To do it, it is asking the commission to let it operate July 7-Aug. 2 instead of Aug. 3-Aug. 28.

The new dates sought by Ocean Downs had been alloted to Baltimore Raceway. The seashore track proposed that Baltimore take the June 10-July 6 dates given to Laurel and that Laurel switch to the present Ocean Downs dates in August.

When D. Eldred Rinehart, commission chairman, announced the schedule last month he was asked if it was irrevocable. He replied it was.

Murry Dickson's Son Doesn't Like Trade

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Jan. 14 (AP) — Pitcher Murry Dickson's 5-year-old son, Stevie, is "disgusted."

After hearing that the Pittsburgh Pirates had traded his daddy to the Philadelphia Phillies, Stevie appeared at the home of a playmate and said:

"I'm for the Pirates. I've always been for the Pirates. Daddy's for the Pirates. And then some fellow called up and said he had been sold to the Phillies.

"I'm really disgusted."

REDS SIGN PITCHING PHENOM

WINNER of 50 games while losing only one in his high school career, Ken Gaskins (right), a pitcher from Amelia, O., has been signed by the Cincinnati Reds at a "considerable bonus." Gaskins is seen with Bill McKechnie, Jr., farm director of the Redlegs, The 22-year-old righthander has just ended a stretch in the service. (International)

Saddler Fights Bossio Tonight

Non-Title Affair Set For New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP) — Featherweight champ Sandy Saddler, due to get out of the Army in the spring, makes his first start in almost two years tomorrow night against little Billy Bossio.

It will be a "Mutt and Jeff" match between the lanky 5-foot-7 champion and 5-foot-1 Bossio with no title at stake. Saddler expects to weigh about 13 pounds, six over the feather limit. There is practically no betting with Saddler at least 3½ to 1.

The 10-round match, starting at 10 p.m. (EST) will be given the usual Friday network treatment on radio (ABC) and TV (NBC).

Saddler, stationed in Germany until he came home on leave, hasn't fought since March 17, 1952 when he knocked out Tommy Collins in Boston. That was a year before Jimmy Carter did his job on Tommy.

Gavilan Is Honored, Gets Neil Plaque

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan received the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque as Fighter of the Year for 1953 and Dr. Vincent A. Nardiello was honored for "long and meritorious service tonight at the boxing writers' annual dinner.

The Neil Award, named in memory of the former Associated Press boxing writer who was killed while covering the war in Spain, was presented by Jack Dempsey. The former heavyweight champion received the first Neil Plaque in 1938.

To Fight At Detroit

DETROIT, Jan. 14 (AP)—Middleweights Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., and Joey Giambra of Buffalo, will meet in a 10-round feature bout at Olympia Stadium Feb. 3, International Boxing Club matchmaker Nick Londes announced today. Andrews took a 10-round decision over Joey Klein Monday night in New York while Giambra was decisioned by Bobby Dykes in 10 rounds at Miami his last time out.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Jan. 14 (AP) — Pitcher Murry Dickson's 5-year-old son, Stevie, is "disgusted."

After hearing that the Pittsburgh Pirates had traded his daddy to the Philadelphia Phillies, Stevie appeared at the home of a playmate and said:

"I'm for the Pirates. I've always been for the Pirates. Daddy's for the Pirates. And then some fellow called up and said he had been sold to the Phillies.

"I'm really disgusted."

REDS SIGN PITCHING PHENOM

WINNER of 50 games while losing only one in his high school career, Ken Gaskins (right), a pitcher from Amelia, O., has been signed by the Cincinnati Reds at a "considerable bonus." Gaskins is seen with Bill McKechnie, Jr., farm director of the Redlegs, The 22-year-old righthander has just ended a stretch in the service. (International)

Saddler Fights Bossio Tonight

Non-Title Affair Set For New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP) — Featherweight champ Sandy Saddler, due to get out of the Army in the spring, makes his first start in almost two years tomorrow night against little Billy Bossio.

It will be a "Mutt and Jeff" match between the lanky 5-foot-7 champion and 5-foot-1 Bossio with no title at stake. Saddler expects to weigh about 13 pounds, six over the feather limit. There is practically no betting with Saddler at least 3½ to 1.

The 10-round match, starting at 10 p.m. (EST) will be given the usual Friday network treatment on radio (ABC) and TV (NBC).

Saddler, stationed in Germany until he came home on leave, hasn't fought since March 17, 1952 when he knocked out Tommy Collins in Boston. That was a year before Jimmy Carter did his job on Tommy.

It has been well over two years since Saddler last defended his title against Willie Pep.

Gavilan Is Honored, Gets Neil Plaque

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan received the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque as Fighter of the Year for 1953 and Dr. Vincent A. Nardiello was honored for "long and meritorious service tonight at the boxing writers' annual dinner.

The Neil Award, named in memory of the former Associated Press boxing writer who was killed while covering the war in Spain, was presented by Jack Dempsey. The former heavyweight champion received the first Neil Plaque in 1938.

To Fight At Detroit

DETROIT, Jan. 14 (AP)—Middleweights Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., and Joey Giambra of Buffalo, will meet in a 10-round feature bout at Olympia Stadium, Feb. 3, International Boxing Club matchmaker Nick Londes announced today. Andrews took a 10-round decision over Joey Klein Monday night in New York while Giambra was decisioned by Bobby Dykes in 10 rounds at Miami his last time out.

Corn Meal And Molasses Offer Treat For Dessert

The versatile corn meal that kept America's colonists alive during their first winter in this country makes a delightful dessert when combined with molasses, or sorghum, cinnamon, ginger and milk to make an Indian Pudding. Topped with vanilla ice cream, it is an attractive and healthful dessert, especially for the youngsters.

Indian Pudding is almost as old as America, itself, for it was another use of corn meal developed by the early settlers. Even early-day recipes specified milk as the liquid, and the addition of an egg to increase the healthful qualities of this dessert.

The ice cream, of course, is a more modern touch, but it is an outgrowth of the earlier practice of serving Indian Pudding with cool cream, or a hard sauce, poured over it. This dessert may be served warm or cold, no matter what topping is used.

Men like Indian Pudding with a big scoop of vanilla ice cream. Children will regard it as a special treat with ice cream.

Indian Pudding

½ cup corn meal
1 quart hot milk
1 tablespoon butter
1 egg, well beaten
¼ cup granulated sugar
½ cup light molasses (or sorghum)
½ teaspoon cinnamon (optional)
½ teaspoon ginger (optional)
1 cup cold milk

Add corn meal slowly to scalding milk, stirring constantly. Heat to boiling and boil until thickened, about 10 minutes. Add butter and mix. Combine remaining ingredients except cold milk and mix with corn meal mixture. Pour into a well-buttered 1½-quart casserole and bake ½ hour in slow oven, 300° F. Add the cold milk, stir, and continue baking for 2 hours. Serve warm or cold with ice cream, cream, or hard sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

Once a week wipe off finger marks from doors, woodwork and painted walls, if you want to keep your house looking shipshape. Use a damp cloth wrung out of water in which you've dissolved some sudsy detergent.

Most of the typhoons that thrash the coasts of Korea and Japan in late summer and early fall originate in the China sea east of Formosa.

Resolve This Year To Learn New Meat Cuts

At the top of your New Year's resolutions here's a statement you'll want to make—"add interest to mealtime." It's all too easy to fall into the habit of serving the same foods time and again. This beginning of a new year is a grand time to resolve to add new and different foods to your menus.

For instance, you may have found yourself limiting your menu planning to around ten to twelve different meat cuts. When you learn there are more than 120 different cuts of meat you realize the variety you're missing.

Ask your meat dealer the names and how to prepare the cuts you do not recognize, says meat expert Reba Staggs. Beef cuts that may be new to you include short ribs, flank steak, flank steak fillets, heel of round, plate beef, brisket, shank cross cuts. In pork consider shoulder cut arm and blade steaks, end loin roasts, picnic shoulder, pork hocks. In lamb learn such cuts as square cut, cushion or rolled shoulder, shoulder cut arm and blade shops, neck slices, lamb patties, riblets, breast, and shanks.

. . . . magnificent mink stole FREE

GET THAT Million Dollar LOOK . . . .
FROM THE Million Dollar BEER!

That's right, Old German Beer this month will give away a natural ranch mink stole of matchless beauty, worth hundreds & hundreds of dollars. Old German, the beer that's so dry, so light, so smooth, so fine that its formula is insured for one million dollars, is giving away the one garment that provides a million dollar appearance.

HERE'S ALL YOU DO:

Examine Old German bottle caps. Pry up the cork lining — it's easy with a key or nail file — and you'll find a letter there. Save your letters till you can spell out O-L-D G-E-R-M-A-N. Then send all nine letters or reasonable facsimiles thereof to Queen City Brewing Co., Cumberland, Md. In the same envelope complete this statement in 10 words or less "I prefer Old German Beer because . . ." Winning entry each month will be judged on basis of accuracy, cleverness and clarity. It is not necessary to buy the beer from which the caps come in order to win. The letter will be found in cap-sealed bottles or cans. Judges have no connection with Brewery and their decision is final.

No employee of the Brewery or its advertising agency nor any wholesaler or retailer or their employees selling Old German Beer is eligible to win the mink stole.

Corn Meal And Molasses Offer Treat For Dessert

The versatile corn meal that kept America's colonists alive during their first winter in this country makes a delightful dessert when combined with molasses, or sorghum, cinnamon, ginger and milk to make an Indian Pudding. Topped with vanilla ice cream, it is an attractive and healthful dessert, especially for the youngsters.

Indian Pudding is almost as old as America, itself, for it was another use of corn meal developed by the early settlers. Even early-day recipes specified milk as the liquid, and the addition of an egg to increase the healthful qualities of this dessert.

The ice cream, of course, is a more modern touch, but it is an outgrowth of the earlier practice of serving Indian Pudding with cool cream, or a hard sauce, poured over it. This dessert may be served warm or cold, no matter what topping is used.

Men like Indian Pudding with a big scoop of vanilla ice cream. Children will regard it as a special treat with ice cream.

Indian Pudding

½ cup corn meal
1 quart hot milk
1 tablespoon butter
1 egg, well beaten
¼ cup granulated sugar
½ cup light molasses (or sorghum)
½ teaspoon cinnamon (optional)
½ teaspoon ginger (optional)
1 cup cold milk

Add corn meal slowly to scalding milk, stirring constantly. Heat to boiling and boil until thickened, about 10 minutes. Add butter and mix. Combine remaining ingredients except cold milk and mix with corn meal mixture. Pour into a well-buttered 1½-quart casserole and bake ½ hour in slow oven, 300° F. Add the cold milk, stir, and continue baking for 2 hours. Serve warm or cold with ice cream, cream, or hard sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

Once a week wipe off finger marks from doors, woodwork and painted walls, if you want to keep your house looking shipshape. Use a damp cloth wrung out of water in which you've dissolved some sudsy detergent.

Most of the typhoons that thrash the coasts of Korea and Japan in late summer and early fall originate in the China sea east of Formosa.

Resolve This Year To Learn New Meat Cuts

At the top of your New Year's resolutions here's a statement you'll want to make—"add interest to mealtime." It's all too easy to fall into the habit of serving the same foods time and again. This beginning of a new year is a grand time to resolve to add new and different foods to your menus.

For instance, you may have found yourself limiting your menu planning to around ten to twelve different meat cuts. When you learn there are more than 120 different cuts of meat you realize the variety you're missing.

Ask your meat dealer the names and how to prepare the cuts you do not recognize, says meat expert Reba Staggs. Beef cuts that may be new to you include short ribs, flank steak, flank steak fillets, heel of round, plate beef, brisket, shank cross cuts. In pork consider shoulder cut arm and blade steaks, end loin roasts, picnic shoulder, pork hocks. In lamb learn such cuts as square cut, cushion or rolled shoulder, shoulder cut arm and blade shops, neck slices, lamb patties, riblets, breast, and shanks.

Many modern paints are odorless.

GET THAT Million Dollar LOOK . . . .
FROM THE Million Dollar BEER!

That's right, Old German Beer this month will give away a natural ranch mink stole of matchless beauty, worth hundreds & hundreds of dollars. Old German, the beer that's so dry, so light, so smooth, so fine that its formula is insured for one million dollars, is giving away the one garment that provides a million dollar appearance.

HERE'S ALL YOU DO:

Examine Old German bottle caps. Pry up the cork lining — it's easy with a key or nail file — and you'll find a letter there. Save your letters till you can spell out O-L-D G-E-R-M-A-N. Then send all nine letters or reasonable facsimiles thereof to Queen City Brewing Co., Cumberland, Md. In the same envelope complete this statement in 10 words or less "I prefer Old German Beer because . . ." Winning entry each month will be judged on basis of accuracy, cleverness and clarity. It is not necessary to buy the beer from which the caps come in order to win. The letter will be found in cap-sealed bottles or cans. Judges have no connection with Brewery and their decision is final.

No employee of the Brewery or its advertising agency nor any wholesaler or retailer or their employees selling Old German Beer is eligible to win the mink stole.

Use Beef Stew Meat In Variety Of Dishes

A hearty meat stew is just the dish to set before a hungry family on nippy winter evenings. Beef continues plentiful, with stew meat one of the thriftier meat buys.

Here's a tasty variation of the standard beef stew, known as Hungarian goulash. In this tested recipe, beef stew meat is simmered to fork tenderness in bouillon seasoned with a generous amount of paprika and a whiff of garlic. When the meat is almost tender, cubed potatoes are added to cook in the rich broth. Served with a simple fruit salad and hard rolls, Hungarian goulash makes a satisfying family dinner dish.

HUNGARIAN GOULASH — Hungarian goulash is a favorite dish for winter dinners. This popular beef stew variation consists of cubes of beef cooked slowly in liquid which is generously seasoned with paprika. Potatoes are added towards the end of the cooking time as the stew bubbles to a flavorful finish.

PORK STEAK DINNER — This two E's dinner — easy and economical — is one you'll want to serve often. Pork shoulder steaks are baked with a colorful and tasty vegetable-rice topping and served on a pretty platter with buttered green peas.

Hungarian Goulash

1 pound beef stew meat
1 clove garlic
2 medium onions
2 teaspoons paprika
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 bouillon cubes
2 cups boiling water
2 cups diced potatoes

Cut meat into 1-inch cubes and brown in a little hot fat. Add minced garlic, sliced onions, seasonings and the bouillon cubes dissolved in the hot water. Cover and simmer 2½ hours. Add 1 cup hot water and potatoes, cut in ¾ inch cubes. Cook 20 minutes longer, or until potatoes are tender. Season to taste and thicken, if necessary. 4 servings.

Secrets Of A Good Stew

If you'd be an expert stew-maker, follow these basic rules:

1. Use any meat desired — beef veal, lamb or pork — and cut into cubes.

2. Dip meat cubes into seasoned flour and brown in a little hot fat over medium heat. For best results, brown only a few cubes at a time.

3. Add interesting seasonings, such as some celery tops, a few whole cloves and a bay leaf. Then add liquid to cover meat.

4. Cover and cook over low heat until meat is nearly tender.

5. Add the desired vegetables and cook until they are done. Favorite choices are carrots, potatoes and onions. Other interesting variations are peas, green beans, cauliflower, whole kernel corn, lima beans, kidney beans and cabbage.

6— Remove meat and vegetables to a hot platter and thicken liquid with a flour and water paste. Season gravy and pour over meat and vegetables.

Beef Stew Around The World

Beef stew is an international dish. Here's the tested recipe for a South-of-the-Border version of the versatile stew. Cubes of beef are cooked with tomato sauce and kidney beans. Then the mixture is poured into a cornmeal mush "crust" and baked.

Mexican Beef Pie

1½ pounds beef stew meat
Flour, salt, pepper, fat
½ cup chopped onions
1 clove garlic
2 teaspoons chili powder
1 (8 ounce) can tomato sauce
1 No. 2 can kidney beans
1 cup cornmeal

Cut meat into ½ inch cubes, sprinkle with salt and pepper and roll in flour. Brown well in a little hot fat. Add onions, minced garlic, chili powder, tomato sauce and 2 cups water. Cover and cook over low heat until meat is tender, about 2 hours. Stir occasionally to prevent sticking. Add undrained kidney beans and heat thoroughly. Line the bottom and sides of a greased 1½ quart casserole with cornmeal mush made by cooking the cornmeal in 3 cups boiling, salted water; fill with meat mixture. Bake at 375° for 25 minutes. 6 servings.

The peach originally came from China where it has been a popular fruit for more than 5,000 years.

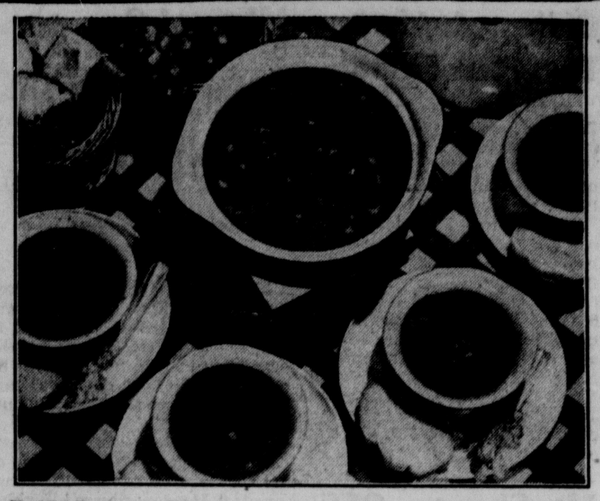
Soup Rates As Best Buy

Price-wise is the homemaker who buys canned soups for many of the hundreds of meals ahead in the New Year. Research experts have just announced that since 1940, prices for soups have increased less than half as much as for all other foods.

That's one of the good reasons for the noticeable rise in sales of canned soups. Since 1940, the number of cans of soup sold has more than doubled.

Check your grocery bills and see what a reasonable price tag is on soup. This is a good time to take stock . . . and stock up on it for many winter meals. When the family comes home to lunch, sit them down to steaming bowls of clam chowder with grilled cheese sandwiches. Cold night? Give everyone a warm welcome home with fragrant tomato soup, franks on buns, and orange-grapefruit salad.

Fit for your best guests too are pleasant, informal soup suppers. Hand around brimming bowls of vegetable soup to eat with juicy burgers on buns. Sometimes you can give a new twist to the vegetable soup. Mix it with browned ground beef plus bean with bacon soup. Then the meal is complete with toasted cheese bread and relishes. Here are exact instructions for this VEGA-BEEF SOUP.



LADLE steaming savory soup into big bowls and you're all set for an informal winter party. This is two canned soups tastily teamed — vegetable plus bean with bacon soup. These products are best buys both for the price and for eating enjoyment.

Vega-Beef Soup

½ pound ground beef
Dash salt
1 tablespoon shortening
1 medium onion, chopped
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed vegetable soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed bean with bacon soup
1 soup can water

Season beef with salt and brown it in shortening in a saucepan. Remove beef; brown onion in pan. Pour in soups; blend well; stir in the water. Simmer a few minutes to blend flavors. Add beef to the soup mixture just before serving and heat all together. Makes 4 servings.

Cheers For '54

Ring in the New Year and drink a cheery toast to '54. Have chilled cocktail vegetable juices for the toast. This lively-flavored beverage is a perfect midnight snack with cheese and crackers. Serve the sparkling red juice in paper cups; pass crackers with spreads on paper plates. You can decorate the plates and cups yourself. Paint a big '54 on each, using red nail polish for the paint. Gives a real New Year's party look to the buffet or dining table.

Ketchup Adds Zing To Burgers

Invite your crowd over for a "Hamburger Heaven" party. That's a special supper of burgers with plenty of trimmings. Right in style now with beef so available. For the hamburgers, ketchup is a must. And you can spice up that rich red sauce with your own special seasonings. How about Garlic Ketchup; that's ½ cup of the red sauce blended with 1 mashed clove of garlic. Or mix 1 tablespoon horseradish with ½ cup ketchup for another peppy topper. Still another; ½ cup ketchup with ¼ cup mustard. Offer a variety of these ketchup toppers to give the burgers plenty of zing. Also offer sliced onion, crisp lettuce and pickles. Folks will find these hamburgers are heavenly for sure.

Combine Spaghetti With Dried Beef

Plan supper around cans of spaghetti on the night when your family seems "hollow to the toes." With the spaghetti, mix dried beef and green beans. That's elegant eating. First cook 2-ounces of sliced dried beef in 1 tablespoon shortening in a skillet; cook slightly, just until edges curl. Stir in 1 can of spaghetti in tomato sauce; add 1 cup drained cooked green beans (unsalted) and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Heat well. This makes 2 servings; you'll probably want to double it.

Some farm experts say that corn is 25 per cent more nutritious when turned into silage than when fed to animals as grain and fodder.

The famous artist Leonardo da Vinci saw the possibility of making an automobile and several steam vehicles 400 years ago.

7th Annual Maple Festival Plans Are Underway In Somerset County

Coronation Scheduled For Friday, April 1

MEYERSDALE — The sweet aroma of boiling "sugar water" will soon arouse hundreds of residents of this community of 3124 people, as well as those of surrounding communities, for the production of the seventh annual Somerset County Maple Festival.

Regarded as the outstanding promotion event of the year, the Maple Festival is established as a non-profit group. The nationally recognized celebration is sponsored by the Meyersdale Chamber of Commerce.

Two Separate Events

Divided into two separate functions, festivities begin with the selection of a maple queen, maids of honor and princesses for the queen's court, at a Maple Queen Contest to be held in the spacious Cambria County War Memorial in Johnstown, Wednesday, February 24 at 8:15 p. m. Coronation of the maple Queen on Friday, April 1, will begin a three-day celebration in Meyersdale, termed the "Maple City," where thousands of people visit each year to witness or take part in numerous activities.

Each county high school selects a contestant from its senior class to compete in the Maple Queen Contest. The girls compete for the title of Maple Queen, Maids of Honor and Princesses in the queen's court. The girls are judged on beauty, talent and personality.

Scholarship For Queen

Queen Maple the Seventh will receive a senatorial scholarship, numerous gifts and awards, and will have the opportunity of making many personal appearances throughout the year of her reign.

Also selected through a competitive contest will be a sugar king. To be eligible for this title, maple producters compete in a maple products contest in which maple syrup, sugar cakes, and other delicacies are judged by experts in their field. The producer winning the highest number of points is named sugar king and is awarded a gold trophy by the Meyersdale Rotary Club.

Bashore Is Chairman

General chairman for the 1954 Maple Festival is Herman E. Bashore, co-publisher and managing-editor of the Meyersdale Republican, the community's weekly newspaper. Bashore served as publicity director since the festival was started in 1948. He also served as co-chairman for the 1951 festival.

Contest For Queen Court, February 24

The general chairman stated that more emphasis will be placed on the role played by the farmer-producer in the maple industry. An expanded maple products show is being planned. A meeting of maple producers show is being planned. A meeting of maple producers with county extension workers and representatives of Penn State University and the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be held in the near future.

Committees Named

Other improvements considered for the 1954 festival are decorations for the community and the encouragement of business and store displays, more and better eating facilities to accommodate the many visitors, and a well rounded program of education, entertainment and enjoyment for all.

Headquarters for the celebration have been opened in the New Colonial Hotel. Mrs. Thomas G. Saylor is secretary, and Henry J. Beamer is finance committee chairman and treasurer. Paul A. Stephens is chairman in charge of advertising for the souvenir program.

Mt. Savage Man Dies After Fall At Cumberland

Final Rites Saturday For Joseph P. Noonan

MT. SAVAGE — A Mt. Savage man died yesterday in Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, where he was admitted three days ago after injuring himself when he fell on an icy pavement on Liberty Street in Cumberland.

Joseph P. Noonan, 67, suffered a broken hip in the Tuesday accident, attaches reported. An autopsy was performed by Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner.

A native and life-long resident of Mt. Savage, Mr. Noonan was a retired employe of the Celanese Corporation. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society, Knights of Columbus and Chief Justice Taney Fourth Degree.

A son of the late James and Ellen (Dunnigan) Noonan of Mt. Savage, Mr. Noonan is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice R. Noonan; a daughter, Mrs. James O'Rourke, Odenton, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Miller, Ridgeley, and Sister Mary Edward, an Ursuline nun of Louisville, Ky. A brother, Charles, died October 12. He also leaves four grandchildren.

The body is at the residence. A funeral mass will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday in St. Patrick's Church here. Burial will follow in the parish cemetery.

The Holy Name Society will assemble at the residence tonight at 7:30 o'clock to recite the rosary.

College Students Tour New School

FROSTBURG—The Public School Class of Frostburg State Teachers College recently made a tour of Valley High School, Lonaconing, under the guidance of Jack A. Petry, principal.

The purpose of the tour was to observe the new structure of the building and the modern facilities that it houses.

Students making the tour were Susan Richmond, Shirley Ketterman, Sally Beck, Nancy Robertson, Betty Miller, Lolita Llewellyn, Margaret Mongold, Lee Smith, Frank Poland, Glenn Lewis and John Barham. They were accompanied by Dr. Harold Reese, class adviser

Mt. Chapter OES Installs Leaders In Frostburg

FROSTBURG — Newly elected officers of Mt. Chapter No. 15, Order of Eastern Star, were installed Wednesday evening by Pearl Richardson, installing officer, assisted by Evelyn K. Lemmert, marshal; Jane Brain, chaplain; Hilda Kroll and Veanetta Powell, organists; Mildred Van Horn, warder, and Thomas B. Powell, sentinel.

Those installed were: Ethel Hager, worthy matron; Charles Wiebrecht, worthy patron; Helen Harvey, associate matron; Willard Harvey, associate patron; Eleanor Martens, secretary; Margaretha Yates, treasurer; Ann Bennett, conductress; Mary Settle, associate conductress.

Violette Johnson, chaplain; Mary Wiebrecht, marshal; Veanetta Powell, organist; Mary Lou Bender, "Ada"; Juanita Stahl, "Ruth"; Mary Elizabeth Davis, "Esther"; Mary Lou Prichard, "Martha"; Elizabeth Eckhart, "Electa"; Eldora Richardson, warder, and Edgar Bennett, sentinel.

Following the installation, Violette Johnson, retiring worthy matron, presented gifts to all officers assisting her during the past year, and to all members and guests who attended the meeting.

A ceremony, "Down Memories Lane," was performed in Mrs. Johnson's honor. A rehearsal of the newly elected officers will be held Friday evening, under direction of Mrs. Mary Davis, deputy grand lecturer.

Mineral County Farm Bureau To Name Officers

Directors To Meet At Keyser, Jan. 25

KEYSER — The newly elected directors of Mineral County Farm Bureau, will meet January 25 to organize and elect officers for the current year. The meeting will be held in the office of the county agent in Mineral County Court House.

The following directors were elected at the annual dinner, at the Old Homestead Hotel, Burlington, last Monday: Russell Junkins and W. H. Kitzmiller, Elk District; Ervin Bane and John S. Arnold Jr., New Creek District; A. S. A. Holsinger and J. Oliver Bane, Welton District; Garland Ebert and James E. Taylor, Cabin Run District, and Fred Siple and H. N. Bosley, Frankfort District. Directors-at-large selected were: Lawrence Idleman and J. R. Stickley.

Lawrence Idleman, president of the bureau, acted as toastmaster at the dinner, and F. L. Miles, organizational director of the West Virginia Farm Bureau, guest speaker, was introduced to the diners by Clyde Bonar, president of the West Virginia Farm Bureau. Miles discussed the importance of farmers organizing, and explained the expanding program and services available to members.

Garland Ebert discussed membership plans for the current year and solicited members.

Past Grands Association Meets At Keyser Monday

KEYSER—The Tri-State Past Grands Association will be guests of Queen's Point and Mount Olive Lodges of Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Monday evening, in the local Odd Fellows' Temple. The meeting is scheduled to get under way at 8 p. m., following a short business session of Queen's Point Lodge, set for 7 p. m.

State College Will Sponsor Religious Week

CYF And Newman Club Arrange Programs

KEYSER — The second annual Religious Emphasis Week program at Potomac State College will open on the campus February 14, and continue through Wednesday, February 17. The program is being sponsored by the Christian Youth Fellowship and the Newman Club, campus organizations devoted to the maintenance and development of student's spiritual lives.

President E. E. Church is chairman of the executive committee, with the following members: Dean K. S. McKee; W. E. Michael, faculty advisor for the CYF; J. Kenna Burke, faculty advisor for the Newman Club; Ethel Harper, president of the CYF, and Lee Sisselberger, president of the Newman Club.

Two prominent guest leaders will be on the campus as speakers and consultants during the program. The Rev. Allen Howes, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Monessen, Pa., and the Rev. Adrian Brennan, OFM., a member of the Franciscan Order, Seaside, N. J. Both have accepted invitations to serve as leaders.

The general theme of the program is "Religion and the Individual." The opening session will be held Sunday, the opening day of the program, at 7:30 p. m., in Science Hall. At that time the two guest speakers will be introduced to the student body with the general theme being applied.

"Religion as a Standard for Personal Conduct," will be the specific theme for Monday, followed by "Religion as a Standard for the Home," on Tuesday, and "Religion as a Standard for Citizenship" on Wednesday.

Daily programs will follow a schedule: 8 to 11 a. m., guest leaders will visit classrooms; 11 to 12, noon, convocation in the auditorium of the administration building; 1 to 3 p. m., visits to classrooms; 3 to 4 p. m., seminars (individual); 7:30 p. m., convocation in the auditorium; 9:15 p. m., informal discussion, leaders with students, in the dormitories.

The program on Wednesday will follow the same schedule given on the two previous days, with the exception that the 7:30 p. m. convocation will be the closing exercise, with the general public invited to attend. At this time the Potomac State Singers will sing.

7th Annual Maple Festival Plans Are Underway In Somerset County

Coronation Scheduled For Friday, April 1

MEYERSDALE — The sweet aroma of boiling "sugar water" will soon arouse hundreds of residents of this community of 3124 people, as well as those of surrounding communities, for the production of the seventh annual Somerset County Maple Festival.

Regarded as the outstanding promotion event of the year, the Maple Festival is established as a non-profit group. The nationally recognized celebration is sponsored by the Meyersdale Chamber of Commerce.

Two Separate Events

Divided into two separate functions, festivities begin with the selection of a maple queen, maids of honor and princesses for the queen's court, at a Maple Queen Contest to be held in the spacious Cambria County War Memorial in Johnstown, Wednesday, February 24 at 8:15 p. m. Coronation of the maple Queen on Friday, April 1, will begin a three-day celebration in Meyersdale, termed the "Maple City," where thousands of people visit each year to witness or take part in numerous activities.

Each county high school selects a contestant from its senior class to compete in the Maple Queen Contest. The girls compete for the title of Maple Queen, Maids of Honor and Princesses in the queen's court. The girls are judged on beauty, talent and personality.

Scholarship For Queen

Queen Maple the Seventh will receive a senatorial scholarship, numerous gifts and awards, and will have the opportunity of making many personal appearances throughout the year of her reign.

Also selected through a competitive contest will be a sugar king. To be eligible for this title, maple producters compete in a maple products contest in which maple syrup, sugar cakes, and other delicacies are judged by experts in their field. The producer winning the highest number of points is named sugar king and is awarded a gold trophy by the Meyersdale Rotary Club.

Bashore Is Chairman

General chairman for the 1954 Maple Festival is Herman E. Bashore, co-publisher and managing-editor of the Meyersdale Republican, the community's weekly newspaper. Bashore served as publicity director since the festival was started in 1948. He also served as co-chairman for the 1951 festival.

Contest For Queen Court, February 24

The general chairman stated that more emphasis will be placed on the role played by the farmer-producer in the maple industry. An expanded maple products show is being planned. A meeting of maple producers show is being planned. A meeting of maple producers with county extension workers and representatives of Penn State University and the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be held in the near future.

Committees Named

Other improvements considered for the 1954 festival are decorations for the community and the encouragement of business and store displays, more and better eating facilities to accommodate the many visitors, and a well rounded program of education, entertainment and enjoyment for all.

Headquarters for the celebration have been opened in the New Colonial Hotel. Mrs. Thomas G. Saylor is secretary, and Henry J. Beamer is finance committee chairman and treasurer. Paul A. Stephens is chairman in charge of advertising for the souvenir program.

Mt. Savage Man Dies After Fall At Cumberland

Final Rites Saturday For Joseph P. Noonan

MT. SAVAGE — A Mt. Savage man died yesterday in Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, where he was admitted three days ago after injuring himself when he fell on an icy pavement on Liberty Street in Cumberland.

Joseph P. Noonan, 67, suffered a broken hip in the Tuesday accident, attaches reported. An autopsy was performed by Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner.

A native and life-long resident of Mt. Savage, Mr. Noonan was a retired employe of the Celanese Corporation. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society, Knights of Columbus and Chief Justice Taney Fourth Degree.

A son of the late James and Ellen (Dunnigan) Noonan of Mt. Savage, Mr. Noonan is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice R. Noonan; a daughter, Mrs. James O'Rourke, Odenton, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Miller, Ridgeley, and Sister Mary Edward, an Ursuline nun of Louisville, Ky. A brother, Charles, died October 12. He also leaves four grandchildren.

The body is at the residence. A funeral mass will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday in St. Patrick's Church here. Burial will follow in the parish cemetery.

The Holy Name Society will assemble at the residence tonight at 7:30 o'clock to recite the rosary.

Valley High Senior Combines Culinary Art With English Classes Covering "MacBeth"

Robert Moore Wants To Become A Chef

By MARIE MERRBAUGH
Cumberland News Correspondent

LONACONING — Robert Moore, a senior at Valley High School, combined his art in culinary with his study of "Macbeth" in English. The castle represents Fife, the home of Macduff, who kills Macbeth at the end of the play. It is made of cardboard and covered with colored icing to represent the stones in the walls and towers. Chocolate icing represents the windows and parapets. Green vegetable coloring in the icing forms the grass around the castle.

The Globe Theater is made of six flat layers of cake with icing used as a mortar between the layers, which stand in perpendicular position to form the six walls of the theater. The top of the theater and the small houses are made of cardboard and covered with icing. Chocolate icing forms the door and the windows. A flag flies from the tower to signify that a play is in progress.

He is a son of James I. Moore, Island Street. He is a Highlights writer, and was in the cast of the Christmas play, "Why the Chimes Rang" and is an active member of the Junior Town Meeting.

He works at James Marshall's restaurant and has been interested in cooking since he was in the seventh grade, his vocation career interest being a chef. His special field in cookery is baking.

Cooking With Shakespeare

Robert Moore, son of James I. Moore, Island Street, Lonaconing, displays a cake and an icing covered cardboard model of structures he created in connection with his Shakespearean studies in Miss Esther Holzshu's Valley High School English class. Robert wants to become a first class chef.

Twin Pianists Please Keyser Music Lovers

KEYSER — There was a large audience to greet Ernest and Miles Mauney, twin pianists in the Keyser Community Concert Association's mid-winter presentation in Keyser High School auditorium.

Despite the extremely cold weather, with the thermometer registering close to zero, music lovers of Keyser and vicinity turned out to hear a piano duo of national renown, present a concert that was well worth the efforts to brave slippery sidewalks and severely cold weather.

The twins, natives of North Carolina, presented a masters' concert. The Mauney Twins have been touring, appearing as soloists with orchestras and as a duo through the South, the East and in Canada.

Keyser Baby Is Victim Of Polio

KEYSER—A six-months-old Keyser boy was stricken with polio Wednesday afternoon and admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital.

The victim of the much dreaded disease is little Maurice Spencer, son of Sgt. and Mrs. Maurice M. Spencer, 15 "A" Street, Keyser. Sgt. Spencer is stationed with the Air Force at Sampson Air Force Base, New York.

The youth was stricken Wednesday and was to be moved to Monongalia General Hospital, Morgantown, last evening.

The case was the first in Mineral County this year. Last year Mineral reported three cases, while in 1952 four polio sufferers were recorded in the county.

Sigma Iota Chi Sorority Plans Sweetheart Ball

Event Scheduled For February 13

KEYSER — Sigma Iota Chi Sorority has selected Saturday, February 13, as the date for its annual Sweetheart Ball, which will be sponsored with the assistance of their brother fraternity, Phi Sigma Nu.

A Sweetheart will be selected by the fraternity from the Sorority membership and will be presented formally during intermission at the dance.

Decorations for the dance will follow the St. Valentine Day motif, with hearts and red and white colors predominating. Negotiations are under way to have one of the popular dance orchestras of the area play for the event.

Sorority committees have been named by Miss Ruth Deavers, president, to take care of arrangements.

Twin Pianists Please Keyser Music Lovers

KEYSER — There was a large audience to greet Ernest and Miles Mauney, twin pianists in the Keyser Community Concert Association's mid-winter presentation in Keyser High School auditorium.

Despite the extremely cold weather, with the thermometer registering close to zero, music lovers of Keyser and vicinity turned out to hear a piano duo of national renown, present a concert that was well worth the efforts to brave slippery sidewalks and severely cold weather.

The twins, natives of North Carolina, presented a masters' concert. The Mauney Twins have been touring, appearing as soloists with orchestras and as a duo through the South, the East and in Canada.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 14 (INS) — How would you like to see Gary Cooper as "Daniel Boone" in the life story of the great American frontiersman?

Well, Milton Sperling has contacted him in Mexico to ask him to play the woodsman who has been a hero to all American youngsters. Gary's very intrigued with the idea and may accept.

Milton has the script of "Daniel Boone" ready to go, and this is one picture the Boy Scouts will want to see. Well, so will I. Didn't we all study about Daniel Boone and his 'coonskin hat in our history book?

John Farrow has been working a long time on T. S. Eliot for the screen rights to "The Cocktail Party," a very controversial hit of two or three seasons ago on Broadway.

Many playgoers hailed the play as "sheer art" while others came away having not the slightest idea what the psychiatric opus was about.

Farrow has given the playwright full assurance that he will screen the play just as it was presented on Broadway with just a few necessary changes to camera technique — and today Eliot wired his "okay."

Johnny wants Greer Garson and Jean Simmons for his stars.

Cesar Romero, who likes doing TV, but hates living in New York gets back to his beloved California and his pals Feb. 16 — but just for ten days.

He's due in Mexico City to join up with Burt Lancaster and Gary Cooper for "Vera Cruz" which should also be to Butch's liking as he loves Mexico.

From there he returns to Hollywood to set a spell as he makes the remake of "The Americano" for RKO. I know Fieldsie and Walter Lang will be glad to have Butch home. Their scrabble games haven't been the same since Romero went east.

We won't be seeing Liz Taylor until March or early April because after she finishes "Beau Brummel" she'll star in "Babylon Revisited."

Director Richard Brooks leaves for England very soon to direct her in this F. Scott Fitzgerald classic.

I wondered why Paramount, which owned this Fitzgerald story for so long, didn't make it. I am told it is because Y. Frank Freeman thought it had too much drinking in it.

Some of the scene will be made right here in Hollywood. Liz is very happy in England.

In New York, Arlene Dahl and the Prince of Hanover (brother of the Queen of Greece) were at a table for two at the Sherry Netherlands. This is the second time the redhead has gone out with the handsome prince.

Moss Hart is in town to look at the scenes of Judy Garland's picture, "A Star Is Born." He's here early because he starts his Broadway play, "Anniversary Waltz."

Warner Brothers have acquired the rights to the life of Mary Baker Eddy. It's a property that many studios have tried to buy.

Someone, but someone, has to talk to Terry Moore. The ermine bathing suit episode has gone to her head and she stops at nothing now to get publicity.

Suzan Ball's doctor, Francis L. Engelman, says that she is being helped by her friends and well wishers.

Reposing on my desk is a beautiful birthday cake, sent me by MGM, which celebrates its 30th anniversary. Coming here for the big event is Nicholas Schenck, Charles Moscowitz, Howard Dietz and the top eastern brass.

Kay Williams Spreckels was on the arm of Bentley Ryan at Eartha Kitt's opening at the Mocambo.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Boat Ride On The Volga

If you go into the whys and wherefores of Russian behavior you wind up in the infinitestimal mood.

The saying is still ripe about scratching a Russian and finding a tartar. Scratch the tartar and you find his teeth.

Twenty years ago we found we couldn't do business with Shickelgruber. Except to trade a ton of coal for a load of clinkers.

We've tried to do business with Stalin and got no further than a dropped anchor. Ike's speech to the U.N. in October was an invitation to a diagnosis.

In our opinion Moscow gave it the old dandruff brushoff.

The Soviet radio crackled that Ike threatened war and eulogized force. They twisted the meaning like they were opening a bottle.

A couple of weeks ago Russia expressed its peace-loving policies and offered to take a ticket to H-bomb negotiations.

The diplomatic experts have divided up into two schools of thought. One thinks Moscow is as sincere as a setting hen. The other says it wouldn't trust 'em any further than you could flip a manhole cover.

This business of scrapping our uranium blister is fissioned malarkey. It's a jug-handled contract.

Our roving track-walker, John Foster Dulles, mildly portfolios that Russia seems to have fumbled the idea of Ike's proposition.

Moscow never did get a can of corn off the pantry shelf in one grab. It does everything on the diagonal like the Rameses who built the Pyramids. And if the Kremlin band strikes up the Volga boat song we'll know we're going for another ride.

The most common form of city government in the United States is the mayor-council, which originated in colonial times.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

It is never advisable to assume a personality. To pretend to be what you are not is too great a tax on your acting ability and damaging to self respect as well. Since there is little possibility of putting the act over successfully and also the risk of losing individuality, why try?

It is far better to round out your character and grow into the full potential of your nature if you want to be liked and popular. Then, in all contacts you can just be your natural self, relaxed, poised and confident in your social skill.

You can go about the attainment of this enviable state in a number of different ways. But here are a few practical suggestions to serve as a workable patern.

Steps To Popularity

1. Become competent in at least three sociable or companionable activities, such as dancing, card playing, golf, badminton, bowling, swimming, riding, etc. Be able to enter into at least a few group activities so that you can uphold your part in making parties and gatherings fun.

2. Develop some strong convictions about life and opinions concerning current topics. But at the same time, guard against thinking that you may be infallible in these. To be able to debate sociably, yet listen fairly and attentively, is a great social asset. The ability to take a real and sincere interest in the views of others is of the greatest importance.

3. Master the simple rules of introducing people, acknowledging introductions, accepting and expressing appreciation for favors. Without gracious ways in such matters, your social life is sure to be impeded.

Cultivate Friendliness

4. Keep in touch with what people are talking about ... movies, books, what's happening in the world. Of such is conversation made. If you are up on current events, you will never be at a loss for conversation, nor left out while others talk across you.

5. Learn to like people. It is just as easy to cultivate a genuine feeling of affection toward humanity as it is one of dislike or disdain. It's a habit, one way or the other. The rewards that will be yours in approaching others with a welcoming and warm feeling are great. Liking people is an important secret in the success of all whose careers depend on popularity.

YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE

You can achieve an appealing, resonant, sonorous voice — one that can be a vibrant attribute to charm and success — by reading the new booklet, YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE, which gives complete instructions on how to overcome such wearisome speaking qualities as tonelessness, dullness and lack of proper modulation. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c in coin, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tomorrow: A requisite of success.

Farrow has given the playwright full assurance that he will screen the play just as it was presented on Broadway with just a few necessary changes to camera technique — and today Eliot wired his "okay."

Johnny wants Greer Garson and Jean Simmons for his stars.

Cesar Romero, who likes doing TV, but hates living in New York gets back to his beloved California and his pals Feb. 16 — but just for ten days.

He's due in Mexico City to join up with Burt Lancaster and Gary Cooper for "Vera Cruz" which should also be to Butch's liking as he loves Mexico.

From there he returns to Hollywood to set a spell as he makes the remake of "The Americano" for RKO. I know Fieldsie and Walter Lang will be glad to have Butch home. Their scrabble games haven't been the same since Romero went east.

We won't be seeing Liz Taylor until March or early April because after she finishes "Beau Brummel" she'll star in "Babylon Revisited."

Director Richard Brooks leaves for England very soon to direct her in this F. Scott Fitzgerald classic.

I wondered why Paramount, which owned this Fitzgerald story for so long, didn't make it. I am told it is because Y. Frank Freeman thought it had too much drinking in it.

Some of the scene will be made right here in Hollywood. Liz is very happy in England.

In New York, Arlene Dahl and the Prince of Hanover (brother of the Queen of Greece) were at a table for two at the Sherry Netherlands. This is the second time the redhead has gone out with the handsome prince.

Moss Hart is in town to look at the scenes of Judy Garland's picture, "A Star Is Born." He's here early because he starts his Broadway play, "Anniversary Waltz."

Warner Brothers have acquired the rights to the life of Mary Baker Eddy. It's a property that many studios have tried to buy.

Someone, but someone, has to talk to Terry Moore. The ermine bathing suit episode has gone to her head and she stops at nothing now to get publicity.

Suzan Ball's doctor, Francis L. Engelman, says that she is being helped by her friends and well wishers.

Reposing on my desk is a beautiful birthday cake, sent me by MGM, which celebrates its 30th anniversary. Coming here for the big event is Nicholas Schenck, Charles Moscowitz, Howard Dietz and the top eastern brass.

Kay Williams Spreckels was on the arm of Bentley Ryan at Eartha Kitt's opening at the Mocambo.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simple stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Are you sure it's a becoming hat? Herbert liked it."

Popularity is the result of developing and rounding out character to its full potential!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

It is never advisable to assume a personality. To pretend to be what you are not is too great a tax on your acting ability and damaging to self respect as well. Since there is little possibility of putting the act over successfully and also the risk of losing individuality, why try?

It is far better to round out your character and grow into the full potential of your nature if you want to be liked and popular. Then, in all contacts you can just be your natural self, relaxed, poised and confident in your social skill.

You can go about the attainment of this enviable state in a number of different ways. But here are a few practical suggestions to serve as a workable patern.

Steps To Popularity

1. Become competent in at least three sociable or companionable activities, such as dancing, card playing, golf, badminton, bowling, swimming, riding, etc. Be able to enter into at least a few group activities so that you can uphold your part in making parties and gatherings fun.

2. Develop some strong convictions about life and opinions concerning current topics. But at the same time, guard against thinking that you may be infallible in these. To be able to debate sociably, yet listen fairly and attentively, is a great social asset. The ability to take a real and sincere interest in the views of others is of the greatest importance.

3. Master the simple rules of introducing people, acknowledging introductions, accepting and expressing appreciation for favors. Without gracious ways in such matters, your social life is sure to be impeded.

Cultivate Friendliness

4. Keep in touch with what people are talking about ... movies, books, what's happening in the world. Of such is conversation made. If you are up on current events, you will never be at a loss for conversation, nor left out while others talk across you.

5. Learn to like people. It is just as easy to cultivate a genuine feeling of affection toward humanity as it is one of dislike or disdain. It's a habit, one way or the other. The rewards that will be yours in approaching others with a welcoming and warm feeling are great. Liking people is an important secret in the success of all whose careers depend on popularity.

YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE

You can acheve an appealing, resonant, sonorous voice — one that can be a vibrant attribute to charm and success — by reading the new booklet, YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE, which gives complete instructions on how to overcome such wearisome speaking qualities as tonelessness, dullness and lack of proper modulation. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c in coin, plus stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tomorrow: A requisite of success.

Boat Ride On The Volga

If you go into the whys and wherefores of Russian behavior you wind up in the infinitestimal mood.

The saying is still ripe about scratching a Russian and finding a tartar. Scratch the tartar and you find his teeth.

Twenty years ago we found we couldn't do business with Shickelgruber. Except to trade a ton of coal for a load of clinkers.

We've tried to do business with Stalin and got no further than a dropped anchor. Ike's speech to the U.N. in October was an invitation to a diagnosis.

In our opinion Moscow gave it the old dandruff brushoff.

The Soviet radio crackled that Ike threatened war and eulogized force. They twisted the meaning like they were opening a bottle.

A couple of weeks ago Russia expressed its peace-loving policies and offered to take a ticket to H-bomb negotiations.

The diplomatic experts have divided up into two schools of thought. One thinks Moscow is as sincere as a setting hen. The other says it wouldn't trust 'em any further than you could flip a manhole cover.

This business of scrapping our uranium blister is fissioned malarkey. It's a jug-handled contract.

Our roving track-walker, John Foster Dulles, mildly portfolios that Russia seems to have fumbled the idea of Ike's proposition.

Moscow never did get a can of corn off the pantry shelf in one grab. It does everything on the diagonal like the Rameses who built the Pyramids. And if the Kremlin band strikes up the Volga boat song we'll know we're going for another ride.

The most common form of city government in the United States is the mayor-council, which originated in colonial times.

"UPPERCUT" A NICE PLAY

ONE OF the neatest plays in the game, usually employed by the defense, but which is often fumbled by pretty fair players, is that known as "the uppercut." It consists of ruffing with a high enough trump to force a quite high one from the other side in order to over-ruff it. So doing, a trump trick may be established for the partner of the playmaker, or perhaps in his own hand.

	♠ A 8 6 4 ♥ A 8 2 ♦ 10 ♣ Q J 8 3 2
♠ K J ♥ Q 10 7 5 4 3 ♦ K 9 8 7 6 ♣ None	N W E S	♠ 10 9 2 ♥ J 6 ♦ A Q J 4 ♣ K 10 7 5
	♠ Q 7 5 3 ♥ K 9 ♦ 5 3 2 ♣ A 9 6 4

(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
4 ♠

This deal presented a chance for the rather unusual case of the "uppercut" building a trump trick for the user of the device, rather than for his partner. West led the heart 5 to the J and K and the diamond 2 was won by the J. East returned the heart 6 to the 10 and A, whereupon the club Q was led to the K and A, West ruffing with the spade J.

When West now led the heart Q, East fumbled his chance by ruffing with the spade 2, which South over-ruffed with the 5. The spade 3 was led for the A to kill the K, and the return of the spade 4 to the Q consumed East's last trump. After that South could lose only one more trick, in clubs, so made his game.

East's big chance was on the third heart lead, when he should have ruffed with the spade 9 instead of the 2. That would have forced the Q. When South then felled the spade K with the A, East would have been left with the highest trump, the 10. That card and a later club trick would have thwarted South.

How could East read the desirability of that play? Since West had ruffed the first time with the spade J, it should have been obvious to East that he had another trump, which of course was higher, as he certainly would have used his lowest. The higher one must have been the K or Q. How could East tell that? Simply because South after North's raise in spades, then supported clubs instead of proceeding with spades. That bid should have made it patent to East that South had only four spades.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ J 10 7 4 ♥ K 9 8 ♦ A 7 6 ♣ A K 3
♠ K 2 ♥ J 5 4 ♦ Q 10 ♣ Q J 10 9 6 2	N W E S	♠ 8 6 ♥ Q 10 3 2 ♦ J 9 5 4 3 2 ♣ 8
	♠ A Q 9 5 3 ♥ A 7 6 ♦ K 8 ♣ 7 5 4

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

If West had made a vulnerable overcall in clubs and leads the Q, how should South play to make his 4-Spades a sure thing?

Card of Thanks

We take this means to express sincere thanks to those of our friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful following the sudden death of our beloved husband and brother, David J. Williams, and to Rev. Willis E. Dewberry for his comforting words and acts of kindness. We are also grateful for the many floral tributes and the use of motor cars for the funeral.

His wife, Myrtle.
Brothers and Sisters.

We wish to thank all our kind friends and neighbors who were so thoughtful during the bereavement of our beloved brother, Clarence Leon Muir, and the bereavement of our son and nephew, James R. Beeman Jr. We thank those who sent flowers, loaned cars, the minister and all those who expressed their sympathy and extended their help to us in any way.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Beeman
Mrs. Elizabeth Dohm, Brothers and Sisters.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, James M. Robertson, who passed away 1 year ago today, January 15, 1953.

The Heavenly Door opened and the Lord did call,
He called away our Daddy, the precious one of all.
Down deep inside, our heart's still sore,
As time goes on Daddy, we miss you more.
If God's Heavenly Door again would open,
And his face again to see,
What wouldn't we give again, dear God,
To clutch his hand, to hear his voice,
Which meant the world to us.
Beyond the sunset, Dad you are gone,
But your love and memory will always live on.

Sadly missed by his wife, Mrs. Mary E. Robertson, Daughters and Sons.

DOWN GO OUR PRICES!
Do you know the difference between our prices and what others ask? Compare and you will find that it amounts to about one months wages and sometimes much more.

HOW CAN WE DO IT?
We pay no rent, have only one salesman, which adds up to very low expenses. No high pressure selling here. You look around, pick out the one you like, try it and buy it yourself. Super Market style. Remember, every car has the price marked on the windshield. We'll give a good trade allowance on your present car. Our cars are GUARANTEED. Ask us about it, it's different. Bank terms.

A Potomac Motor 3-Day Special
This beautiful, one owner car can be bought for $300 under book price!

1951 Chrysler New Yorker club coupe. We know this tremendously powerful machine will startle you with the performance of its 180-horsepower motor. Why not take a look at this exceptional automobile and be your own judge? The body style is a lovely light pastel green with matching broadcloth interior. The interior is protected by expensive plastic seat covers. The equipment includes 8-tube Philco radio, heater, defroster, air conditioner, backup lights, direction lights, undercoat, airfoam seats throughout, clock, lighter, power brakes, 4-speed forward transmission and outside mirror. The tires have only 10,000 miles. In addition it has Chrysler's powerful torque converter and all small accessories.

SPECIAL!!
Only $1595

1953 Chrysler New Yorker club coupe. Here's a masterpiece of engineering in the famous Chrysler V-8, 180 h.p. motor that gives you very good gas mileage. This car has only been driven 20,000 miles and has never been titled. All mechanical parts are in A-1 condition. This car also has 4 new Nylon cord white sidewall safety tires. The gleaming 2-tone light grey finish does not have a mark. The beautiful Scotch plaid interior and upholstering was custom made for this car. Fully equipped with radio, heater, defroster, signal lights, backup lights, power brakes, automatic transmission and all the small accessories. (We encourage trade-ins). This car will sell for just a small amount of the original cost.

Card of Thanks

We take this means to express sincere thanks to those of our friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful following the sudden death of our beloved husband and brother, David J. Williams, and to Rev. Willis E. Dewberry for his comforting words and acts of kindness. We are also grateful for the many floral tributes and the use of motor cars for the funeral.

His wife, Myrtle.
Brothers and Sisters.

We wish to thank all our kind friends and neighbors who were so thoughtful during the bereavement of our beloved brother, Clarence Leon Muir, and the bereavement of our son and nephew, James R. Beeman Jr. We thank those who sent flowers, loaned cars, the minister and all those who expressed their sympathy and extended their help to us in any way.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Beeman
Mrs. Elizabeth Dohm, Brothers and Sisters.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, James M. Robertson, who passed away 1 year ago today, January 15, 1953.

The Heavenly Door opened and the Lord did call,
He called away our Daddy, the precious one of all.
Down deep inside, our heart's still sore,
As time goes on Daddy, we miss you more.
If God's Heavenly Door again would open,
And his face again to see,
What wouldn't we give again, dear God,
To clutch his hand, to hear his voice,
Which meant the world to us.
Beyond the sunset, Dad you are gone,
But your love and memory will always live on.

Sadly missed by his wife, Mrs. Mary E. Robertson, Daughters and Sons.

DOWN GO OUR PRICES!

Do you know the difference between our prices and what others ask? Compare and you will find that it amounts to about one months wages and sometimes much more.

HOW CAN WE DO IT?

We pay no rent, have only one salesman, which adds up to very low expenses. No high pressure selling here. You look around, pick out the one you like, try it and buy it yourself. Super Market style. Remember, every car has the price marked on the windshield. We'll give a good trade allowance on your present car. Our cars are GUARANTEED. Ask us about it, it's different. Bank terms.

A Potomac Motor 3-Day Special

This beautiful, one owner car can be bought for $300 under book price!

1951 Chrysler New Yorker club coupe. We know this tremendously powerful machine will startle you with the performance of its 180-horsepower motor. Why not take a look at this exceptional automobile and be your own judge? The body style is a lovely light pastel green with matching broadcloth interior. The interior is protected by expensive plastic seat covers. The equipment includes 8-tube Philco radio, heater, defroster, air conditioner, backup lights, direction lights, undercoat, airfoam seats throughout, clock, lighter, power brakes, 4-speed forward transmission and outside mirror. The tires have only 10,000 miles. In addition it has Chrysler's powerful torque converter and all small accessories.

SPECIAL!!
Only $1595

1953 Chrysler New Yorker club coupe. Here's a masterpiece of engineering in the famous Chrysler V-8, 180 h.p. motor that gives you very good gas mileage. This car has only been driven 20,000 miles and has never been titled. All mechanical parts are in A-1 condition. This car also has 4 new Nylon cord white sidewall safety tires. The gleaming 2-tone light grey finish does not have a mark. The beautiful Scotch plaid interior and upholstering was custom made for this car. Fully equipped with radio, heater, defroster, signal lights, backup lights, power brakes, automatic transmission and all the small accessories. (We encourage trade-ins). This car will sell for just a small amount of the original cost.

Court Of Appeals Throws Out Suit Against Local Store

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 14 (AP) — The Court of Appeals today refused to hold McCrory Stores Corp. accountable for injuries received by Mrs. Mollie Williams, 76-year-old Gilmore widow who fell from a stool in its Cumberland shop, May 12, 1952.

The court upheld Circuit Judge George Henderson in taking Mrs. Williams' suit from an Allegany County jury on grounds the evidence failed to prove negligence by store owners or employes.

Bible Lecture Slated Sunday

LONACONING—A Bible lecture will be held at Kingdom Hall, Sunday at 3 p. m.

"Is God Responsible For World Distress?" will be subject of the Bible Lecture.

James Pryor, representative of Watch Tower Society, of Frostburg, will give the lecture.

A Phony Buck

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Ronald Baltzley of Gettysburg got his deer with an empty gun.

Hunting alone he spotted a four-point buck at some distance and emptied his gun at the animal. One shot hit but the other five missed. The deer didn't go down but made a wide circle around Baltzley and came within 10 feet of where he stood.

As the hunter made a move to reload, the box of shells clattered to the ground — and the wounded buck wheeled about and dropped dead.

In 1850, the clipper ship Sea Witch went from New York to San Francisco around the horn in 97 days which was faster than any steamship of that day could make the trip.

ORDER NISI

IN THE MATTER OF THOMAS P. ROONEY. No. 23,408 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

Ordered this 6th day of January, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, that the sale made and reported in the above entitled cause by James S. Getty, Committee for Thomas P. Rooney, be ratified and confirmed, unless cause to the contrary thereof be shown on or before the 10th day of February, 1954, provided a copy of this order be published in some newspaper published in Cumberland, Maryland, once a week for three successive weeks prior to the 3rd day of February, 1954.

The Report states the amount of sale to be One Thousand Eight Dollars and Twelve Cents ($1008.12).

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Oh, dear! You'd better drive around some more, driver. He's still too mad to pay you!"

Area's Old Folks Draw $3 Million In Benefits

Almost $3 million dollars is paid annually to persons in this area who are eligible for old age and survivors insurance under the Social Security Administration, according to James E. Robertson, manager of the Cumberland office of the federal agency.

The local office handles administration of Social Security matters for Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland and Mineral, Grant, Hampshire, Hardy and Pendleton counties in West Virginia.

Robertson said Social Security payments for those who receive old age and survivors insurance checks amounts to $246,150 each month for the district. A total o 6,239 persons receive these checks in the seven-county area, he added.

More than half the total goes to beneficiaries in Allegany county with $167,000 being paid monthly to the 4,000 persons eligible, Robertson pointed out.

Mineral Next Largest

Mineral county has the next largest amount with $28,000 monthly paid to 700 persons. Garrett county has 720 receiving $24,300. In Grant county there are 280 who receive $9,400. Hampshire county has 245 persons receiving $8,000. In Hardy county a total of $5,350 is paid to 162 persons, while in Pendleton county there are 132 persons receiving $4,100 monthly.

Other advance estimates released to Robertson by Social Security headquarters: Nearly three and one-quarter million retired men and women workers, aged 65 and over, are now receiving old-age benefit payments. In addition, monthly payments based on the accounts of retired insured workers are now going to 885,000 wives and dependent husbands 65 or over, or wives, regardless of age, with retired workers' minor children in their care. The number of such beneficiaries throughout the nation increased 146,000 during the year just ended. During the same 12-month period, the number of children under 18 getting payments because an insured parent over 65 had retired, increased by 16,000 in 1953.

More Child Beneficiaries

A far greater number of child beneficiaries are getting payments as survivors of a deceased insured parents, Robertson declared. The number of children who were getting survivors insurance payments because they had lost a working parent was 100,000 greater at the close of 1953. The total of children now receiving payments is now 1,055,000 throughout the nation. About 45% of all children under 18 whose father has died are now getting monthly survivors benefits.

Still quoting national figures, Robertson said that the number of aged widows, widowers, and aged dependent parents getting monthly payments increased by 87,000 in 1953. The number of such beneficiaries was 563,000 at the end of the year. Widowed mothers now getting payments because they have the deceased insured father's minor children in their care now number 252,000. Monthly benefits are payable to such widowed mothers regardless of their age.

Financed From Taxes

The old-age and survivors insurance program is financed from social security taxes paid by employees, their employers, and self-employed persons whose trade of business is covered by the law. Tax contributions amounted to four billion dollars in 1953. All social security taxes go into a trust fund which is kept separate from all other tax collections of the Treasury. The only expenditures which can be made from this fund are for paying social security benefits and the cost of administration under the program. Benefit payments for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1953, totaled three billion dollars; administrative expenses for the same period were $90 million. The assets of the fund which are not needed for current disbursement are invested in interest-bearing U. S. government bonds. Interest on these investments amounted to $400 million in 1953. The total assets of the fund, as of December 31, 1953, were $18.8 billion.

At the end of December, the average monthly payment to all retired workers without dependents was $49.00; to a retired worker and aged wife, $84.75; and to widowed mothers with to minor children, $111.00. For persons whose benefits were computed under the more liberal provisions of the 1950 Amendments to the Social Security Law, based on earnings after 1950, the averages were considerably higher. Retired workers average $62.75 monthly; retired workers and aged wives average $103.60; widowed mothers with two children average $152.50 monthly.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—In its third straight advance, the Stock Market today pushed up again to around the best levels reached in the recovery drive that started from the mid-September low of 1953.

The advance today was moderate, but it was fairly well sustained and broadly distributed throughout the list. Gains at times went to around 3 points but at the close the list ran from fractions lower to around 2 points higher in significant areas.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 60 cents at $100.-00. That is the mark attained Dec. 3 last year in the push ahead from the year's low. After that the market ran into profit-taking, tax selling, and a general mild reaction that now statistically has been bridged.

The industrial component of the average was up 80 cents, the railroads gained 40 cents, and the utilities were up 10 cents.

Among the better acting groups were aircrafts, steels, motors, railroads, oils, coppers, and motion pictures. Chemicals did quite well at one time but faded under their best by the close. Electronics issues were in demand.

The market broadened out slightly from yesterday and covered 1,-115 individual issues traded of which 581 advanced and 254 declined with 38 new highs and 6 new lows for 1953-54.

1953 Traffic Mishaps Took 10 Lives Here

Traffic accidents last year in Allegany County, including Cumberland, caused ten violent deaths for a record low in recent years.

In the previous year 14 were killed in the county and in 1951 a total of 13 lost their lives in traffic accidents.

The first major mishap here occurred January 28 when a passenger train and loaded coal truck collided on the Virginia Avenue crossing of the Western Maryland Railway.

Two In First Accident

Daniel Bradley Hill, 56, of Altamont Terrace, died less than 11 hours later in Memorial Hospital. Grover Cleveland Harman, 20, of 143 North Centre Street, driver of the truck, who was severely burned in the crash, expired June 13 in University Hospital, Baltimore.

Other county fatalities were:

Feb. 13—Alvin Robert Miller, 24, of Wood Street, Westernport, whose car ran off Route 36 south of Barton and crashed against a utility pole guy wire, shearing off the top of the vehicle.

Feb. 27—Frank Toler, 30, Wellersburg, who died of injuries after his auto failed to negotiate a curve on Sunnyside Road while traveling toward Route 36 and overturned several times.

March 13—Douglas Arlei Moore Delawder, 9, Short Gap. He suffered fatal injuries when struck by a car along Pinto Road.

May 17—Mrs. Dorothy Emma Simons, 29, wife of Freeman L. Simons, Bedford Road, fatally hurt when she lost control of her auto on Route 220 near Nave's Crossroads and was pinned beneath wreckage.

Headon Collision

August 26—Mrs. Dorothy Grace Hawkins, 26, Baltimore, and Archie T. Barnes, 38, Arlington, Va., killed in headon collision on Route 40 at Eckhart.

September 28 — Wayne Deffenbaugh, 23, Zihlman, whose auto careened from Midlothian Road and turned over several times, plunged down an embankment and landed on its top.

Dec. 24—Clarence Leon Muir, 24, Conneaut, Ohio, formerly of Nikep. His auto collided with a bus at the north end of Nikep on Route 36.

Fatalities in Garrett County included:

Apr. 26—Darrell Hare, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hare, Grantsville, who ran in front of a car.

May 3—Daniel Conrad Oester, 19, Springs, Pa. He was thrown from a motorcycle on Route 40 near Grantsville.

Dr. Atwater Will Attend Meeting

KEYSER—Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, director of public relations and head of the Department of Speech and Journalism, Potomac State College, who this year is serving as director of District IV, American College Public Relations Association, will attend the annual district meeting, January 28-30, at the Greenbrier Hotel, White Sulphur Springs.

District IV includes college public relations personnel from West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, District of Columbia and North Carolina. As district director, Dr. Atwater will preside at the opening and closing sessions and is also serving as convention coordinator.

Greenbrier College, Lewisburg, is host school for the convention. Its president, Dr. J. Ralph Murray, will extend the official greeting to the delegates and guests.

From 1940 to 1950 the proportion of women in the U. S. population who were married decreased from about 24 per cent to about 20 per cent.

Court Of Appeals Throws Out Suit Against Local Store

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 14 (AP) — The Court of Appeals today refused to hold McCrory Stores Corp. accountable for injuries received by Mrs. Mollie Williams, 76-year-old Gilmore widow who fell from a stool in its Cumberland shop, May 12, 1952.

The court upheld Circuit Judge George Henderson in taking Mrs. Williams' suit from an Allegany County jury on grounds the evidence failed to prove negligence by store owners or employes.

A Phony Buck

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Ronald Baltzley of Gettysburg got his deer with an empty gun.

Hunting alone he spotted a four-point buck at some distance and emptied his gun at the animal. One shot hit but the other five missed. The deer didn't go down but made a wide circle around Baltzley and came within 10 feet of where he stood.

As the hunter made a move to reload, the box of shells clattered to the ground — and the wounded buck wheeled about and dropped dead.

In 1850, the clipper ship Sea Witch went from New York to San Francisco around the horn in 97 days which was faster than any steamship of that day could make the trip.

Area's Old Folks Draw $3 Million In Benefits

Almost $3 million dollars is paid annually to persons in this area who are eligible for old age and survivors insurance under the Social Security Administration, according to James E. Robertson, manager of the Cumberland office of the federal agency.

The local office handles administration of Social Security matters for Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland and Mineral, Grant, Hampshire, Hardy and Pendleton counties in West Virginia.

Robertson said Social Security payments for those who receive old age and survivors insurance checks amounts to $246,150 each month for the district. A total of 6,239 persons receive these checks in the seven-county area, he added.

More than half the total goes to beneficiaries in Allegany county with $167,000 being paid monthly to the 4,000 persons eligible, Robertson pointed out.

Mineral Next Largest

Mineral county has the next largest amount with $28,000 monthly paid to 700 persons. Garrett county has 720 receiving $24,300. In Grant county there are 280 who receive $9,400. Hampshire county has 245 persons receiving $8,000. In Hardy county a total of $5,350 is paid to 162 persons, while in Pendleton county there are 132 persons receiving $4,100 monthly.

Other advance estimates released to Robertson by Social Security headquarters: Nearly three and one-quarter million retired men and women workers, aged 65 and over, are now receiving old-age benefit payments. In addition, monthly payments based on the accounts of retired insured workers are now going to 885,000 wives and dependent husbands 65 or over, or wives, regardless of age, with retired workers' minor children in their care. The number of such beneficiaries throughout the nation increased 146,000 during the year just ended. During the same 12-month period, the number of children under 18 getting payments because an insured parent over 65 had retired, increased by 16,000 in 1953.

More Child Beneficiaries

A far greater number of child beneficiaries are getting payments as survivors of a deceased insured parents, Robertson declared. The number of children who were getting survivors insurance payments because they had lost a working parent was 100,000 greater at the close of 1953. The total of children now receiving payments is now 1,055,000 throughout the nation. About 45% of all children under 18 whose father has died are now getting monthly survivors benefits.

Still quoting national figures, Robertson said that the number of aged widows, widowers, and aged dependent parents getting monthly payments increased by 87,000 in 1953. The number of such beneficiaries was 563,000 at the end of the year. Widowed mothers now getting payments because they have the deceased insured father's minor children in their care now number 252,000. Monthly benefits are payable to such widowed mothers regardless of their age.

Financed From Taxes

The old-age and survivors insurance program is financed from social security taxes paid by employees, their employers, and self-employed persons whose trade of business is covered by the law. Tax contributions amounted to four billion dollars in 1953. All social security taxes go into a trust fund which is kept separate from all other tax collections of the Treasury. The only expenditures which can be made from this fund are for paying social security benefits and the cost of administration under the program. Benefit payments for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1953, totaled three billion dollars; administrative expenses for the same period were $90 million. The assets of the fund which are not needed for current disbursement are invested in interest-bearing U. S. government bonds. Interest on these investments amounted to $400 million in 1953. The total assets of the fund, as of December 31, 1953, were $18.8 billion.

At the end of December, the average monthly payment to all retired workers without dependents was $49.00; to a retired worker and aged wife, $84.75; and to widowed mothers with to minor children, $111.00. For persons whose benefits were computed under the more liberal provisions of the 1950 Amendments to the Social Security Law, based on earnings after 1950, the averages were considerably higher. Retired workers average $62.75 monthly; retired workers and aged wives average $103.60; widowed mothers with two children average $152.50 monthly.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Oh, dear! You'd better drive around some more, driver. He's still too mad to pay you!"

Stock Market Registers Third Straight Advance

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—In its third straight advance, the Stock Market today pushed up again to around the best levels reached in the recovery drive that started from the mid-September low of 1953.

The advance today was moderate, but it was fairly well sustained and broadly distributed throughout the list. Gains at times went to around 3 points but at the close the list ran from fractions lower to around 2 points higher in significant areas.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 60 cents at $100.00. That is the mark attained Dec. 3 last year in the push ahead from the year's low. After that the market ran into profit-taking, tax selling, and a general mild reaction that now statistically has been bridged.

The industrial component of the average was up 80 cents, the railroads gained 40 cents, and the utilities were up 10 cents.

Among the better acting groups were aircrafts, steels, motors, railroads, oils, coppers, and motion pictures. Chemicals did quite well at one time but faded under their best by the close. Electronics issues were in demand.

The market broadened out slightly from yesterday and covered 1,115 individual issues traded of which 581 advanced and 254 declined with 38 new highs and 6 new lows for 1953-54.

1953 Traffic Mishaps Took 10 Lives Here

Traffic accidents last year in Allegany County, including Cumberland, caused ten violent deaths for a record low in recent years.

In the previous year 14 were killed in the county and in 1951 a total of 13 lost their lives in traffic accidents.

The first major mishap here occurred January 28 when a passenger train and loaded coal truck collided on the Virginia Avenue crossing of the Western Maryland Railway.

Two In First Accident

Daniel Bradley Hill, 56, of Altamont Terrace, died less than 11 hours later in Memorial Hospital. Grover Cleveland Harman, 20, of 143 North Centre Street, driver of the truck, who was severely burned in the crash, expired June 13 in University Hospital, Baltimore.

Other county fatalities were:

Feb. 13—Alvin Robert Miller, 24, of Wood Street, Westernport, whose car ran off Route 36 south of Barton and crashed against a utility pole guy wire, shearing off the top of the vehicle.

Feb. 27—Frank Toler, 30, Wellersburg, who died of injuries after his auto failed to negotiate a curve on Sunnyside Road while traveling toward Route 36 and overturned several times.

March 13—Douglas Arlei Moore Delawder, 9, Short Gap. He suffered fatal injuries when struck by a car along Pinto Road.

May 17—Mrs. Dorothy Emma Simons, 29, wife of Freeman L. Simons, Bedford Road, fatally hurt when she lost control of her auto on Route 220 near Nave's Crossroads and was pinned beneath wreckage.

Headon Collision

August 26—Mrs. Dorothy Grace Hawkins, 26, Baltimore, and Archie T. Barnes, 38, Arlington, Va., killed in headon collision on Route 40 at Eckhart.

September 28 — Wayne Deffenbaugh, 23, Zihlman, whose auto careened from Midlothian Road and turned over several times, plunged down an embankment and landed on its top.

Dec. 24—Clarence Leon Muir, 24, Conneaut, Ohio, formerly of Nikep. His auto collided with a bus at the north end of Nikep on Route 36.

Fatalities in Garrett County included:

Apr. 26—Darrell Hare, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hare, Grantsville, who ran in front of a car.

Dr. Atwater Will Attend Meeting

KEYSER—Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, director of public relations and head of the Department of Speech and Journalism, Potomac State College, who this year is serving as director of District IV, American College Public Relations Association, will attend the annual district meeting, January 28-30, at the Greenbrier Hotel, White Sulphur Springs.

District IV includes college public relations personnel from West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, District of Columbia and North Carolina. As district director, Dr. Atwater will preside at the opening and closing sessions and is also serving as convention coordinator.

Greenbrier College, Lewisburg, is host school for the convention. Its president, Dr. J. Ralph Murray, will extend the official greeting to the delegates and guests.

From 1940 to 1950 the proportion of women in the U. S. population who were married decreased from about 24 per cent to about 20 per cent.

Five Men Injured In Auto Accident

Trailer Skids Into Car On Mountain

Five Frostburg men were injured, three seriously, when their car was struck by a tractor-trailer which jack-knifed on U. S. Route 40 on the east slope of Little Savage Mountain shortly after 2 p. m. yesterday.

All were pallbearers for Mrs. Elizabeth Winebrenner, whose funeral was conducted from Hafer's Funeral Home yesterday afternoon, and were en route to Johnson Cemetery, four miles west of Frostburg.

Most seriously hurt was Phillip Krause, 62, of 50 West Mechanic Street, Frostburg, driver of the car in which the five men were riding. Krause, a salesman for Sears-Roebuck Company in Cumberland, was listed in "bad" condition by attaches at Miners Hospital in Frostburg, where he was admitted suffering from a compound fracture of the left leg, severe lacerations of face and head, possible broken back and shock.

4 Others Hospitalized

Others injured and admitted to Miners Hospital are Robert Stewart, 47, East Main Street, assistant custodian at Frostburg City Hall and fire station, also seriously hurt with very severe lacerations of face and severe gash on head, body abrasions and shock.

James McGuire, 37, of 18 Centennial Street, abrasions of face, lacerations of head and injured left thumb. McGuire is the least seriously hurt of the five, hospital authorities stated.

A sixth pallbearer for Mrs. Winebrenner, William Pressman of High Street, Frostburg, was driving the car ahead of vehicle involved in mishap. Riding with Pressman was Rev. John Bayley Jones, pastor of First Methodist Church, Frostburg, who had officiated at funeral services for Mrs. Winebrenner.

State Police Trooper Donald R. Wade, said the tractor-trailer was driven by William Ronald Stickley, 35, of 118 Blaul Avenue, Cumberland, and owned by Bernard S. Michael, Route 3, city.

Wade said Stickley, who was not injured, told him he was driving the truck east toward Cumberland with the trailer empty. As he descended Little Savage Mountain and rounded the sharp turn at the bridge near the foot of the grade, the trailer skidded and jack-knifed into the path of the Krause car, which was headed in the opposite direction.

The Krause vehicle crashed head-on into the skidding trailer and was completely demolished. The five occupants of the automobile were taken to Miners Hospital by a passing motorist from Pittsburgh.

Wade said the impact of the collision knocked the rear wheels of the trailer loose. He stated the Krause car was a total loss.

Stickley will be charged with failure to keep to the right center of the highway, Wade stated, although the accident occurred during yesterday's hard snowstorm. Wade added that the roadway was very icy at the point of the collision.

Two Children Hurt

In two other mishaps Edward Lindner, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lindner, Bedford Road, and Charlotte Brown, 11, niece of Mrs. Martha Ryan, 11 Jones Street, Ridgeley, were admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital.

The Lindner boy was admitted with a fractured right arm. Attaches said the youth was getting along fine. He suffered the injury when struck by a truck driven by his father as he was playing in the driveway of their home.

Memorial Hospital attaches said Margaret Werner, 13, of 18 North Chase Street, was in a satisfactory condition after suffering serious injuries Tuesday night in sled-car mishap at Washington Street and Spruce Alley.

Vandegrift Co. Low Bidder On Hospital Job

Maternity Wing Is Planned At Miners

The John I. Vandegrift Company of Cumberland submitted the low bid of $342,700 for the addition of a maternity wing to Miners Hospital at Frostburg.

Bids for the construction of the addition were opened in Baltimore yesterday by the Department of Public Improvements.

The department said five other firms entered the bidding, with the highest amount $366,666.

Other bidders included the George F. Hazelwood Construction Company, Cumberland; George Construction Company, Cumberland; W. Harvey Miller, Inc., Martinsburg, W. Va., and Alliance Construction Company, Cumberland.

The addition will be used primarily for maternity and juvenile patients. It was estimated it would cost $250,000.

Plans and specifications for the addition had been delayed for some time by architectural and engineering difficulties, which were worked out at conferences between S. Russ Minter, local architect for the project, and Philip Hartig, Frostburg engineer.

The work will remove a dangerous loop in the existing road to the hospital and an access road will be laid to the rear of the addition.

Salvation Army Will Promote Two Lieutenants

Two young Salvation Army lieutenants who have been in charge of the Salvation Army post on Virginia Avenue are slated for promotions, according to information received here by Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, local commander.

Lt. Harry Powell, who has been at the South Cumberland headquarters since last summer, will be transferred to Frederick, wnere he will have charge of the Frederick corps of the Army.

Lt. John Ray is being assigned to assist at the Baltimore Temple Corps. Lt. Ray came here from Birmingham, Ala., about two months ago. Birmingham is his home and he received his first Salvation Army assignment there.

Lt. Powell came here from Parkersburg, W. Va. He is a native of Salisbury, (Md.) which he still considers his home town.

Col. V. J. Huffman, Baltimore, divisional commander for Maryland and Northern West Virginia, announced the promotions. He also notified Capt. Biggs that a married couple, yet to be named, will be assigned to the South Cumberland Corps.

Col. Huffman and Capt. Biggs praised the work of the two young lieutenants and commended them for the growth and expansion of the Virginia Avenue headquarters. "They have done much good work there," Capt. Biggs declared, "and deserve the promotions accorded them."

Capt. Biggs said the new leaders for South Cumberland may be announced at the annual meeting of the Advisory Board next Thursday with dinner at 6:15 p. m. on the third floor of the local Citadel. The meeting had been scheduled for next Wednesday, but has been changed to the following night. Col. Huffman will speak and annual reports will be submitted.

PTA To Observe Founders Day

The Allegany County Council Parent Teacher Association will hold its general membership meeting February 1 at West Side School, Paca Street.

At that session, annual Founders Day will be observed with a special program, and a nominatin, committee will be chosen to select a slate of officers for the annual election.

Preliminary to that meeting, however, the PTA Council executive board will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the offices of the Board of Education, Washington Street.

Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg, county president, will preside. Plans for the general meeting will be considered and the Founders Day program outlined.

Schools Stay Open

Officials of public and parochial schools late last night still were planning to conduct school as usual today despite the bad snowstorm.

A number of those checked last night indicated that a worsening of weather conditions toward morning might cause them to change their decision.

New Dormitory For Romney School Gets Approval

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 14 (AP)—The State Board of Education approved preliminary plans today for a $400,000 dormitory at the Romney Schools for the Deaf and Blind.

Architect Alex B. Mahood, designer of the building, said the dormitory also would include an infirmary and a recreation room. He estimated the total cost at $388,000.

The remainder of the $400,000 which was appropriated by the 1953 Legislature would be used to furnish and landscape the building.

Gets Cadet Training

Thomas A. Shircliff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester A. Shircliff, 212 North Centre Street, has enlisted in the U. S. Air Force for two years for training as an aviation cadet.

Bridge Approach To Be Built By Albrecht Firm

Time, Money Saving Plan Is Worked Out

The fill for the Maryland approach to the new Potomac River Bridge will be prepared by the E. J. Albrecht Company, the contractor for the Industrial Dam, Mayor Roy W. Eves announced yesterday.

He said a plan has been worked out, subject to approval of the Corps of Engineers, for the contractor to dump dirt from behind the coffer dam upon the approach to the span. The company will also roll and pack the road foundation as it is applied, he added.

Mayor Eves said the plan will allow the city to have the work done at about half what it would cost if the fill was placed after the firm is finished with the dam.

May Cut Bridge Cost

It will also provide a better foundation for the final surfacing, and is expected to reduce the costs of bids on the superstructure of the span, since the bridge builders will find a ramp in place when the steel is to be erected.

The work is to proceed at the discretion of the firm.

City officials said the city has been asked to have the roadway fill in place by June 1. Since the company is far ahead of schedule on the dam, the approach work may be also completed ahead of the required date.

The Maryland State Roads Commission will open bids on the superstructure on January 19 and expects construction to begin this fall.

City Work Planned

C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, has recommended that city forces be used to make several necessary changes in the Riverside Park, including resetting the Cresap monument and removing flower beds.

The approach to the bridge will bisect the park, but the site is to be remain a park area. Officials said some or all of the loss of ground for the bridge approach will be gained on the Wills Creek side, when the high speed channel plan reaches that point.

Court Requested To Conclude Water Dispute

An equity suit asking that Anna Piper of Klondike be permanently enjoined from interfering with the free flow of water to a neighbor's dwelling was filed in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday.

Attorney Leslie J. Clark filed the bill of complaint for Wilbur Ewing, Red Hill, RFD 1. In it he notes that the parties own adjacent dwellings in Klondike. Ewing has owned his about 15 years and the Piper woman has held title to hers for four or five years.

Both dwellings are supplied water through a common water line running from a water main situated about a half-mile from the nearest dwelling. The line supplying Ewing's house crosses about four feet of the defendant's lot. Both are part of a common water system constructed by prior owners of the properties, Ewing cites.

About November 15 the Piper woman "maliciously and wantonly" obstructed and cut off the flow of water through the system, Ewing charges. He finally asks the court to grant a permanent injunction to keep the defendant from interfering with the free flow of water to the house he owns.

AFL Fire Fighters Local Is Inactive

City firemen reported yesterday they are no longer represented by Local 654, Fire Fighters Union (AFL) and that the local has been inactive for several years.

The announcement was made in connection with the election of J. T. Defibaugh to the executive board of the Allegany Trades Council as a representative of the Fire Fighters Union.

AFL officials said Defibaugh was so listed since he organized Local 654 in 1940 and had been active in the local for many years. He was also secretary of the Trades Council for 10 years and several years ago served as business agent of a Retail Clerks local here. He holds a withdrawal card from the union.

Discuss 1953-54 Chest Fund Drive

Local Church To Observe Anniversary

Central Methodist Is 50 Years Old

Central Methodist Church will observe its 50th anniversary January 24 with special services, according to Rev. Edgar Ward Hammersla, pastor.

Speaker at the 11 a. m. service which will mark the occasion is a former pastor, Rev. J. W. Leggett, now serving as pastor of Brookland Methodist Church, Richmond, Va.

Rev. Hammersla recalls that Rev. Leggett served the local congregation from 1929 to 1933. His sermon for this service is entitled "The Challenge of Amazing Possibilities". Also having a part in the worship service will be Rev. Harry C. Marsh, district superintendent of the Methodist Church, and Rev. Hammersla.

The history of the local congregation reaches back to the beginnings of this century, and the church has grown from a membership of 11 to the present 375. At first the congregation worshipped in the Synagogue on South Centre Street, and later moved to Market House Hall for its worship services.

In 1904, the congregation purchased the old Ohr property on South George Street and used the first floor for worship and the second floor as the minister's residence. This property was almost immediately torn down, and the present building erected the same year. It has been in continuous service ever since. While construction was going on, the congregation worshipped in the Methodist Protestant Church on Bedford Street.

In March 1906 the Baltimore Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, presided over by Bishops A. W. Wilson and W. A. Chandler, convened in Cumberland with Central Church as host.

In recent years many improvements have been made in the church. The Fellowship Hall, completed in 1952, contains a large recreation-dining hall, Sunday school classrooms, and a modern kitchen. The sanctuary has been completely redecorated.

Rev. Hammersla stated that the public is invited to attend the golden anniversary service.

Mt. Royal PTA Plans Discussion

Mount Royal PTA will hold a panel and group discussion at the meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Led by Robert Ebert, the discussion is on "How Do You Handle the Problem of Home Chores for Your Child?"

Teachers will be in the rooms after the meeting. There also will be refreshments and a social period.

At the board meeting Tuesday, it was announced that the fall festival before Christmas brought in $227, and the children selling magazine subscriptions cleared $205.

It also was announced that a plaque is being made in memory of Miss Althea Fuller. The group planned to purchase a backdrop curtain for the stage and draperies for the windows in the auditorium.

Pealer, Smith Named Directors For Local Chest

William Buchholtz, Mrs. Feigus Honored

Woodward D. Pealer and Charles E. Smith were elected as members of the board of directors of the Cumberland Community Chest last night during the 27th annual meeting of the group in Central YMCA. Despite bad weather, 37 members attended.

William H. Buchholtz, director of the 1953-54 fund drive for the Chest, and Mrs. A. J. Feigus, chairman of the Residential Section, were honor guests at a testimonial dinner paying tribute to their outstanding work.

The meeting got underway with invocation by Mayor Roy W. Eves. James W. Bishop, secretary, read the treasurer's report in the absence of Edgar D. Vandegrift.

The report approved by the board showed that total receipts to the Chest to November 30, 1953 amounted to $98,506.96, and total disbursements, including payments to agencies and expenses, amounted to $96,403.61, leaving a balance on deposit of $2,103.35.

Total receipts of 1952-53 pledges up to January 1, totaled $98,266.96 or 96 per cent of the $102,044 raised.

Receipts of 1953-54 up to January 1 amounted to $61,066.84 and disbursements, including allocations to agencies, campaign expenses and a payment of $13,800.18 for a new boiler for Central YMCA, amounted to $47,266.65.

Total receipts from 1953-54 pledges up to January 1 totaled $60,996.84 or 64 per cent of the $94,535.90 raised in the drive.

Presentations of resolutions of appreciation to Buchholtz and Mrs. Feigus were made by Henry C. Swearingen. Lynn C. Lashley, president, discussed his experience as Chest president and praised leaders and workers of the 1953-54 fund campaign for conducting their successful drive without the help of a professional agency.

He pointed out that the 1952-53 campaign cost $7,998, and that estimated cost of the 1953-54 drive was $5,150. But actually this year's cost was only $4,115, or about $1,000 less than estimated and $3,800 less than the 1952-53 drive.

The four directors of the Chest whose terms expired last night were Lashley, James W. Bishop, George L. Buchanan and Edgar D. Vandegrift.

The board of directors will meet at 4 p. m. January 19 in the Chest office to elect officers and an executive committee to serve for 1954.

Henry Ends Tour As Police Chief

H. L. Henry, who resigned as chief of police in Ridgeley completed his final day of police work in the town last night. He will now devote his full time to his TV lamp and ornament manufacturing business.

Henry's successor, his nephew, Daniel Evans, assumes the duties of chief of police in Ridgeley today. Evans is a furloughed Celanese employe.

Allegany Mothers To March On Residents In Polio Drive

On Friday, January 29, between 7 and 8 p. m., the mothers of Allegany County will "march on" the residents of the county in an all-out effort to obtain funds to combat polio.

Despite the bad weather, approximately 30 county women from Frostburg, Corriganville, Ellerslie, Union Grove, Cresaptown, Cumberland and other sections, met yesterday afternoon in the Union Street County Building to make plans for the "Mothers' March on Polio."

Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, Roberts Place, head of the county mothers' march, said the county women will begin their campaign from door to door in all county communities and will continue for one hour.

The "march" will be a porch light crusade with the women calling at homes where a porch light has been lighted as an invitation to the solicitor.

Mrs. Isiminger said that persons in the county wishing to donate money for the polio program and who do not have porch lights, may place a table lamp in their front room window.

The "Mothers' March on Polio" is being sponsored nationally by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and is being taken up in the county by such groups as Parent-Teachers Associations, Homemakers Clubs, Playground Association, church organizations, and in sections where there are no clubs, the campaign is being set up by individuals.

Mrs. Isiminger said volunteer women will accept any amount of contribution including any size coin. She added residents should remember to use the light system to signal volunteers if they wish to contribute to the worthy cause.

The Mothers' March will be the climax in the county of the March of Dimes campaign being conducted this month.

Rent Control Advisory Board To Stand By

The Rent Control Advisory Committee will advise the Mayor and Council that rent complaints do not justify the retention of it secretary-investigator beyond Saturday.

The board, headed by Donald W. Mason, met in City Hall Wednesday to hear a report on complaints listed since November 16.

Miss Elizabeth Lippold, the investigator, reported nine cases have been checked during the period, and that four involved increases in rent. All were within the 20 per cent increase allowed under federal rent laws. The board approved the increases as not being excessive.

The other five cases involved either evictions, referred to Trial Magistrates Court, or heat problems, which were worked out between landlords and tenants.

The committee, which also includes Charles E. Bramble, James B. Reinhart and C. Glenn Watson, agreed current complaints did not justify the cost of maintaining a paid worker.

The committee, it was reported, will stand by and resume meetings at the discretion of the chairman.

They pointed out that the city may impose rent controls up until 1955 under state law, if the Mayor and Council feels such action is needed.

Two Hospitalized After Falls At Home

Two local persons were admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday as the result of injuries sustained in falls at their homes.

John Hanifin, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hanifin, 408 Louisiana Avenue, was admitted at 11:50 a. m. for observation after he fell and struck the left side of his head against a chair leg.

Mrs. Elizabeth McCusker, 48, wife of James McCusker, Cresaptown, was admitted at 3:45 p. m. for observation after she fell and struck her head at her home.

Joint Meeting Is Planned On Sewage Issue

Pollution Study To Be Discussed

Officials of the City of Cumberland and the State Health Department will meet with officials of the Attorney General's office in Baltimore January 28 to discuss a recent survey of pollution in the Potomac River, cited by health authorities as an additional reason why Cumberland should proceed at once to build a sewage disposal plant.

Plans for the meeting were arranged by Ambrose T. Hartman, assistant attorney general, with Thomas B. Finan, city attorney.

Hartman had asked Finan to meet with him and members and experts of the health board for a report of the pollution study, hoping it would be possible to stipulate the results in pending court action.

Mayor Roy W. Eves announced yesterday he has arranged for City Engineer C. R. Nuzum to sit in, and has notified the council that any who wish may attend the conference with him.

The state officials have asked that the meeting be held in Baltimore, since a number of experts from the Health Department will be asked to report on the study, and to display voluminous statistics and graphs made during the study.

The city was told on March 27, 1952, to begin work on its sewage disposal plant by September 1, 1953, and to have the system in operation by next December 31.

Cumberland officials already have plans for the plant estimated to cost about $2,000,000.

They have asked that the project be delayed until a number of other projects, already under commitment, can be completed.

Petit Jury Will Report Monday As Trials Start

The revised petit jury panel which will report for the first criminal trial in Allegany County Circuit Court at 9:15 a. m. Monday includes 19 men and six women.

Although 12 of the 25 come from Cumberland, nine other communities around the county also are represented. They are Frostburg, Lonaconing, Luke, Mt. Savage, Westernport, Vale Summit, Zihlman, Nikep and Gilmore.

The petit jury panel:

Aurora Durham, Westernport; John R. Foote, Lonaconing; Allan C. Fisher, this city; George C. Gore, this city; Courtney H. Beckman, Luke; Robert W. Lee, Frostburg; Harry A. Brode, Frostburg; Alexander Gardner, Lonaconing; Anthony J. Monahan, Mt. Savage; John W. Mangus, Jr., this city; Hazel A. Hardy, this city; George Buchanan, this city, and Loretta H. Beckman, this city.

Also, Alva W. Pennel, this city; John W. Mathews, Westernport; Thomas J. Leake, Vale Summit; Elsie L. Kilroy, this city; Robert E. Gibbs, this city; Louis E. Rice, this city; J. Stanley Espey, Zihlman; Mary J. Andrews, Nikep; John Stevens, Frostburg; Harry L. McNabb, this city; Victor S. Athey, this city, and Viola B. McGann, Gilmore.

New Snowfall Blankets Area, Mercury Rises

Rain Is Expected To Follow Today

A second layer of white frosting was laid over the Tri-State yesterday when two to five more inches of snow was dumped on top of six to 2 inches which had fallen earlier this week.

The Weather Bureau said the snow would probably change to rain today and that remaining snow and ice covering area highways may be washed away. Outlook for tomorrow is cloudy and mild with rain.

Snow had changed to rain in sections west of Cumberland last night and indications were it was moving east, accompanied by warmer temperature.

Plane Forced Down

Snow which began here about 9 a. m. yesterday forced a small plane to the ground in Frostburg. The pilot fortunately spotted the private landing strip of William Keiling and brought his aircraft and passenger down safely.

Occupants of the plane, Tom Bird and Ben Roth of Fairburg, Ill., were en route from Washington to Columbus, Ohio when they were forced to turn back by a swirling snowstorm over the mountains of Garrett County.

In the Cumberland area, at least one person died as a result of the weather, which caused him to fall after slipping on some ice. There were no fatal motor accidents reported last night in the district, but five persons were seriously hurt in one collision, and numerous minor mishaps occurred.

Although virtually all main highways in the Tri-State were open to traffic, with chains still needed before the snow, officials of the State Roads Commission and State Police of the three states said road conditions were worse than ever Thursday night.

Chains Needed Everywhere

Almost all highways were snow-covered, and chains were a "must" for vehicles. In some sections where rain began to fall earlier yesterday, however, highways were being washed clean of ice and snow.

Snow measured an official 3.2 inches on top of six inches at 7 p. m. in Cumberland, but by 9:30 p. m. it had changed to a misty rain with mercury rising.

City Street Department officials said a grader and truck were sent out to plow and cinder only main streets in the city as soon as the snow was deep enough to cause trouble. Officials added crews would begin working on all other streets early today.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, reported all equipment was out yesterday afternoon plowing and cindering secondary roads, but weary crews returned to the County Garage last night.

Chapman said all equipment and available men would be sent out to clear highways early this morning. He warned that chains are necessary for vehicles on all county roads.

All Snowplows Working

Robert E. L. Putman, assistant district engineer for the SRC, said all highways were icy and snow-covered, and cautioned drivers to use chains on their vehicles.

At 7 p. m. yesterday it was raining in Oakland after two inches of new snow had fallen, Putman said. There were 10 snowplows working in that section clearing roads. In Accident, where temperature was 31 degrees, it was also raining on top of one and one-quarter inches of old snow. Seven trucks, one auto patrol and 15 men were plowing and cindering in the Accident area.

At Guntertown, temperature climbed from 24 to 36 degrees between 3 and 7 p. m. with four inches of new snow on the ground. On Big Savage Mountain, temperature at 7 p. m. was 32, and three and a half inches of snow was on the ground.

Some Buses Late

Frostburg had three inches of new snow by 7 p. m. yesterday and four trucks, one pickup truck and eight men were plowing and salting. In Cumberland 10 trucks, two auto patrols and about 30 men were plowing and salting roads.

Town Hill got two and a half inches of new snow by 7 p. m. and temperature had dropped from 27 to 19 degrees from 3 p. m. Two trucks and seven men were plowing and cindering.

Trains and buses were all on schedule last night with the exception of westbound Blue Ridge buses which were about one hour late.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Gump, Silver Spring, announce the birth of a son last Friday in Washington Hospital, Takoma. The father is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon M. Gump, Cartmell Avenue.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bell Rice, 134 South Street, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Fred Hartsock, 925 Grand Avenue, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Schad Jr., Hyndman, Pa., a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Iser, Ridgeley, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Gilmore, Hyndman, Pa., a daughter Wednesday.

Westminster Seminary Singers To Give Program At Centre Street Church Sunday

The Westminster Seminary Singers, under the direction of Professor J. Edward Moyer, will appear at Centre Street Methodist Church for an evening program Sunday, Rev. Howard M. Amoss, pastor of the church, announces. The special program will get under way at 8 o'clock.

The program will open with the prelude, Seminary Singers Processional, followed by the call to worship.

Scripture reading and choral response and the pastoral prayer and response will precede the Singers' selections.

Divided into five parts, the Singers program includes "Laudamus" by Protheroe and "The Omnipotence" by Schubert, with Kitty Shook, soloist, in Part I.

Part II will be a solo "Sweet Li'l Jesus Boy," MacGimsey, Charles Shook, baritone.

Part III has "While By My Sheep I Watched at Night", Junget; "Song of Mary", Fischer; "Carol of the Bells," Leontovich-Wilhowsky; "Mary Had A Baby," Dawson.

In Part IV is "Still, Still With Thee," Gerrish Chant and "De Gospel Train," spiritual by the male quartet.

Part V includes "Let Us Break Bread Together," Ryder; and "Goin Home" by Dvorah-Fisher with Howard Leach, Dan Llewellyn, soloists; "Set Down," Shaw, with Lum Winfiree and Donald Stanton, soloists.

Following the Seminary program greetings will be heard from Rev. Douglas Chandler of the Westminster body. The offering and "Rise Up, O Men of God," by Reed, and "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," by Luther-Mueller will conclude the program. The benediction, recessional and postlude will follow.

Professor Chandler, accompanist for the group, is professor of church history at the Seminary.

Five Men Injured In Auto Accident

Trailer Skids Into Car On Mountain

Five Frostburg men were injured, three seriously, when their car was struck by a tractor-trailer which jack-knifed on U. S. Route 40 on the east slope of Little Savage Mountain shortly after 2 p. m. yesterday.

All were pallbearers for Mrs. Elizabeth Winebrenner, whose funeral was conducted from Hafer's Funeral Home yesterday afternoon, and were en route to Johnson Cemetery, four miles west of Frostburg.

Most seriously hurt was Phillip Krause, 62, of 50 West Mechanic Street, Frostburg, driver of the car in which the five men were riding. Krause, a salesman for Sears-Roebuck Company in Cumberland, was listed in "bad" condition by attaches at Miners Hospital in Frostburg, where he was admitted suffering from a compound fracture of the left leg, severe lacerations of face and head, possible broken back and shock.

4 Others Hospitalized

Others injured and admitted to Miners Hospital are Robert Stewart, 47, East Main Street, assistant custodian at Frostburg City Hall and fire station, also seriously hurt with very severe lacerations of face and severe gash on head, body abrasions and shock.

Ernest Pfaff, 39, of Bowery Street, employe of the Cumberland Contracting Company, who suffered a fractured right arm, abrasions of face and body and loss of blood.

Thomas Eisentrout Sr., 72, of West Mechanic Street, retired coal miner, who has lacerations of nose, ear and probable fractured ribs.

James McGuire, 37, of 18 Centennial Street, abrasions of face, lacerations of head and injured left thumb. McGuire is the least seriously hurt of the five, hospital authorities stated.

A sixth pallbearer for Mrs. Winebrenner, William Pressman of High Street, Frostburg, was driving the car ahead of vehicle involved in mishap. Riding with Pressman was Rev. John Bayley Jones, pastor of First Methodist Church, Frostburg, who had officiated at funeral services for Mrs. Winebrenner.

Pressman and Rev. Jones stated they arrived at the cemetery before discovering the car behind was missing.

State Police Trooper Donald R. Wade, said the tractor-trailer was driven by William Ronald Stickley, 35, of 118 Blaul Avenue, Cumberland, and owned by Bernard S. Michael, Route 3, city.

Wade said Stickley, who was not injured, told him he was driving the truck east toward Cumberland with the trailer empty. As he descended Little Savage Mountain and rounded the sharp turn at the bridge near the foot of the grade, the trailer skidded and jack-knifed into the path of the Krause car, which was headed in the opposite direction.

The Krause vehicle crashed head-on into the skidding trailer and was completely demolished. The five occupants of the automobile were taken to Miners Hospital by a passing motorist from Pittsburgh.

Wade said the impact of the collision knocked the rear wheels of the trailer loose. He stated the Krause car was a total loss.

Stickley will be charged with failure to keep to the right center of the highway, Wade stated, although the accident occurred during yesterday's hard snowstorm. Wade added that the roadway was very icy at the point of the collision.

Two Children Hurt

In two other mishaps Edward Lindner, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lindner, Bedford Road, and Charlotte Brown, 11, niece of Mrs. Martha Ryan, 11 Jones Street, Ridgeley, were admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital.

The Lindner boy was admitted with a fractured right arm. Attaches said the youth was getting along fine. He suffered the injury when struck by a truck driven by his father as he was playing in the driveway of their home.

The Brown girl fractured her right forearm when she slipped on ice while running across a street. Her condition was listed as satisfactory by hospital authorities.

Memorial Hospital attaches said Margaret Werner, 13, of 18 North Chase Street, was in a satisfactory condition after suffering serious injuries Tuesday night in sled-car mishap at Washington Street and Spruce Alley.

Vandegrift Co. Low Bidder On Hospital Job

Maternity Wing Is Planned At Miners

The John I. Vandegrift Company of Cumberland submitted the low bid of $342,700 for the addition of a maternity wing to Miners Hospital at Frostburg.

Bids for the construction of the addition were opened in Baltimore yesterday by the Department of Public Improvements.

The department said five other firms entered the bidding, with the highest amount $366,666.

Other bidders included the George F. Hazelwood Construction Company, Cumberland; George Construction Company, Cumberland; W. Harvey Miller, Inc., Martinsburg, W. Va., and Alliance Construction Company, Cumberland.

The addition will be used primarily for maternity and juvenile patients. It was estimated it would cost $250,000.

Plans and specifications for the addition had been delayed for some time by architectural and engineering difficulties, which were worked out at conferences between S. Russ Minter, local architect for the project, and Philip Hartig, Frostburg engineer.

The work will remove a dangerous loop in the existing road to the hospital and an access road will be laid to the rear of the addition.

Salvation Army Will Promote Two Lieutenants

Two young Salvation Army lieutenants who have been in charge of the Salvation Army post on Virginia Avenue are slated for promotions, according to information received here by Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, local commander.

Lt. Harry Powell, who has been at the South Cumberland headquarters since last summer, will be transferred to Frederick, where he will have charge of the Frederick corps of the Army.

Lt. John Ray is being assigned to assist at the Baltimore Temple Corps. Lt. Ray came here from Birmingham, Ala., about two months ago. Birmingham is his home and he received his first Salvation Army assignment there.

Lt. Powell came here from Parkersburg, W. Va. He is a native of Salisbury, (Md.) which he still considers his home town.

Col. V. J. Huffman, Baltimore, divisional commander for Maryland and Northern West Virginia, announced the promotions. He also notified Capt. Biggs that a married couple, yet to be named, will be assigned to the South Cumberland Corps.

Col. Huffman and Capt. Biggs praised the work of the two young lieutenants and commended them for the growth and expansion of the Virginia Avenue headquarters. "They have done much good work there," Capt. Biggs declared, "and deserve the promotions accorded them."

Capt. Biggs said the new leaders for South Cumberland may be announced at the annual meeting of the Advisory Board next Thursday with dinner at 6:15 p. m. on the third floor of the local Citadel. The meeting had been scheduled for next Wednesday, but has been changed to the following night. Col. Huffman will speak and annual reports will be submitted.

PTA To Observe Founders Day

The Allegany County Council Parent Teacher Association will hold its general membership meeting February 1 at West Side School, Paca Street.

At that session, annual Founders Day will be observed with a special program, and a nominatin,, committee will be chosen to select a slate of officers for the annual election.

Preliminary to that meeting, however, the PTA Council executive board will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the offices of the Board of Education, Washington Street.

Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg, county president, will preside. Plans for the general meeting will be considered and the Founders Day program outlined.

Schools Stay Open

Officials of public and parochial schools late last night still were planning to conduct school as usual today despite the bad snowstorm.

A number of those checked last night indicated that a worsening of weather conditions toward morning might cause them to change their decision.

New Dormitory For Romney School Gets Approval

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 14 (AP)—The State Board of Education approved preliminary plans today for a $400,000 dormitory at the Romney Schools for the Deaf and Blind.

The dormitory would provide facilities for 56 girls and 66 boys. All of the occupants would be advanced deaf students.

Architect Alex B. Mahood, designer of the building, said the dormitory also would include an infirmary and a recreation room. He estimated the total cost at $388,000.

The remainder of the $400,000 which was appropriated by the 1953 Legislature would be used to furnish and landscape the building.

Gets Cadet Training

Thomas A. Shircliff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester A. Shircliff, 212 North Centre Street, has enlisted in the U. S. Air Force for two years for training as an aviation cadet.

Bridge Approach To Be Built By Albrecht Firm

Time, Money Saving Plan Is Worked Out

The fill for the Maryland approach to the new Potomac River Bridge will be prepared by the E. J. Albrecht Company, the contractor for the Industrial Dam, Mayor Roy W. Eves announced yesterday.

He said a plan has been worked out, subject to approval of the Corps of Engineers, for the contractor to dump dirt from behind the coffer dam upon the approach to the span. The company will also roll and pack the road foundation as it is applied, he added.

Mayor Eves said the plan will allow the city to have the work done at about half what it would cost if the fill was placed after the firm is finished with the dam.

May Cut Bridge Cost

It will also provide a better foundation for the final surfacing, and is expected to reduce the costs of bids on the superstructure of the span, since the bridge builders will find a ramp in place when the steel is to be erected.

The work is to proceed at the discretion of the firm.

City officials said the city has been asked to have the roadway fill in place by June 1. Since the company is far ahead of schedule on the dam, the approach work may be also completed ahead of the required date.

The Maryland State Roads Commission will open bids on the superstructure on January 19 and expects construction to begin this fall.

City Work Planned

C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, has recommended that city forces be used to make several necessary changes in the Riverside Park, including resetting the Cresap monument and removing flower beds.

The approach to the bridge will bisect the park, but the site is to be remain a park area. Officials said some or all of the loss of ground for the bridge approach will be gained on the Wills Creek side, when the high speed channel plan reaches that point.

Court Requested To Conclude Water Dispute

An equity suit asking that Anna Piper of Klondike be permanently enjoined from interfering with the free flow of water to a neighbor's dwelling was filed in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday.

Attorney Leslie J. Clark filed the bill of complaint for Wilbur Ewing, Red Hill, RFD 1. In it he notes that the parties own adjacent dwellings in Klondike. Ewing has owned his about 15 years and the Piper woman has held title to hers for four or five years.

Both dwellings are supplied water through a common water line running from a water main situated about a half-mile from the nearest dwelling. The line supplying Ewing's house crosses about four feet of the defendant's lot. Both are part of a common water system constructed by prior owners of the properties, Ewing cites.

About November 15 the Piper woman "maliciously and wantonly" obstructed and cut off the flow of water through the system, Ewing charges. He finally asks the court to grant a permanent injunction to keep the defendant from interfering with the free flow of water to the house he owns.

AFL Fire Fighters Local Is Inactive

City firemen reported yesterday they are no longer represented by Local 654, Fire Fighters Union (AFL) and that the local has been inactive for several years.

The announcement was made in connection with the election of J. T. Defibaugh to the executive board of the Allegany Trades Council as a representative of the Fire Fighters Union.

AFL officials said Defibaugh was so listed since he organized Local 654 in 1940 and had been active in the local for many years. He was also secretary of the Trades Council for 10 years and several years ago served as business agent of a Retail Clerks local here. He holds a withdrawal card from the union.

Discuss 1953-54 Chest Fund Drive

Local Church To Observe Anniversary

Central Methodist Is 50 Years Old

Central Methodist Church will observe its 50th anniversary January 24 with special services, according to Rev. Edgar Ward Hammersla, pastor.

Speaker at the 11 a. m. service which will mark the occasion is a former pastor, Rev. J. W. Leggett, now serving as pastor of Brookland Methodist Church, Richmond, Va.

Rev. Hammersla recalls that Rev. Leggett served the local congregation from 1929 to 1933. His sermon for this service is entitled "The Challenge of Amazing Possibilities". Also having a part in the worship service will be Rev. Harry C. Marsh, district superintendent of the Methodist Church, and Rev. Hammersla.

The history of the local congregation reaches back to the beginnings of this century, and the church has grown from a membership of 11 to the present 375. At first the congregation worshipped in the Synagogue on South Centre Street, and later moved to Market House Hall for its worship services.

In 1904, the congregation purchased the old Ohr property on South George Street and used the first floor for worship and the second floor as the minister's residence. This property was almost immediately torn down, and the present building erected the same year. It has been in continuous service ever since. While construction was going on, the congregation worshipped in the Methodist Protestant Church on Bedford Street.

In March 1906 the Baltimore Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, presided over by Bishops A. W. Wilson and W. A. Chandler, convened in Cumberland with Central Church as host.

In recent years many improvements have been made in the church. The Fellowship Hall, completed in 1952, contains a large recreation-dining hall, Sunday school classrooms, and a modern kitchen. The sanctuary has been completely redecorated.

Rev. Hammersla stated that the public is invited to attend the golden anniversary service.

Mt. Royal PTA Plans Discussion

Mount Royal PTA will hold a panel and group discussion at the meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Led by Robert Ebert, the discussion is on "How Do You Handle the Problem of Home Chores for Your Child?"

Teachers will be in the rooms after the meeting. There also will be refreshments and a social period.

At the board meeting Tuesday, it was announced that the fall festival before Christmas brought in $227, and the children selling magazine subscriptions cleared $205.

It also was announced that a plaque is being made in memory of Miss Althea Fuller. The group planned to purchase a backdrop curtain for the stage and draperies for the windows in the auditorium.

Pealer, Smith Named Directors For Local Chest

William Buchholtz, Mrs. Feigus Honored

Woodward D. Pealer and Charles E. Smith were elected as members of the board of directors of the Cumberland Community Chest last night during the 27th annual meeting of the group in Central YMCA. Despite bad weather, 37 members attended.

William H. Buchholtz, director of the 1953-54 fund drive for the Chest, and Mrs. A. J. Feigus, chairman of the Residential Section, were honor guests at a testimonial dinner paying tribute to their outstanding work.

The meeting got underway with invocation by Mayor Roy W. Eves. James W. Bishop, secretary, read the treasurer's report in the absence of Edgar D. Vandegrift.

The report approved by the board showed that total receipts to the Chest to November 30, 1953 amounted to $98,506.96, and total disbursements, including payments to agencies and expenses, amounted to $96,403.61, leaving a balance on deposit of $2,103.35.

Total receipts of 1952-53 pledges up to January 1, totaled $98,266.96 or 96 per cent of the $102,044 raised.

Receipts of 1953-54 up to January 1 amounted to $61,066.84 and disbursements, including allocations to agencies, campaign expenses and a payment of $13,800.18 for a new boiler for Central YMCA, amounted to $47,266.65.

Total receipts from 1953-54 pledges up to January 1 totaled $60,996.84 or 64 per cent of the $94,535.90 raised in the drive.

Presentations of resolutions of appreciation to Buchholtz and Mrs. Feigus were made by Henry C. Swearingen. Lynn C. Lashley, president, discussed his experience as Chest president and praised leaders and workers of the 1953-54 fund campaign for conducting their successful drive without the help of a professional agency.

He pointed out that the 1952-53 campaign cost $7,998, and that estimated cost of the 1953-54 drive was $5,150. But actually this year's cost was only $4,115, or about $1,000 less than estimated and $3,800 less than the 1952-53 drive.

The four directors of the Chest whose terms expired last night were Lashley, James W. Bishop, George L. Buchanan and Edgar D. Vandegrift.

The board of directors will meet at 4 p. m. January 19 in the Chest office to elect officers and an executive committee to serve for 1954.

Henry Ends Tour As Police Chief

H. L. Henry, who resigned as chief of police in Ridgeley completed his final day of police work in the town last night. He will now devote his full time to his TV lamp and ornament manufacturing business.

Henry's successor, his nephew, Daniel Evans, assumes the duties of chief of police in Ridgeley today. Evans is a furloughed Celanese employe.

Westminster Seminary Singers To Give Program At Centre Street Church Sunday

The Westminster Seminary Singers, under the direction of Professor J. Edward Moyer, will appear at Centre Street Methodist Church for an evening program Sunday, Rev. Howard M. Amoss, pastor of the church, announces. The special program will get under way at 8 o'clock.

The program will open with the prelude, Seminary Singers Processional, followed by the call to worship.

Scripture reading and choral response and the pastoral prayer and response will precede the Singers' selections.

Divided into five parts, the Singers program includes "Laudamus" by Protheroe and "The Omnipotence" by Schubert, with Kitty Shook, soloist, in Part I.

Part II will be a solo "Sweet Li'l Jesus Boy," MacGimsey, Charles Shook, baritone.

Part III has "While By My Sheep I Watched at Night", Junget; "Song of Mary", Fischer; "Carol of the Bells," Leontovich-Wilhowsky; "Mary Had A Baby," Dawson.

In Part IV is "Still, Still With Thee," Gerrish Chant and "De Gospel Train," spiritual by the male quartet.

Part V includes "Let Us Break Bread Together," Ryder; and "Goin Home" by Dvorah-Fisher with Howard Leach, Dan Llewellyn, soloists; "Set Down," Shaw, with Lum Winfiree and Donald Stanton, soloists.

Following the Seminary program greetings will be heard from Rev. Douglas Chandler of the Westminster body. The offering and "Rise Up, O Men of God," by Reed, and "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," by Luther-Mueller will conclude the program. The benediction, recessional and postlude will follow.

Professor Chandler, accompanist for the group, is professor of church history at the Seminary.

Allegany Mothers To March On Residents In Polio Drive

On Friday, January 29, between 7 and 8 p. m., the mothers of Allegany County will "march on" the residents of the county in an all-out effort to obtain funds to combat polio.

Despite the bad weather, approximately 30 county women from Frostburg, Corriganville, Ellerslie, Union Grove, Cresaptown, Cumberland and other sections, met yesterday afternoon in the Union Street County Building to make plans for the "Mothers' March on Polio."

Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, Roberts Place, head of the county mothers' march, said the county women will begin their campaign from door to door in all county communities and will continue for one hour.

The "march" will be a porch light crusade with the women calling at homes where a porch light has been lighted as an invitation to the solicitor.

Mrs. Isiminger said that persons in the county wishing to donate money for the polio program and who do not have porch lights, may place a table lamp in their front room window.

The "Mothers' March on Polio" is being sponsored nationally by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and is being taken up in the county by such groups as Parent-Teachers Associations, Homemakers Clubs, Playground Association, church organizations, and in sections where there are no clubs, the campaign is being set up by individuals.

Mrs. Isiminger said volunteer women will accept any amount of contribution including any size coin. She added residents should remember to use the light system to signal volunteers if they wish to contribute to the worthy cause.

The Mothers' March will be the climax in the county of the March of Dimes campaign being conducted this month.

Rent Control Advisory Board To Stand By

The Rent Control Advisory Committee will advise the Mayor and Council that rent complaints do not justify the retention of it secretary-investigator beyond Saturday.

The board, headed by Donald W. Mason, met in City Hall Wednesday to hear a report on complaints listed since November 16.

Miss Elizabeth Lippold, the investigator, reported nine cases have been checked during the period, and that four involved increases in rent. All were within the 20 per cent increase allowed under federal rent laws. The board approved the increases as not being excessive.

The other five cases involved either evictions, referred to Trial Magistrates Court, or heat problems, which were worked out between landlords and tenants.

The committee, which also includes Charles E. Bramble, James B. Reinhart and C. Glenn Watson, agreed current complaints did not justify the cost of maintaining a paid worker.

The committee, it was reported, will stand by and resume meetings at the discretion of the chairman.

They pointed out that the city may impose rent controls up until 1955 under state law, if the Mayor and Council feels such action is needed.

Two Hospitalized After Falls At Home

Two local persons were admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday as the result of injuries sustained in falls at their homes.

John Hanifin, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hanifin, 408 Louisiana Avenue, was admitted at 11:50 a. m. for observation after he fell and struck the left side of his head against a chair leg.

Mrs. Elizabeth McCusker, 48, wife of James McCusker, Cresaptown, was admitted at 3:45 p. m. for observation after she fell and struck her head at her home.

Joint Meeting Is Planned On Sewage Issue

Pollution Study To Be Discussed

Officials of the City of Cumberland and the State Health Department will meet with officials of the Attorney General's office in Baltimore January 28 to discuss a recent survey of pollution in the Potomac River, cited by health authorities as an additional reason why Cumberland should proceed at once to build a sewage disposal plant.

Plans for the meeting were arranged by Ambrose T. Hartman, assistant attorney general, with Thomas B. Finan, city attorney.

Hartman had asked Finan to meet with him and members and experts of the health board for a report of the pollution study, hoping it would be possible to stipulate the results in pending court action.

Mayor Roy W. Eves announced yesterday he has arranged for City Engineer C. R. Nuzum to sit in, and has notified the council that any who wish may attend the conference with him.

The state officials have asked that the meeting be held in Baltimore, since a number of experts from the Health Department will be asked to report on the study, and to display voluminous statistics and graphs made during the study.

Cumberland is one of eight Maryland areas which have been ordered by the Health Department to take steps toward adequate sewage treatment facilities.

The city was told on March 27, 1952, to begin work on its sewage disposal plant by September 1, 1953, and to have the system in operation by next December 31.

Cumberland officials already have plans for the plant estimated to cost about $2,000,000.

They have asked that the project be delayed until a number of other projects, already under commitment, can be completed.

Petit Jury Will Report Monday As Trials Start

The revised petit jury panel which will report for the first criminal trial in Allegany County Circuit Court at 9:15 a. m. Monday includes 19 men and six women.

Although 12 of the 25 come from Cumberland, nine other communities around the county also are represented. They are Frostburg, Lonaconing, Luke, Mt. Savage, Westernport, Vale Summit, Zihlman, Nikep and Gilmore.

The petit jury panel:

Aurora Durham, Westernport; John R. Foote, Lonaconing; Allan C. Fisher, this city; George C. Gore, this city; Courtney H. Beckman, Luke; Robert W. Lee, Frostburg; Harry A. Brode, Frostburg; Alexander Gardner, Lonaconing; Anthony J. Monahan, Mt. Savage; John W. Mangus, Jr., this city; Hazel A. Hardy, this city; George Buchanan, this city, and Loretta H. Beckman, this city.

Also, Alva W. Pennel, this city; John W. Mathews, Westernport; Thomas J. Leake, Vale Summit; Elsie L. Kilroy, this city; Robert E. Gibbs, this city; Louis E. Rice, this city; J. Stanley Espey, Zihlman; Mary J. Andrews, Nikep; John Stevens, Frostburg; Harry L. McNabb, this city; Victor S. Athey, this city, and Viola B. McGann, Gilmore.

New Snowfall Blankets Area, Mercury Rises

Rain Is Expected To Follow Today

A second layer of white frosting was laid over the Tri-State yesterday when two to five more inches of snow was dumped on top of six to 2 inches which had fallen earlier this week.

The Weather Bureau said the snow would probably change to rain today and that remaining snow and ice covering area highways may be washed away. Outlook for tomorrow is cloudy and mild with rain.

Snow had changed to rain in sections west of Cumberland last night and indications were it was moving east, accompanied by warmer temperature.

Plane Forced Down

Snow which began here about 9 a. m. yesterday forced a small plane to the ground in Frostburg. The pilot fortunately spotted the private landing strip of William Keiling and brought his aircraft and passenger down safely.

Occupants of the plane, Tom Bird and Ben Roth of Fairburg, Ill., were en route from Washington to Columbus, Ohio when they were forced to turn back by a swirling snowstorm over the mountains of Garrett County.

In the Cumberland area, at least one person died as a result of the weather, which caused him to fall after slipping on some ice. There were no fatal motor accidents reported last night in the district, but five persons were seriously hurt in one collision, and numerous minor mishaps occurred.

Although virtually all main highways in the Tri-State were open to traffic, with chains still needed before the snow, officials of the State Roads Commission and State Police of the three states said road conditions were worse than ever Thursday night.

Chains Needed Everywhere

Almost all highways were snow-covered, and chains were a "must" for vehicles. In some sections where rain began to fall earlier yesterday, however, highways were being washed clean of ice and snow.

Snow measured an official 3.2 inches on top of six inches at 7 p. m. in Cumberland, but by 9:30 p. m. it had changed to a misty rain with mercury rising.

City Street Department officials said a grader and truck were sent out to plow and cinder only main streets in the city as soon as the snow was deep enough to cause trouble. Officials added crews would begin working on all other streets early today.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, reported all equipment was out yesterday afternoon plowing and cindering secondary roads, but weary crews returned to the County Garage last night.

Chapman said all equipment and available men would be sent out to clear highways early this morning. He warned that chains are necessary for vehicles on all county roads.

All Snowplows Working

District State Roads Commission equipment and crews were still busy last night patrolling highways in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties.

Robert E. L. Putman, assistant district engineer for the SRC, said all highways were icy and snow-covered, and cautioned drivers to use chains on their vehicles.

At 7 p. m. yesterday it was raining in Oakland after two inches of new snow had fallen, Putman said. There were 10 snowplows working in that section clearing roads. In Accident, where temperature was 31 degrees, it was also raining on top of one and one-quarter inches of old snow. Seven trucks, one auto patrol and 15 men were plowing and cindering in the Accident area.

At Guntertown, temperature climbed from 24 to 36 degrees betoween 3 and 7 p. m. with four inches of new snow on the ground. On Big Savage Mountain, temperature at 7 p. m. was 32, and three and a half inches of snow was on the ground.

Some Buses Late

Frostburg had three inches of new snow by 7 p. m. yesterday and four trucks, one pickup truck and eight men were plowing and salting. In Cumberland 10 trucks, two auto patrols and about 30 men were plowing and salting roads.

Town Hill got two and a half inches of new snow by 7 p. m. and temperature had dropped from 27 to 19 degrees from 3 p. m. Two trucks and seven men were plowing and cindering.

Trains and buses were all on schedule last night with the exception of westbound Blue Ridge buses which were about one hour late.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Gump, Silver Spring, announce the birth of a son last Friday in Washington Hospital, Takoma. The father is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon M. Gump, Cartmell Avenue.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bell Rice, 134 South Street, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Fred Hartsock, 925 Grand Avenue, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Schad Jr., Hyndman, Pa., a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Iser, Ridgeley, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Gilmore, Hyndman, Pa., a daughter Wednesday.
